Nomination Date Slated; Board Office Hours Set

The Executive Board of the Cooperative Association set the political pot to boiling when it announced during its meeting Monday that nominations for the next year's President of the Cooperative Association would be received at its next meeting. Nominations of qualified persons are made by executive members of the board or by a petition made by at least 20 people; nominations by petition must be written with the signatures of 20 supporters attached.

The Treasurer of the Cooperative Association, Kenneth Bryan, presented to the Executive Board, a schedule of office hours which indicated the time during the week that he would be available for consultation concerning the business of the treasury.

The schedule, which appears on the door of the executive board office, shows the following office hours: Monday, 10:00 to 10:50; Tuesday, 3:00 to 4:00; Wednesday, 10:00 to 10:50 and 3:00 to 4:00; Thursday, 2:00 to 3:00.

The board announced that the point system would be presented for re-discussion and action at its next meeting. Closing the business, the board turned its attention to the revision of the constitution. Changes proposed by the group will be presented to the entire student body for their approval or rejection at a later date.

Riley Announces Candidacy; First To Enter Race

By RALPH MESSICK
Collegiate Co-Editor

In an un-precedented action on the Atlantic Christian College campus F. T. Riley, a Junior from Tampa, Florida, announced his candidacy for the president of the Executive Board of the Cooperative Association.

Riley, who is known as "T" to students and faculty members, said that a few weeks ago he was undecided as to whether he would seek the presidential office of the Cooperative Association, but that during the recent week encouragement had become so strong that a definite decision was inevitable.

Riley said that he was grateful for the support he had received by many of the campus leaders and that he hoped that he would not

Original Plays Conclude With Final Run Tonight

Three original one-act plays will be presented tonight in Howard Chapel of Atlantic Christian College. The plays were also given last night.

The program for the evening of drama will begin at 8:15 p. m. Mrs. Doris C. Holsworth, Associate Professor of English and Drama, said that the plays are being presented for students only and the performance will be closed to the public.

The three plays to be presented are "Small Weapons," written by Miss Anne Nelson, "Barefoot Baby," by Mrs. Mary Lou Park, and "The Cotton Still Grows," by Carl Metts.

Mrs. Holsworth also announced today that Miss Nelson's play, "Small Weapons," has been selected to be presented at the Chapel Hill Drama Festival being held April 27-30.

Commenting further on the acting abilities and experience of the casts for the three plays, Mrs. Holsworth said that the program will feature a contrast between experienced players and capable newcomers to the ACC stage.

Mrs. Holsworth added that the return of Miss Ruby Wiggins to the ACC floodlights would be an asset to the Stage and Script Club. Miss Wiggins has a major role in Metts' play, "The Cotton Still Grows." Miss Wiggins has played in "Lost Colony" and has also appeared in many other plays on the ACC stage and elsewhere.

Included in Miss Wiggins' previous acting chores on the ACC campus are the following plays: "Yellow Jacket," "Bell, Book, and Candle," "The Crucible," "As You Like It," and many others.

Starring in Mrs. Park's play, "Barefoot Baby," is Arthur Pritchard, a night school student. Mrs. Holsworth said that Pritchard does an outstanding performance in a comedy role.

Mrs. Holsworth also commented on the performances of the following actors and actresses: Miss Jo-Ann Boone, John Vernon, Miss Nelson, Jay Kilpatrick, Sanford Peele, Miss Anne Jenkins, Miss Margaret Walker, Ray Rogister, Miss Nancy Roberson, Miss Helen Williams, Jim Burroughs, Charles Miller and Tom Welch.

ORIGINAL PLAYS—Pictured above are Jay Kilpatrick and Mrs. Mary Lou Park who are appearing in "Barefoot Baby" written by Mrs. Park. Mrs. Park is "Baby" in the play and Kilpatrick appears as "Joe."
