Exec Board Will Send Delegates To Meetings

The Executive Board of the Atlantic Christian College Cooperative Association approved the allotment of funds to cover the expenses of students traveling to United States National Student association meetings this summer at the University of Illinois.

In the regular meeting held Monday, the board appropriated funds to cover the expenses of Bobby Dunn, Everette Bryant, Miss Emily Waters and Kenneth Bryan to attend the Twelfth National Student Congress. The board also approved funds for Bob Collins to travel to a human relations seminar to be held from August 8 to September 3. The student congress will be in session from August 24 to September 3.

It was decided at the meeting that the vice-president of the Men's Dormitory Association would serve as a voting delegate on next year's Executive Board. This action was necessary since Everette Bryant, next year's president of the Men's Dormitory association will also be the vice-president of the Cooperative Association. Both positions require a vote on the Executive Board.

The board approved the allotment of funds to cover the expenses of students who traveled to the Collegiate Academy of the North Carolina Academy of Science meeting at Catawba College last Friday.

In further action the board approved funds for a Publications Staff banquet. The funds will be allotted from the emergency fund.

It was announced that the Executive Board banquet for old and new members will be held next Tuesday at 5:30 p.m. at the Ship and Shore restaurant.

George Griswold, President, presided at the meeting.

Presented by the Department of Modern Languages, headed by Dr. Esther Long, the program will feature the growing need for languages in a shrinking world.

Striking Works Seen In Exhibit

By ANNE JENKINS

Work representing the various courses in the Atlantic Christian College Art Department are now on display in the lobby of the classroom building.

The major work, located just inside the lobby, is a study in painting and three-dimensional form. It is a plan trying to relate painting to three-dimensional forms rather than to a regular two-dimensional surface.

Design Class

Other three-dimensional things come from the design class. The pieces are problems in work with materials — trying to make objects that have beauty out of inexpensive materials. The students worked with stresses and tension. Materials used for these designs include paper folded, dixie cups, wood made into springs, and wood

Leaders Of Government Installed Here Today

The formation of the governmental body on the campus of Atlantic Christian College for the next academic year was started today with installation of major officers in special ceremonies in Howard Chapel.

Bobby Dunn of Pinetops, newly elected President of the Atlantic Christian College Cooperative Association, was installed as head of the government and immediately pledged himself to a vigorous operation of the apparatus for next year.

Other Cooperative Association officers installed by Dr. Arthur D. Wenger, ACC President, were Everette Bryant, vice-president, Miss Emily Waters, secretary, Kenneth Bryan, treasurer, William R. Ramsay, faculty representative, Dr. Daniel M. McFarland, student faculty representative, Wayne Burton, Men's Dormitory Council rep-

Leaders in other areas of campus activities also were installed. They included Ralph Messick and Bob Collins, Co-Editors of The Collegiate, Miss Bette Pomfrey, Business Manager of The Collegiate, Miss Joanna Huffer, Editor of The Pine Knot, and Miss Flora Griffin, Business Manager of The Pine Knot.

Keys were presented to outgoing campus leaders, headed by George Griswold, retiring president of the Cooperative Association.

This morning's gathering was rather hastily called. It had been scheduled to take place next Tuesday morning; however, the number one man, Dunn, has other obligations on that date as a number one man on the ACC tennis team. Dunn wanted to participate in the North State Conference Tournament to be held at Greensboro. To allow him to do so, college officials pushed up the date for the installation.

They felt Dunn should be allowed to participate with the tennis team and they wanted him present when the installation was held.
