

THE COLLEGIATE

PUBLISHED WEEKLY

ATLANTIC CHRISTIAN COLLEGE, FEBRUARY 3, 1961

NUMBER THIRTEEN

Big ACC Appreciation Week Set

Governor Speaks At Industry Day On ACC Campus

North Carolina's 20th Century "Education Governor" opens 1961 Atlantic Christian College Appreciation Week in Wilson February 6 with a legislative eve address before more than 200 ACC faculty members and industrial leaders.

The address will climax a day-long program centering on the theme of "Industry and Education — An Experiment in Understanding." The dinner, scheduled at 7:30 p.m. in the college dining hall, will be sponsored by 10 major Wilson County industries on behalf of the entire industrial community.

Its purpose is to honor the faculty and administrative staff of Atlantic Christian, according to Vernon Morton who is coordinating the program on behalf of industry.

Governor Terry Sanford is expected to stress the importance of a strong industrial-academic partnership in Eastern North Carolina, described by many experts as the next decade's fastest growing industrial region.

The "Industry and Education" program opens at 10 a.m. with a tour of area industrial plants by the more than 300 business majors at Atlantic Christian. A panel discussion has been planned in Howard Chapel at 2 p.m. for the students. Panel members will represent major fields of industrial work.

TERRY SANFORD

Four Dollar Hike

Board Votes Activity Fee Raise; AC Radio Station Plans Continue

By GUY MILLER

The Executive Board has voted to increase the student activities fee from $31 to $35.

At the meeting held Monday night, Dave Smith, president of the Cooperative Association, yielded the chair to the vice-president during part of the meeting. Smith then presented a proposal that student activities fee be increased from the present $31 to $35 and that the four dollar difference be added to the student activity part of the fee and not to the athletic association portion of the fee. The proposal passed.

It was pointed out that unless the fee is increased, the school will have to continue with a curtailed program of activities; but with this proposed increase, some expansion of student activities would be possible.

Douglas Ouzts and E. B. Shearin, representing the newly formed Radio Club, appeared before the Board. Ouzts stated the aims and goals of the Radio Club and presented other pertinent information.

He said the club needs a minimum of $210 to begin initial broadcasting.

Dr. William Troutman, faculty representative on the Board, expressed the belief that such a project, if implemented, could become a third main agency of campus communication, ranking with THE COLLEGIATE and the PINE KNOT. As such, Dr. Troutman felt that the Executive Board would desire to sponsor and have ultimate control of the station and club, and advise and help the more-or-less autonomous club.

Dr. Troutman saw in this one of the most promising additions to the college program recently.

President Smith set up a committee to work with the Radio Club officers and make further investigation and plans for commencing broadcasting as soon as possible. The entire Executive Board present expressed interest in this venture.

Smith presented a second resolution, proposing that the two open chapel periods in April which have been given to the Executive Board, be used for the purpose of holding panel discussions concerning human relations.

During discussion on this proposal, the question arose as to why there have been no recent general assemblies. Smith stated that it is not the fault of the Executive Board because there have been none recently, but rather it is a result of conflicts in chapel program arrangements.

Discussion on the proposed motion evolved to the use of these periods to inform students as to the need of increasing the student activities fee and on other Executive Board matters.

The motion was defeated.

Smith announced that he is going to send a copy of ACC's constitution and Bulldog to the N. C. Wesleyan College at Rocky Mount. This institution has asked for information about ACC's governmental system, and Smith expressed the opinion that such information may be helpful to this new college in forming its student government.

Drew Pearson Is College Week Speaker In City

Program spotlight at the Wilson Chamber of Commerce's annual membership dinner Wednesday night, February 8, will shine on Drew Pearson, national syndicated news columnist, from Washington, D. C.

Final program plans for the annual dinner, being held as part of College Appreciation Week in Wilson, were announced today by H. Moseley Hussey, Executive Secretary of the Wilson Chamber of Commerce.

Pearson will be the principal speaker for the dinner which will be presided over by Harry W. Severance, local radio station official who is vice-president of the Chamber.

During the dinner event Jack L. Satchwell, newly installed president of the Wilson Chamber of Commerce, will present a special president's report and Dr. Arthur D. Wenger, President of Atlantic Christian College in Wilson, will speak.

Others on the dinner program will be R. Worden Allen Jr., Director of Development at Atlantic Christian, and M. Paul Dickerman, Associate Publisher of The Wilson Daily Times.

The membership dinner is one of several major events being staged in Wilson under the auspices of the Wilson Chamber of Commerce as the community's annual salute to its institution of higher education, Atlantic Christian College.

During the week of February 6-12, all segments of community life will join forces in the salute.

DREW PEARSON

CSW Plans Booming; Semester Schedule Set

By BOB STONE

Christian Service Workshop has taken great strides and advanced in the past few years by bringing the religion majors together as a unified body one time a week. On this occasion, the group is not only able to discuss vital religious issue and problems which concern the members, but programs, socials, and worship services are also regular features. Allan R. Sharp, Head of the Religion Department, commended the group recently for past cooperation and the effective means of helping increase the true spirit of Christian Fellowship on campus.

Recently the group of officers met and planned a tentative program schedule which is being distributed to CSW members in the near future.

The schedule is as follows: February 1, D. L. Warren, Youth Work; February 8, Johnny Mc-Bride, student speaker; February 15, Clayton Weeks, Speaker—This meeting will be held at Doctor Wenger's home; February 22, Washington's Birthday Social; March 1, Doctor William E. Tucker, Speaker; March 8, Youth Week Film; March 15, Dr. C. E. Hamlin, speaking on pacifism; March 22, D. L. Warren; March 29, Easter Service, Patsy May; April 12, Panel Discussion on "Teaching Religion" — All professors in the Religion Department have been invited to participate; April 19, J. P. Greenway, speaker; April 26, Bernard Meece, Youth Work; May 3, Religious Work in Radio and TV; May 10, Tommy Norvell, speaker; May 17, Farewell Social.

Christian Service Workshop meets each Wednesday at 3 in Harper Hall Rec. Room unless otherwise announced, and is open to the campus.

Campus Briefs

Each Wednesday from 3:00 until 4:00 p.m., President Wenger will have an informal social hour for the faculty and administration. It will be an opportunity to visit informally with the President and other administrative officers and faculty members. Drop in and feel free to come and stay any convenient time.

There are a few vacancies in the boys' dorm for second semester. Anyone interested in moving in should contact Dean Rich or Mr. Warren right away.

A film, "God of the Atom," will be available for anyone's use from D. L. (Pete) Warren, on Monday, February 6.

Sophomores and Juniors will hold class meetings in the gym during Chapel hour Tuesday, February 7. At the same hour Freshmen and Seniors will meet in Howard Chapel.

All students will meet in the gym Thursday, February 9, during the Chapel hour for a program sponsored by the Tutoring Society.

Collegiate Photo By Bill Feetham

SPRING SEMESTER OFFICERS for Christian Service Workshop are from left to right, front row: Patsy Hall, Worship Chairman; Liz Harris, Secretary-Treasurer; back row: Bob Bishop, Program Chairman; Bill Waters, Publicity Chairman; Alton Lee, Jr., President; and Virgil Smith, Service Chairman.

College Faculty, Staff To Fill Local Pulpits

Members of the faculty, administration, and alumni family of Atlantic Christian College will serve as guest speakers at worship services in the churches of Wilson on Sunday, February 12, as a part of College Appreciation Week observance in Wilson.

College Appreciation Week will open in Wilson on Monday, February 6, and will close on Sunday, February 12. Following the special services in Wilson's churches that morning, a combined concert of the Atlantic Christian College Chorus and the Atlantic Christian College Band will be staged in the Wilson Community Center at 3 p.m.

Foy N. Goforth, president of the ACC Alumni association, said Dr. Arthur D. Wenger, President of ACC, will serve as guest speaker at the morning worship services that day at the First Baptist Church. R. Worden Allen, Jr., Director of Development at the College, will speak at the First Presbyterian Church, Clayton Weeks, an Alumnus of the College who is a missionary in the Congo, will speak at the First Christian Church, James B. Hemby, Jr., Director of Admissions at ACC, will speak at St. Timothy's Episcopal Church, John R. Scudder, Jr., member of the College faculty in the Department of Religion and Philosophy, will speak at the Westview Christian Church, Allan R. Sharp, Acting Chairman of the Department of Religion and Philosophy at ACC, will speak at services at the First Methodist Church, and Dr. William F. Troutman, Jr., member of the Acc faculty in the Department of Social Science, will speak at the West Nash Methodist Church.

Invitation

To Students and Faculty Members

Dear friends:

One feature of our annual Homecoming program this year will be an Open House at the president's home, 303 Wilshire Blvd. from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. Mrs. Wenger and I extend to you a cordial invitation to share in this part of our Homecoming activities.

Sincerely yours,
Arthur D. Wenger
President