The Bulldogs Bark

By Bobby Watson

Hi, fans. This is Tommy Willis filling in for our good friend Watson, who is getting a well-deserved rest. It finally looks like the Bulldogs have begun to bark. After a slow start and speculation that the Bulldogs might be on the outside looking in come tournament time, the McComasmen have edged out Elon and Guilford. They also dropped Western Carolina's tall Catamounts 81-70 in a revenge battle. Earlier the Cats had jolted the Bulldogs in their battle at Cullowee by a 70-50 score.

It looks as if the team has found its rainbow and should be hard to beat from here on in. This squad could end the season in the first division. With the spirit and drive shown in the last few games the Bulldogs could be very tough in the North State Conference Tournament.

Statistics Show Team Effort

Statistics compiled through the first 16 contests show a well-balanced team. In scoring Darwin Williams has hit for an average of 12.9 points per game. Close behind Williams come Holland and Ryan 11.4, Whaley 11.1, and Knox with a 6.8 average. Gillikin Oden, and Winfree show averages of 4.6, 4.3, and 4.3 respectively. After 16 games the free throw department has been fairly even. However, Bobby Dunn deserves special praise for his great accuracy. In the 10 games in which he has seen action he has hit 16 for 16 for an outstanding percentage of 1.000.

Don Ryan leads the team in rebounds with an 8.4 average. Whaley and Oden are next with averages of 6.8. Holland and Gillikin have swept the boards for an average of 6.4 and 5.8 respectively.

The team shows an average of 68.5 points per game, compared to only 70.4 for the opponents. This is very commendable in light of the average height of the opposition.

Meet Pirates Tonight

East Carolina's Pirates meet the Bulldogs tonight in the Rocky Mount High School gymnasium. This will be a big event for every one, especially to the new members of the Bulldog squad. Big men for the Pirates will be Adams, Curry, Riddick, and Mendenhall. Coach Porter's men will also remember the three defeats administered by the Bulldogs last season. This will be a big contest for some information by the Dean's office. There is no such thing as an excused absence at ACC.

Dr. Cutlip explained that there are some "explained absences" at ACC. They can be obtained by students who are ill, have family emergencies, or who are off the campus on college-approved business. This, however, does not excuse the student from class and he must make up the work. Any student who cuts or misses a class more than 25 percent of its meeting hours automatically fails the course, it was explained.

Dr. Cutlip said the Registrar's office does not yet have the list of students who went on academic probation at the start of the spring semester. This information will be available in about two weeks. The Dean's list also will be available in about two weeks.

both teams and another struggle for the coveted Bohunk.

In the preliminary game Coach Raiford Fulghum's Bullpups will meet the Tar Babies of U.N.C. Going for the hard fighting Pups will probably be Oetting, Baker, Shockley, Byerly, and Rogers. Atkinson, Bryan, and Fulghum should also see plenty of action. The Tar Babies will be led by Moe and Donohue.

Golf Aspirants Sought By Cloyd

Students who wish to be candidates for the Atlantic Christian College Golf Team this spring have been issued an invitation to place their names on the try-out list.

Edward L. Cloyd, Jr., ACC golf coach, said this week that he would like to have all team hopefuls report to him right away so that plans could be discussed for practice from now until the season opens in the spring.

Any candidate for the golf team may report to Mr. Cloyd at his office in the gymnasium.

Summer Schedule Ready Now

Summer Session schedules for the Atlantic Christian College Summer School are now available.

Schedules for the two terms of summer school may be obtained from John E. Weems, Director of Admission and Placement, in the Administration Building.

The first five week term of summer school will begin on June 2 and will close on July 9. The second term will begin on July 10 and will end on August 15. Holidays during the first term will be observed on June 14, July 4, and July 5. Second term holidays will be observed on July 19 and August 2.

New Publications Office Opens

The Pine Knot and The Collegiate now have a new office. It is located in the basement of Harper Hall off the Recreation Room.

In the past The Pine Knot has not had an office. The Collegiate has been using office space in the basement of the library.

In the future both publications will share the office in Harper Hall. It has recently been painted and new lighting has been installed.

Furniture is now being prepared for use in the new publications office.

ed to the college by the local newspaper and each year the name of the winning student and the name of his publication, either The Pine Knot or The Collegiate, will be inscribed on a gold plate on the plaque. The plaque will be similar to that now known as The Kiwanis Plaque which honors the outstanding intercollegiate athlete on the campus each year.

In addition to the plaque, the student who is honored, will be presented with a suitably inscribed individual award which he or she will keep.

Meeting last week, the college's Awards Committee, headed by Robert G. Capps, approved the establishment of the award and commended the Daily Times on its interest in Atlantic Christian College and its student body.

A selection committee has already been named to select the recipient of the award each year. Members of the selection committee will be the chairman of the college Publications Committee, the faculty advisers to both The Pine Knot and The Collegiate, and the faculty business adviser for the two publications.

In discussing the award today, James E. Fulghum, Chairman of the ACC Publications Committee, on Tuesday, February 18, will provide another illustrated lecture. Dr. William L. Reed, Professor of Old Testament at the College of the Bible, Lexington, Kentucky, will present "Caravan Cities of the Near East," a report with pictures of his own adventures in Biblical archaeology. This program will also begin at 10:05.

said: "For many years the college has had successful publications. It takes long hours of hard work for the students to get these two campus publications ready for the printers. Too many times in the past they have not received the proper recognition for the work they have done. This new award will help to recognize those students on our campus who are spending a large amount of their normally free time outside the classroom in dedicated effort to improve our campus publications. On behalf of our committee I wish to express our sincere appreciation to The Wilson Daily Times for seeing the need for such an award and for its decision to establish it."

Recent graduates of A. C. C. who have been elected as officers of the alumni chapter in Texas are Richard Ziglar, Kenneth Rouse and Peggy Nichols.

MEN'S INTRAMURALS

The Benchwarmer

By Tommy Willis

Well fans here we go again. This week I would like to thank Dave Harvey for the fine job he did in keeping the Ole bench warm for the last few issues. It was relaxing to have a few days off, however, I'm glad to be back at the job.

Horseshoe and Badminton Champs

At last we have a champion in horseshoes. Dick Tyson, Phi Kappa, defeated James Qualls of Sigma Rho, in a hard fought final round. Tyson was victorious winning the first and third games while Qualls, staying close all the way, could salvage only the second game.

The badminton tournament was very exciting and saw some well played matches. Bob Whaley and Wesley Doles smashed their ways into the finals. In the final round Doles had too much steam as he rolled over Whaley to capture the badminton title and give Phi Kappa Alpha another champion.

Basketball Play Begins

Basketball play got off to a great start as Phi Kappa's two teams got the season underway. The Phi Kap "A" team looked real sharp as it swept past its "B" squad. If you're wondering about those cool looking green and white uniforms that Phi Kap was wearing, that will be its colors when it becomes a Delta Sigma Phi Chapter in March.

In the second game of the opening round, Sigma Rho Phi's two squads met. The "A" team looked real smooth as it rolled to an easy 101-41 victory over the "B" team. Billy Hinton and Tommy Stanton looked great as they sank 75 points for the "A" team. James Qualls led the scoring attack of the "B" squad. Both teams played without the services of two starters.

Basketball will continue for the next few weeks. You can look for some very good competition. Phi Kap "A", Sigma Rho "A" and Sigma Alpha "A" should be very tough with the Day Students a real threat to the others.

Other Happenings

Table tennis has just finished the first round—Foul shooting competition was completed last night, but no results in at press time—Cross country race to begin at 4 o'clock today!

Accounting Club Gets By-Laws

A list of eligible members for the spring semester was presented by President A. J. Walston at the Accounting Club meeting on January 28. Those eligible were assigned to present members of the club for consultation concerning their desire to become new members.

The club is planning correspondence with the Accounting Club at the University of North Carolina to learn about that club's aims and program. The Constitution and By-laws of the local club were passed at a meeting on January 14.

Leaders of the club pointed out to prospective members this week that their group has been organized for both social and business purposes.

New Catalogs Now Available

The 1958-59 edition of the Atlantic Christian College Catalog has now arrived on campus but students are urged not to make a mad rush for the Administration Building.

Dr. R. B. Cutlip, ACC Dean, said students who have a copy of last year's catalog do not need a new copy since very few changes were made in the academic section.

Those students who wish to receive a catalog and do not have an old one, may contact Mrs. Bethany R. Joyner, College Registrar. Mrs. Joyner will question each student concerning his or her need for a catalog before giving the student a copy of the new edition.
