Organ Recently Installed Marks New Developments

The musical strains which fill the air in Howard Chapel this year are from the newly-installed organ which is acclaimed as the newest development in electronic organs.

The new organ which was installed recently in the chapel went into production only last June at the Allen Organ Company plant in Pennsylvania. The musical tones in the new organ are produced by transistors which measure less than one inch in length.

Complex System
Gene A. Featherstone, member of the faculty of the music department, explained that the tones produced by the transistors are in turn amplified by a complex system.

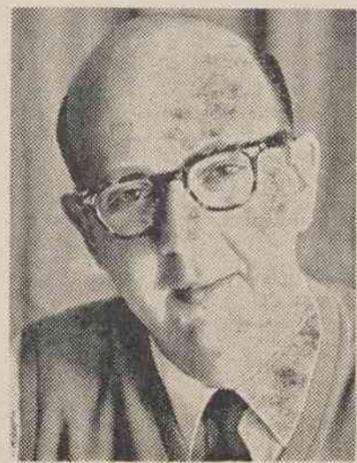

Each of the speaker boxes of the organ has six speakers mounted on a rotating disk. As the organ is being played, the disk rotates to improve the quality of the sounds produced.

Mr. Featherstone also pointed out that the tone quality of the organ is quite like that of a pipe organ. The method of sound production used is the best in electronic organs, he said. It was also pointed out that one of America's most famous tone scientists perfected the tone quality of the organ.

A Rush Order
When the order was placed for the organ, the representative of the Allen Organ Company managed to push through a rush order and the instrument was delivered and installed in about one-third the time usually required.

Receiving the organ ahead of schedule had other advantages than the time element. The instrument that was delivered to Atlantic Christian College was originally slated for another location, and the college was fortunate in receiving many extra features which were donated by the company.

The present amplifier system utilizes two speaker boxes. However, the ideal set up would be to have three of the amplifier sets, and the

Tyndall To Lead Science Sessions

Dr. J. P. Tyndall, Chairman of the Department of Science and Mathematics at Atlantic Christian College, will serve as director of two special science education workshops at the University of Pennsylvania in October.

The workshops are a part of the annual Schoolmen's Week at the University of Pennsylvania. Annual Rush Week Set To Begin October 19; Ground Rules Listed

By RALPH MESSICK
Collegiate Co-Editor

Prospective fraternity and sorority members are urged to keep the week of October 19-23 open on their calendars, Sammy White, president of the Inter-Fraternity Council, advised. At this time, the Greek letter organizations on the Atlantic Christian College campus will observe rush week, according to plans made in the IFC meeting held Tuesday night.

In further business at the meeting, White, representing Sigma Phi Epsilon, was re-elected president of the council. Miss Carol Austin, representing Omega Chi, was elected secretary of the organization; William Newberry of Sigma Pi, vice-president and Dave Mustian of Sigma Phi Epsilon, treasurer.

White appointed a committee to revise the present constitution of the IFC. Serving on this committee are John W. Stair, Director of Student Affairs, Miss Austin, and Everett Purvis, of Delta Sigma Phi.

Most of the meeting, however, was devoted to the planning for rush week, the period of fraternity and sorority enlistment. The council agreed to follow the schedule and rules that were set up last year.

The procedure from last year stipulates that "all female freshmen and transfer students who are not already members of national social sororities shall be divided alphabetically into four groups. These groups shall alternately visit each sorority on successive afternoons between the hours of 3:00 p.m. and 6:00 p.m.

The rules further state, "All new male students who are not already members of a national social fraternity shall be divided alphabetically into four groups. These groups shall alternately visit each fraternity on successive evenings between the hours of 7:00 p.m. and 9:30 p.m.

"From Monday morning until Wednesday at 5:00 p.m. quiet days will be observed. This means that each fraternity and sorority member is pledged on his honor not to discuss with potential pledges any matter which might influence their decision concerning pledging."

White also announced that uniform bids will be furnished by the IFC for all the fraternities and sororities on the campus. Organizational colors will be pinned to these bids by the Greeks. These colors are to be worn by the persons pledging the Greek letter organizations after the bid has been accepted and returned to the Student Life office.

White urged the representatives on the council to stress to their respective fraternities and sororities the importance of upholding the rush week rules. He said that the IFC delegates had an obligation to each other and to their fraternities and sororities to follow all the rules of the IFC.

First Art Show To Open Monday

Next Monday, October 5, the Atlantic Christian College Art Department will open its first exhibition of the year the "Ceramics of Japan" to the general public. This exhibition is to be one of contemporary ceramics in which three general types of artistry, craftsmanship, and manufacturing will be represented. In addition to the actual pottery, there will be a set of display photographs showing steps in the manufacture of pottery, the kilns at Mashiko, and Hamada Shoji at work. There will also be a colorful map of Japan showing the location of rural potteries.

Representative Pottery

This collection is thought to be reasonably representative of the art of pottery making in Japan. The exhibition includes wares used on ordinary occasions as well as decorative and functional pieces.

Some of the potters represented in this exhibit are Arakawa Toyozo, Asami Ryuzo, Hamada Shoji and Kato Mineo.

The exhibit, to be shown through the month of October, should prove interesting in its wide variation of items offered. The showing be held in the lobby gallery of the Atlantic Christian College classroom building.

Shakespeare Film Opens Campus Concert Series

By MIKE BUSBY

The Assembly and Concert Committee in a meeting Friday afternoon, discussed plans for special programs for this year. Although all special programs have not yet been scheduled, and will not be until the committee is completed by the addition of its student members, the committee announced some plans that were made last spring for events in the near future.

Today there will be a showing of the film "Henry V" in Howard Chapel. This is an excellent color film which stars Sir Lawrence Olivier and begins with some very interesting views of the Globe Theater of Shakespeare's time.

Other events already scheduled for the year are the Grass Roots Opera Company's presentation of "Carmen," and a concert by the North Carolina State Symphony. Hours and dates for these will be announced at a later date, as well as other events which are yet to be scheduled.

Emergency Group Is Established

An emergency committee was set up by the Executive Board at its meeting Monday night in the Disciplinary Room of the library.

The purpose of this committee is to aid in raising the morale and in easing the strain of tension caused by any disasters that might strike the Atlantic Christian College campus. It was pointed out that many times in past years such a committee would have been helpful in over-coming the calamities ACC has faced.

Franklyn Brooks, Miss Sally Scudder, and Everett Bryant were appointed to this committee by Bob by Dunn, president of the Cooperative Association.

Further Business

In further business, the Executive Board discussed the plans for making the budget for the year. Miss Emily Waters, secretary of the Cooperative Association, was advised to write letters to all of the concerned committee chairmen advising them to submit estimated budgets to the Executive Board in order that their requests may be considered.

Serving on the budget committee are Ken Bryan, treasurer of the Executive Board, William T. Ramsay, Faculty representative, Miss Sally Scudder, president of the Women's Dormitory Council, and Everett Bryant, vice-president of the Executive Board.

Special Report

The Executive Board also proposed to submit as soon as possible to the student body and Faculty a report from the delegates sent to the National Student Con-

Record Enrollment Presents Many Problems For Officials

By BOB COLLINS
Collegiate Co-Editor

The enrollment of 1,213 students at Atlantic Christian College this year has presented a multiplicity of problems to the administrative officials of the college, and has plunged ACC into the midst of the enrollment crisis which is confronting colleges and universities across the nation.

Dr. Arthur D. Wenger, ACC President, explained that the pre-set registration maximum was 1,150. This was to be a calculated increase of five per cent over the enrollment of 1,098 students of last year.

Only about 40 per - registered upperclassmen failed to return for the current semester.

The record number of returning students made the control figure impossible and a net increase of 10.5 percent was reached.

Not only did the number of returning students and the number of new acceptances upset the plans for controlled enrollment, but it has upset other plans made before registration.

Dr. Millard P. Burt, ACC Dean, found it necessary to make the adjustment in the chapel schedule which put freshmen and seniors in chapel on Tuesdays and sophomores and juniors in chapel on Thursdays. The original plan was for freshmen to attend chapel on Tuesdays and the upperclassmen to attend as a block on Thursdays.

There have been complications arising in the scheduling of classes in the various classrooms. The present college facilities are taxed to the limit, the dean pointed out, and it is difficult to work out a satisfactory room usage schedule. The dean went on to say that the problems have been solved and that the academic procedures of the college are operating normally now.

Dr. Wenger said that the college is seeking to do all it can to provide an education to those who are seeking such. However, he pointed out that the college has done as much as it can with present facilities. This problem is not unique to ACC, Dr. Wenger pointed out, but is universal in the nation's schools. The enrollment crisis is challenging the abilities of all colleges and universities to provide facilities to those seeking admissions.

Dr. Burt echoed the opinions of the college president and stated further, "I hope all the students here will take every opportunity to make full use of the program the college has to offer. The ever-increasing desire of people to attend college presents many problems, and many applicants cannot be accepted. Those who were admitted to ACC this year are privileged to have the opportunity to study here and I hope they make use of their opportunities."
