

THE COLLEGIATE

PUBLISHED WEEKLY

ATLANTIC CHRISTIAN COLLEGE, SEPTEMBER 30, 1960

NUMBER TWO

Campus Briefs

Les Nixes ACC; Miller Clan Set

Les Elgart has cancelled his orchestra's engagement to play for the COOP-IFC dance Nov. 2.

His reason: "Not enough money."

In turn, the Executive Board of the Cooperative Association has engaged the famous Glen Miller orchestra — at a price lower than originally contracted with Elgart.

"Les Elgart will never be issued an invitation to play here again as long as I'm on campus," Smith said in response to the cancellation.

"Glen Miller's orchestra was not a second choice anyway," Smith said.

"Everybody's happy with the new contract, I feel," he concluded.

Shots Monday

Individual photographs for the Pine Knot will be taken on campus Monday through Friday, Oct. 3-7, it was announced today by Sally McLean, editor of the Pine Knot.

Pictures will taken throughout the day beginning at 8:30 a.m. in the Classroom building.

All men are requested to wear dark coats and dark ties while dress for women differs with relative class placement, Miss McLean observes.

Freshmen, Sophomore and Junior women should wear black around neck slipover sweater, rather than the dress previously announced in the Collegiate, the editor explained. Seniors women will be draped, which means it will cost them $1.50 for the sitting rather than $1.25 for other students.

All seniors, Miss McLean requests, should be prepared to supply information concerning activities, major, hometown, etc., soon for use in the yearbook.

Each students is urged to read carefully and complete fully cards given them at the time of the sitting.

Go Gang Go!

Peppy calls and springing enthusiasts shook the old gymnasium last Monday night. Liz Winborne, head cheerleader, who was elected by the student body last spring, began putting upperclassmen and Freshmen through trials to select an energetic cheerleading team to represent and motivate the spirit of A C C for the coming basketball season.

Trying out for cheerleader this fall will be: Linda Lankford, Flora Griffin, Janet Blackwood, Nancy Roberson, Linda Morris, Peggy Greene, Carole Barber, Linda Weaver, Johnnie Owen, Marion Pulley, Rose Lee, Faye Brinson, Harriet Watson, Tempie Ann Griffin, Nancy Smith, Tommy Morgan, Mary Cobb Forbes, Daveda Hope, and Janelle Childress.

Miss Winborne said several persons who were members of the cheerleading team last year are again trying out for positions on the squad. She said the student body should choose carefully those who it feels to be most capable of expressing the true spirit of Atlantic Christian college.

Trying outs will be presented before the student body in the near future for election.

Big Blast Is Planned February 11

Plans are being made for one of the biggest, brightest, ring-tail-tootnist homecomings ever witnessed at Atlantic Christian College, according to James Daniel, Director of Alumni Activities and Student Recruitment.

The big day is February 11, 1961.

The steering committee met this week to make a tentative schedule of events.

There's going to be a big parade in downtown Wilson, for one thing, playin', horn blowing', pretty girls, crepe paper, and confetti.

Also, a semi-formal dance is being planned at which the Homecoming Queen will be crowned from the student body.

Other events will be the sorority and fraternity luncheons honoring alumni and students, class reunion luncheons, the big alumni dinner, unveiling of plaques on the Science Hall, the new men's dormitory and the infirmary, and a big open house all over the campus.

Perhaps the biggest event of all is the Atlantic Christian-Pfeiffer basketball game on Saturday night of the homecoming weekend. A big bonfire is planned for that night and you can bet that al mater, the fight song, victory dances and war chants will fill the air as the student body gets ready to cheer its team on to victory.

Members of the steering committee who are laying the groundwork for homecoming activities are James Daniel, chairman, Edward Beeler, Allan R. Sharp, Foy N. Goforth, Miss Jessie Daniel, Ashton Wiggs, R. Wordon Allen, D. L. Warren, David Smith and Jim Van Camp.

Cuts Now Eight

Tweetie, Library Polls Win Yeas

Tweetie's notorious snack shop, the library and an obscure article pertaining to the number of cheerleaders at ACC were under discussion this week at the meeting of the Executive Board.

As for Tweetie and the library: a poll.

Hoping for an expression of public opinion on these widely discussed matters, president Dave Smith appointed Jim Van Camp chairman of a poll committee. Van Camp will formulate pertinent questions and distribute poll sheets among students.

In action last week, the Executive Board voted to look into matters pertaining to food service, sanitation, and prices at Tweetie's snack shop. Tweetie's is adjacent to the campus and one of the few eating places available in the vicinity.

Some faculty and students were said to have apologized to Tweetie (Mr. Etheridge) for rumblings of discontent in the Executive Board reported on the pages of this paper.

"As for the executive board," Smith said, "I don't feel that anyone owes an apology for us. We certainly acted within our jurisdiction."

In spite of a motion to table the matter of the snack shop during the last meeting, Smith visited Etheridge during the week for a talk.

The conversation brought these results:

It was Tweetie's idea that there are "only about 11 students against me over there," Smith told the Collegiate. He said they had always been personally antagonistic and were the real troublemakers.

Smith asked if he would welcome a poll of the student body on the matter.

Tweetie said he would, it was reported.

"I'm sure the student body would decided in my favor — that these are unjust accusations," Tweetie reportedly said.

Smith expressed his feeling that students would judge the snack shop pretty severely.

So the poll will decide.

In other action, the newly revamped constitution of the Cooperative Association was brought under fire. Head Cheerleader Elizabeth Winborne expressed disapapproval of the sentence in Article II which read that "six additional cheerleaders will be elected by the Cooperative Association on or about October 1." Nancy Roberson, in supporting Miss Winborne, said in previous years eight cheerleaders plus one were always elected. General consensus was that the sentence was a misprint.

Mr. Van Camp recommended an amendment to Article XII which amendment to Article XII which would make it read: "... additional cheerleaders" instead of "six additional cheerleaders."

It was explained the clause should read this way because the need for more or less cheerleaders may be needed in the future. The proposed amendment was slated to be brought before the entire student body at its next assembly.

The subject of chapel cuts was raised before the board. Millard P. Burt, Dean of the College, who met with the executive leaders, announced there would be eight chapel cuts allowed each semester. Dr. Burt said the provision was subject to change by the administration.

Franklin Brooks, chairman of the Committee on committees presented the following names to serve for the current year: Social Affairs Committee, Bob Matthews, chairman, Judy Barnes, Bob Bishop, Elizabeth Harris and Miss Sarah Ward; Assembly and Concert Committee, Louise Wells, Chairman, Margaret Walker, Linda Cale, Douglas Ouzts and Gene Featherstone; Bohunk Governing Board, Pat Belangia, chairman, Richard Clayton, Howard Batts, Judy Gray, Henry Tyson, Judy Bailey and Miss Jessie Daniel. Bill Alexander is acting chairman of the memorial committee.

Commenting on the Executive Board meeting, Dr. Arthur Wenger, ACC President, said it was the "most refreshing meeting that I've seen in a long time and has been very ably conducted."

In This Issue

So time will need not be wasted reading everything, here's a guide to find what you want first.

Page 1. You're reading it now so you know what it contains.

Page 2. Editorial views, an electrifying poem and "From Where I Sit." Oh yes, a new column appears too.

Page 3. Here's where page 1 matter goes that doesn't get on page 1. Next week Sports takes over this space.

Page 4. Greeks, IFC and other bits.

Old Classrooms, Offices Brightened By New Faces

Atlantic Christian has some new attractions among the faculty and staff this year. Though some of the best were lost apparently some of the best have been gained in this new group.

The English department has added William N. Harrison, a tall, friendly Texan. He has already gained an excellent reputation in his freshman English classes (except for pop tests). His hobby is writing and he is presently at work on a novel. Harrison is married to Merlee Kimsey Harrison and they have two children.

D. L. "Pete" Warren from Kingston has become well known among many students, especially the freshmen because of his work during freshman orientation week. Warren is the new Director of Student Life. His wife, Patsy, is enrolled as a member of the freshman class. They have two little girls.

In the Education and Psychology department James L. Barden, a bachelor from Four Oaks, has won many students with his ready wit. Mrs. Pauline Jones, a fast talking redhead from Kentucky, has also been added to that department. Her husband is Samuel Jones Jr. A third new member is Samuel G. Stell who has been kept busy placing practice teachers.

See NEW FACES Page 4

The Collegiate Staff Organization Invokes New Changes, New Policies

Alton Lee and Terrill Riley, co-editors of The Collegiate, report this year's staff of the campus newspaper has been organized into four functional departments.

In its regular weekly meeting for staff members, the co-editors jointly said they will direct their energies through the departments: the news department, the sports department, the editorials and features department, and a fledgling, the creative features department.

The new department, under the direction of Lee, seeks to create additional interest in Atlantic Christian's weekly journal by offering book reviews, critiques, dialogues, and cartoons.

Meeting informally in the faculty lounge of the Administration Building, Riley and Lee emphasized the necessity for having all articles and stories into The Collegiate office before noon on Mondays. Riley explained that exception was made for those reporters and writers who had to cover events and meetings which took place late Monday evening or Tuesday morning.

It was announced by The Collegiate heads that all news had to be type written and double spaced before the staff would accept it for publication. A request was made by the editors that all Greek news be turned in to the fraternity and sorority coordinators, Bob Stone and Betty Ann Thomas, by the reporters covering those organizations.

Staff members were encouraged to seek the opinions of students and faculty members concerning this year's newspaper.

"It is by constructive criticism and suggestion from our readers," Riley emphasized, "that we hope to meet the objectives of our Collegiate policy."

Members of the Collegiate staff for the fall term include the co-editors; special reporters Betty Ann Thomas, Bob Stone, Patsy May, Richard Johnson, Bill Waters, Mike Busby, Mary Johnston and Glenyce Davis; Associate Reporters Dick Ullum, Billy Bachelor, James Boswell, Guy Miller, Richard Williams, and Mary Louise Westshal; associate writers, Billy R. Yawn, Ralph Gurganus, Sue Brannan, Guy Miller, Carol Colvard, Buck Poe, Roberta Pritchard and Gareth Birch.

Bill Feetham, a freshman and official ACC photographer, is official photographer for The Collegiate. Feetham's services may be requested in conjunction with a news story by contacting one of the editors. It is, however, necessary to contact one of the editor's at least 24 hours in advance of the photo assignment time.

Feetham is also available to special private assignments on a fee basis. Interested persons should contact Edward E. Beefer, Director of Publicity, to request Feetham's services.

Anyone wishing to consult with The Collegiate staff or any of its members concerning the publication of the weekly newspaper is welcomed by the staff to attend its regular meeting held every Thursday at 4 p. m.

Collegiate Photo By Bill Feetham

WEEKLY MEETINGS KEEP COLLEGIATE STAFF INFORMED