Bulldogs Open Here Tonight!

The fast-moving Atlantic Christian Bulldogs open their assault on the North State Conference championship tonight at home against the rugged Catawba team in the Recreation Center gym at 8 p.m.

To start things rolling, a big pep rally is scheduled in front of the Dining Hall on the main campus at 6 p.m. The band will play and the cheerleaders hope for a rousing crowd to start the home season in the right direction.

The Bulldogs, undefeated in two games, have knocked off the 1955-56 ACC champs 78-63 in the annual Blue and White game and Tuesday night whipped Pembroke 90-81. Catawba was last year's North State Conference champion and promises to be a tough team to handle.

"This year's team will be the sort of team that rides high or low according to the spirit of the student body," Coach Jack McComas said recently. McComas has predicted from the start of practice that his charges would be battling for the number one spot this year and has given no indication of changing his mind.

Probable starters for the Bulldogs will be seniors Jack Boyd and Dick Knox at guards, sophomore Jerry Fritz and either John Eskew or Bobby Atkinson at forwards and Ernie Oden at center. Dale Fillingame, towering 6-8 center, will probably see plenty of action along with Ray Smith, Bill Shoultice, Jack Hussey, Tommy Parham and Terry Harris.

Next Tuesday night at the Recreation Center gym the Bulldogs will play host to the Pembroke College team in a return match. The gates will be opened and the public admitted free of charge in that clash—a move calculated to bring this year's team many new fans.

Knox and Boyd, two of the best looking guards to appear in the North State Conference in many a moon, are expected to carry a big load this season as ACC seeks to improve its won-lost record of 17-14 during the 1959-60 season. Boyd, a transfer letterman from Duke University, has been a big help to the club already. Another big gun will be Jerry Fritz who led last year's scorers with an 18.2 average in 17 games. Fritz was also the top rebounder, grabbing 17 off the boards per game. Ernie Oden, at 6-5 will be the Bulldog starting center. He has plenty of court savvy and experience. Fillingame, the tallest AC cager at 6-8, will be ready to back him up. This year's squad seems to have the depth that some teams of the past few years have lacked too. Atkinson, Eskew, Smith, Parham, and Shoultice are all expected to add real strength.

Coach Jack McComas is beginning his ninth year as head basketball coach at AC. During that time his teams have won 130 games and have dropped 107 contests and he has brought home one conference championship while keeping his teams among the front-runners.

Spring Registration Begins December 2

By SUE BRANNAN

Thanksgiving vacation has come and gone, and many of us have returned to school shaken by cold reality and hard facts. We made such firm resolutions to really get down and study, to return to our academic pasts long enough to do those overdue assignments and perhaps catch up with our academic presents. But we failed! It was so hard to study that we didn't try.

Beginning December 2, 1960, advisors will have available for their advisees spring schedules and registration materials. They will also have a tentative list of courses to be offered during the Summer Session of 1961. This summer session schedule is not final, but it will be helpful to many of you who plan to attend summer school in selecting courses for the spring semester.

Students are required to fill in a tentative registration form showing choice of courses for spring semester. After conferences with their advisors, students are to fill in registration cards then return them to their advisor. Advisors will take the completed cards to the Registrar's office on the following dates: Seniors, December 5, 6, and 7; Juniors, December 8 and 9; Sophomores, December 12 and 13; and Freshmen, December 14 and 15.

Between 10:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m. on the date following the turn-in of registrations, students are to report to the Registrar's office to fill in class cards. The registrar says that it is important that this be completed promptly because priority for closing sections is established in this manner.

Students are requested to complete registration during examination week, January 16-19, 1961 by going to the Business Office, paying their bill, and picking up class admission cards. If, in the meantime, students fail a course, necessitating a change in schedule, they can make the changes on January 25. Other changes can be made beginning January 26; a charge of $1.00 per schedule change will be made for all changes after January 25, except those made for administrative reasons. Students taking freshman and sophomore English must register for the same section as the fall semester. Exceptions to this can be made only by permission of the chairman of the English Department.

Regular students will not be allowed to register for Saturday or evening classes except by written permission of the chairman of the department offering the course.

If by chance students are among those who are on probation this semester, this registration schedule does not apply to you. If they are eligible to return next semester, they may register January 25, 1961.

Business Club Selects FBLA; Collegiate Scribes Needed

Action was taken November 17 by the Business Club of Atlantic Christian College to become a member of the Future Business Leaders of America.

The primary business of the meeting centered its attention upon their affiliation with the national organization. Much discussion was given by members of the Business Club concerning the constitution of the F.B.L.A.

It was explained during the business meeting that the prescribed constitution would not be effective until a designed installation service makes its adoption complete.

The campus business majors decided that a $3.00 dues fee will be paid by members at next week's regular meeting.

The Collegiate Staff is hunting for reporters! Editors Alton Lee Jr. and Terrill Riley encourage anyone interested in sports, news, or feature writing to contact them or to see Publicity Director Ed Beeler in the Administration Building before the beginning of the second semester.

The Collegiate, published weekly, offers good experience to students who are interested in news media and writing. (It says here in very small print.)

Crosswalks Planned

Board Studies ACC's Tangled Traffic Woes

The past six weeks have found Zarelda Walston, Secretary of the Cooperative Association, at work with the city commission of Wilson. At the request of the Executive Board, Miss Walston met with city officials to discuss what the student government considers necessary for the safety of ACC students in crossing streets adjacent to the college; crosswalks at heavily traveled and congested areas.

Grantham Speaks To Weightlifters

President Hal Gibbs opened the Wednesday night meeting of the Weightlifting Club. After the business of the organization was discussed, the guest speaker, Joe Grantham was introduced.

Grantham, an AC graduate in 1958, is now serving with the U. S. Army in Fort Carson, Colorado. He has placed fifth and third in two separate Senior National Weightlifting events and second in the National Intercollegiate Championship, Saturday, November 12. Grantham placed first in the North American Championships in York, Pennsylvania. In his class, 165 pounds, Grantham is one of the nation's best lifters and his future plans include a possible trip to the Olympics in 1964.

Miss Walston reported to the board this week at its Monday evening business session on her findings. She discussed with the board the city's willingness to provide two crosswalks around the college if students would take advantage and use them. It was the job of the executive board at its weekly meeting to select what it considered to be the most congested areas where crosswalks would aid the students.

After much discussion, the board decided it would inform city officials to provide crosswalks in front of Harper Hall leading to Tweeties and on Lee Street in front of Moye Science Hall.

David Smith, president of the Cooperative Association, suggested to the board a committee be formed to be in charge of the responsibility and assignment of the Coop piano. Smith said at various times several groups desired access to the piano and a designated group should see the instrument is used properly.

It was passed by the executive leaders that the Social Committee would have in addition to its regular responsibilities the responsibility of caring for the student government piano which was purchased last summer.

The board announced in further business that Mary Ann Marchant and Betty Jean Grady would be the delegates to represent Atlantic Christian College at the Regional NSA Conference to be held in Lynchburg, Va., Dec. 2.

Pine Knot Queen Will Be Crowned At Dec. 9 Dance

Crowning the 1961 Pine Knot Queen will highlight this year's Christmas dance, which is an annual event sponsored by the Social Committee of Atlantic Christian.

To be held in the lobby of the classroom building from 8 to 11 p.m. Friday, December 9, the annual dancing scene will be created by an extensive decorations committee consisting of 30 members. Robert Matthews, commenting on the campus event as chairman of the Social committee, said the dance was one of the two specially featured dances for the year and encouraged students, members of the faculty and administration to attend.

The Pine Knot Queen, who will reign in this year's edition of the college annual, will be selected by a group of judges from candidates sponsored by each of the four classes and contestants representing each of the fraternities and sororities. Miss Pine Knot will be selected for her photogenicity, personality, and graciousness.

Miss Cinda Bunting, the Pine Knot Queen of 1960, will crown the new queen during intermission of the dance.

Music for the special occasion will be provided by the Lloyd Wooley Quintet of Chapel Hill. Dress will be formal but corsages will not be considered necessary. Admission will not be charged for campus-family members and their dates.

MEMBERS OF THE BISHOP'S, who have traveled over 500,000 miles, consult their current schedule. The nationally known group will perform "The Boy With A Cart" in Howard Chapel Saturday, Dec. 3 at 8 p.m. under sponsorship of the Concert and Assembly committee.
