Sen. Goldwater Visits To Boost Nixon-Lodge

Senator Barry Goldwater, Republican Senator of Arizona, will appear in Wilson on Saturday, October 22.

Goldwater, who follows the Harry S. Truman visit, comes with the same purpose in mind: to stir interest in the presidential campaign. Differing with Truman, naturally, the Arizona Republican seeks to sell the Nixon-Lodge presidential ticket.

The Senator will arrive in Wilson in mid-afternoon, following an appearance in Tallahassee, Florida, earlier Saturday morning.

BARRY GOLDWATER
Mr. Conservative

Prior to a Raleigh appearance at Memorial Auditorium at 7:30 p. m., Goldwater will speak in Wilson at a meeting to be held at the American Legion Hall, Highway 301, south, at 4 p. m. He will be introduced by Robert Gavin, Republican candidate for governor.

The Arizona Senator is the only Member of Congress today with a command-pilot rating, he learned to fly in 1930. He has flown nine types of jets from fighters to tankers. A Lieutenant Colonel at the end of World War II, he organized the Air National Guard in Arizona and now holds a commission as Brigadier General in the AF Reserve.

Barry Goldwater is a strong advocate of States rights and decentralization of big government. He insists on Government economy. He favors freedom whether it be in business, labor or Government. Author of a book, The Conscience of A Conservative, he has spoken out very strongly about the basic freedom that he favors and about the threats to freedom that he sees in big business, big labor and big government.

Nominated as a candidate for President at the Republican National Convention, he withdrew his name, and has campaigned widely for the Nixon-Lodge ticket.

Another rare opportunity is offered the students at ACC to hear an outstanding political figure speak on important issues of the day.

Second Phase Program Reaches $84,896 Level

Last March Atlantic Christian College marked a milestone in its 60th Anniversary Development Program when a minimum goal of $500,000 had been subscribed for capital improvements.

On March 23, the day following completion of the First Phase of the program, the College embarked upon a Second Phase project to raise an additional $250,000 by the time the 60th Anniversary is celebrated in the fall of 1962.

Since then $84,896 has been subscribed, reports R. Worden Allen Jr., Director of Development. The fund raising program is presently the major project of the Department of Development.

Dr. Arthur D. Wenger, president, and his special assistant, Dr. John M. Waters, work as a team with Allen to call on prospective subscribers.

Funds secured from the Second Phase campaign are to be used to continue debt retirement on three buildings completed in 1956—the Classroom, Administration and Moye Science buildings. Additionally, these funds will allow initiation of preliminary planning of a Fine Arts building—next capital improvement project on the agenda.

Regarding the proposed Fine Arts building, Dr. Wenger said, "The architect has been instructed to prepare preliminary draft plans for consideration by the Board of Trustees. These, however, are not working drawings but rather preliminary sketches for study."

To raise the $250,000 goal by the fall of 1962, the Development Department has concentrated primarily on calling upon those with paid up subscriptions in the First Phase campaign.

"The response we have had in calling on these paid up subscribers has been phenomenal," commented Allen. "Of those we have called on, about 98 per cent have responded positively in favor of another subscription for a three-year period ending at our 60th Anniversary," the Development Director said.

Supporters Plan Mock Election

Young Republicans and young Democrats are rallying with interest to begin campus preparation for the proposed mock presidential election.

Under the direction of the Executive board, the election will take place after what is anticipated to be a real banner waving, speech making, political battle between the Nixon-Lodge forces and the Kennedy-Johnson supporters on campus.

T. Riley, chairman of the Republican committee, said plans of both campus party committees would be carried out with a primary purpose in mind, to create collegiate interest in the presidential campaign by providing a rich discussion of important issues.

Riley said that his committee and the Democratic committee, under the chairmanship of Kenneth Bryan, would work energetically to provide the type of campus campaign that would lend dignity to the student body.

AC Briefs Highlighted

On Tuesday, Freshmen and Seniors will attend chapel. Jim Speight, president of the student body at East Carolina College, is scheduled to speak. Bob Bishop will be a standby speaker if Mr. Speight is unable to accept the invitation. The Juniors will meet in the gym and the sophomores will have a session in the science lecture room.

On Thursday, juniors and sophomores will attend chapel. Alard K. Loenstein, a former president of the National Student Association will be the speaker. Freshmen will meet with their advisers. Senior girls will meet with the Women's Army Corps in the gym, and the senior boys will have a free period.

President Arthur D. Wenger and a host of Atlantic Christian professors left for Louisville, Kentucky yesterday to attend the International Convention of the Disciples of Christ. Allan R. Sharp, James B. Hemby Jr. Dr. W. E. Tucker, and R. Worden Allen Jr. are among the group who will return on October 26.

The Dean's Office encourages AC students to note that a TB mobile unit will be on campus November 7 and 8. Chest x-rays will be made that Monday and Tuesday from 9 to 3.

Harry Swain, chairman of the Business Department, announced today that a student duplicating service will be offered by the department. Students desiring memograph work, materials, letters, etc., will find the duplicating service a benefit to them.

Board Approves Pine Knot Budget

There will be a 1960-61 Pine Knot.

Action of the Executive Board, meeting in the Discipiana room Monday night, restored all but $12 to budget requests of the Publications committee for the yearbook.

In other business, the long-awaited Tweetie-Library poll questionnaires were approved and plans were mapped for what promises to be a rip-snorting mock presidential campaign and election.

Edward E. Beeler, chairman of the Publications committee, appeared to discuss the fate of the Pine Knot. Beeler explained the yearbook, which was contracted for last February, could not be published if the requested funds were not restored. The budget request was $5,490.

At its last meeting the board recommended a budget of $4,705, a cut of $785. During that meeting budgets of all Cooperative association agencies were slashed due to limited funds.

It was pointed out at this week's meeting that last year's Executive Board started operation with a balance of $4,000 whereas the present board began with only an $800 balance. In addition, about 75 fewer students are members of the Cooperative association this year which means $1,050 is not available which was last year. Therefore cuts were mandatory, the board decided.

David Smith, president of the Cooperative association, reported that Milton Adams, college business manager, told him an average of 90 students have transferred here in second semester during the past three years.

Smith said the administration assured him there would be at least 50 transfer students and probably more. With additional income from activities fees of the 50 or more, $773 for the Pine Knot could be restored, he explained.

Following statements by Smith and Thomas Norvell to the effect they thought the Pine Knot was the most important activity of the Cooperative association, the campus leaders voted unanimously to restore all but $12 of the previously cut budget.

Turning to other business the board okayed information contained on questionnaires for the Tweetie-Library polls. Disapproving of a suggestion to handle the polls by having students vote during given hours in the lobby of the Classroom building, the board approved a suggestion the questionnaires be completed during regular class meetings this week.

With an eye toward stimulating more student interest in the current presidential campaigns, Smith requested authorization to appoint committees to stage mock presidential campaigns and an election on campus.

Gaining approval of the governing body, Smith named T. Riley chairman of the committee in charge of drumming support for the Nixon-Lodge ticket and Ken Bryan as chairman of a committee to boost the Kennedy-Johnson combination. Other members appointed to the GOP committee

Fulbright Awards Deadline Is Near

Only two weeks remain to apply for some 800 Fulbright scholarships for study or research in 30 countries, the Institute of International Education reminded prospective applicants today. Applications are being accepted until November 1.

Inter-American Cultural Convention awards for study in 17 Latin American countries have the same filing deadline.

Recipients of Fulbright awards for study in Europe, Latin America, and the Asia-Pacific area will receive tuition, maintenance and round-trip travel. IACC scholarships cover transportation, tuition, and partial maintenance costs. IIE administers both of these student programs for the U. S. Department of State.

General eligibility requirements for both categories of awards are: 1) U. S. citizenship at time of application; 2) a bachelor's degree or its equivalent by 1961; 3) knowledge of the language of the host country; and 4) good health. A demonstrated capacity for independent study and a good academic record are also necessary. Preference is given to applicants under 35 years of age who have not previously lived or studied abroad.

Applicants will be required to submit a plan of proposed study that can be carried out profitably within the year abroad. Successful candidates are required to be affiliated with approved institutions of higher learning abroad.

Enrolled students at a college or university should consult the campus Fulbright adviser for information and applications. Others may write to the Information and Counseling Division, Institute of International Education, 1 East 67 Street, New York 21, New York or to any of IIE's regional offices.

Competitions for the 1961-62 academic year close November 1, 1960.

The Institute of International Education, founded in 1919, seeks to foster international understanding through exchange of students and scholars, and to further the exchange of ideas and knowledge among all nations. It administers two-way scholarship programs between the United States and 83 foreign countries, handling more than 5,000 exchanges annually, and is an information center on all aspects of international education.

Floridians Lead Group Of 66 Non Tar Heels

Fifty-eight of Atlantic Christian College's 1,149 students are from out-of-state. An additional eight students are representatives of foreign countries.

Florida leads the list of other states represented with a total of 14 students. Three of these 14 students are from Ft. Lauderdale and each of the following cities is represented by one student each: Apopka, Sarasota, Jacksonville, Haines City, Quincy, Tampa, MIAMI, Ft. Pierce, Lakeland, Bartow, and Winter Haven.

Eleven students comprise the delegation from Virginia, representing the cities of Gasburg, Falls Church, Smithfield, Arlington, Bassett, Virginia Beach, Disputanta, Punoteage, and Norfolk. Two students are from Boykins, Virginia.

Tied for third place on the out-of-state list are Georgia and South Carolina, each with 10 students. Charleston, South Carolina, boasts five students, Greenville, two, and St. Stephens, Brunson, and Clemson, one each. Five of Georgia's 10 students are from Atlanta, with Midway, Teurille, Winder, Waycross, and Decatur represented by one student each.

Indiana and Maryland are represented by two students each. Indiana's two students hail from Indianapolis and Zionsville, while those from Maryland come from the cities of Kensington and Annapolis.

Kentucky sends one student, from Owensboro; Michigan, one student, from Muskegan; New York, one student, from Hicksville; New Jersey, one student, from Singac; Ohio, one student, from Portsmouth; Oklahoma, one student, from Cushing, Pennsylvania, one student, from Pottstown; Tennessee, one student, from Rockwood; Washington state, one student, from Union Gap.
