The play along with another one act, "A Phoenix Too Frequent", is being presented in Howard Chapel tonight at 8. A review of the plays appears on page 3.

AC Student Teachers Fill Area Classrooms

A record number of student teachers, 110, from Atlantic Christian College have been placed in elementary and secondary schools in Eastern North Carolina to partially fulfill state teacher certification requirements, announces Samuel C. Stell, director of the student program at ACC.

Teaching and observing in 27 schools located in 10 different administrative units, the student teachers work under the supervision of experienced teachers for one or two hours per day during most of the spring semester.

"Experience gained by these student teachers will enable them to avoid many of the pitfalls confronting beginning teachers," Stell comments.

Forty-one ACC education majors are gaining experience in elementary schools. Of this number 19 have been assigned to primary grades (one through three) while 21 are working with grammar grade children (four through six) and one is in special education.

These area elementary schools are participating in the teacher training program and are followed by the number of ACC student teachers involved at each: Hearne and Winstead, Wilson, six each; Woodard and Wells, Wilson, seven each; Coon, Wilson, three; Mt. Pleasant, Nash County, one; New Hope, Wilson County, two; Lucama, Wilson County, one; Eureka, Wayne County, two; Rosewood, Wayne County, one; Princeton, Johnston County, one; Brogden, Johnston County, two; Meadow, Johnston County, one.

In secondary education, 17 business majors represent the largest single field of student instruction. Other areas of instruction include science, 12; social studies, 12; physical education, 12; mathematics, eight; English, seven; music, two; and art, one.

In all, 69 ACC students are gaining experience in 15 different schools including: Fike Senior High School, Wilson, 26; Coon Junior High School, Wilson 13; Spring Hope School, one; Elm City High School, five; Meadow Lane School, one; Snow Hill High School, three; Lee Woodard High School, three; Coopers High School, four; Rock Ridge High School, three; Micro High School, one; Wallace-Rose Hill High School, one; West Edgecombe High School, one; Hobbs High School, one; Bailey High School, three and two additional students involved in art and music teach in several Wilson City Schools on a rotating basis.

Trustees Promote Six Of Faculty

Six members of the faculty of Atlantic Christian College have been promoted by the Board of Trustees effective September 1, 1961, it has been announced by Dr. Arthur D. Wenger, President of ACC.

In addition to the promotions the following faculty personnel were granted permanent tenure: Dr. Daniel M. McFarland, chairman of the Department of Social Science; Dr. William F. Troutman Jr., Department of Social Science; Dr. Millard P. Burt, Dean of the College; and Robert G. Capps, Department of Social Science.

Receiving promotions from associate professor to full professor were Dr. Troutman and Dr. Deems N. Wiggs of the Department of Science and Mathematics.

James V. Cobb Jr. and J. Ovide DeLage Jr., both of the Department of Music, are to move up from assistant professor to associate professor. Presently Mr. Cobb is on a leave of absence to do doctoral work.

Two people are being elevated from instructor to assistant profes-

Fine Arts Center Work May Be Started In '62 If Funds Are Available

Construction of the first stage of a three-stage Fine Arts Center at Atlantic Christian College may get underway sometime in 1962, announces Dr. Arthur D. Wenger, President of the College.

In its February meeting the Board of Trustees of the College adopted recommendations submitted by the building committee which provides for the following:

1. The architect be authorized to prepare general plans for a Fine Arts Center to be built in three separate stages, the first stage being a Music department, the second stage an Art department and the third stage an auditorium with a seating capacity of approximately 1,200.

Following its annual meeting last fall the Trustees authorized B. Atwood Skinner, a Wilson architect handling the job, to proceed with preliminary drawings. Effect of this recent recommendation would be for him to prepare general overall plans for the center and actual working drawing and specifications for the Music department portion.

2. Detailed plans for the Music department must contain construction costs within $150,000.
3. These detailed plans should be completed so that if conditions warrant and if funds are available, construction may begin in 1962.

The proposed Fine Arts Center will be located at Gold Street and Whitehead Avenue directly across the street from the College's Classroom Building.

Chorus Off Again; Ends Tour Tuesday

The Atlantic Christian College touring choir has completed the first half of its 1961 tour. The choir, traveling on a chartered Trailways bus, presented concerts at the Wilson First Christian Church, the Rocky Mt. Christian Church, Elizabeth City High School, the Elizabeth City Christian Church, Perquimans High School, and Plymouth Christian Church.

The twenty-nine voice choir will resume its tour on March 12th with a concert presented during the morning worship service of the Washington Christian Church. Sunday evening they will be at the Greenville Christian Church. On Monday, March 13, the choir will sing at Farmville High School, Kinston High School, and the Kinston Christian Church.

On the final day of the tour, March 14, concerts will be given at Goldsboro High School, Clayton High School, and the Raleigh Christian Church.

Fixx And Rawls To Be Speakers On AC Campus

James F. Fixx, feature editor of the Saturday Review, and Mr. William Rawls, founder of the Rocky Mount Art Center, will speak on campus next week.

Fixx, 28-year-old executive with the nation's top literary magazine, will speak informally Wednesday evening with English majors, members of the fiction writing class, and invited guests at 8 p. m. in the Faculty Lounge. On Thursday morning he will address the combined 9 a. m. and 11 a. m. English classes in Howard Chapel and will be the speaker at the regular chapel program. His subject: "The Care and Feeding of Magazines."

A graduate of Oberlin College, Fixx has had newspaper experience in St. Petersburg, Florida. His magazine experience is inherent: his father was the editor and chief of Time, Inc. for many years prior to his death.

Rawls is the founder of the Art Center in Rocky Mount which has recently been taken over as a civic program by that city. He is a University of North Carolina graduate and also a graduate of the Parsons School of Design in New York and the New School for Social Research, a dramatic workshop formerly under the direction of the great drama coach and director, Lee Strasburg. Rawls is now a Raleigh businessman.

The Saturday Review, under the leadership of Editor Norman Cousins and Fixx, has broadened its interests in recent years, to include features in the fields of science, music, photography, and major social and political problems, as well as continuing to be America's best book reviewing journal.

Summer School Dates, Fees Are Announced

Atlantic Christian College Summer Session is open to Atlantic Christian College students, public school teachers who wish to renew certification, students from other colleges and universities, and to high school graduates who wish to accelerate their college programs.

The normal load for each five week term is six semester hours. However, any student may take a seven hour load if it includes Business 071 (Personal Typewriting). Only graduating seniors or students with a "B" average may take seven hours for which special permission is required.

Registration will be held on the first day of each term for those students who are not presently enrolled at ACC. Students who wish to obtain housing should notify the college at the same time they make application.

The first term of the 1961 summer session will run from June 5 through July 12. Classes will begin at 7 o'clock each morning and end at 12:45 p.m.

Tuition for summer school will be $12.50 per semester hour. The dormitory fee for both men and women will be $20.00 per term. The cafeteria charge for dormitory students per term will be $40.00, and there will be an optional medical fee of $3.00 per term. Fees will also be charged for laboratory courses in science, music, art, business, and physical education.

WACR To Begin Operation On April 15, Poe Announces

When is the student radio station going on the air? That's a question that almost everyone on campus is asking these days. The Collegiate approached Buck Poe, station manager for comment.

Poe said, "WACR is now in the process of getting transmitters for the campus. If all goes as planned, the radio station will begin operation April 15. The studio is now being sound-proofed in the music building."

"The broadcasting schedule will be from 6 p.m. until 12 a.m., Monday through Friday; and the station will eventually broadcast on weekends.

At the Executive Board meeting this week D. L. Warren presented a report on his discussion with the Administrative Council about the Bohunk bucket issue. The Council appointed a committee to consult with the Athletic Committee to find out all facets of involvement with the Bohunk in the past and report at the next meeting.

Jim Van Camp said he had made an appointment with the president of ECC to discuss the Bohunk and asked the advice of the board as to whether he should go in view of the Council report. Warren suggested Van Camp go ahead with the meeting in order to find what EC's views are and have a proposal ready just in case the students receive permission to handle the Bohunk from now on.

The board discussed the Cooperative Association meeting Tuesday at which the basketball team was honored. Warren presented plans and Smith submitted a rough draft of a resolution to be read at the meeting. There was discussion as to whether to use "because" or "whereas" in the resolution. Whereas was decided upon and the resolution was accepted.

Mike Busby presented information to the board about the North State Student Government Association. He explained that Lenoir Rhyne is in the process of amending the constitution of the Association and would like the ACC board to vote on the suggested amendments. Smith interjected he did not know the purpose of the worth to the member schools.

Busby read the purpose of the association which is to "provide for an exchange of ideas and to provide a meeting ground and offer free discussion on ideas and improvement in student governments." Smith said he realized what the organization was supposed to be but had received no correspondence except for a date for the convention. Dr. William Troutman felt that Smith's doubts were warranted because he, too, had heard little about the organization. Busby expressed the opinion it was not that the organization was not functioning, but the board was at fault because it had not put anything into it. The past president had not worked, thus no materials had been sent out, he said.

Both amendments to the North State Student Government Association concerning dues and meeting places were passed.

At this point of the meeting Smith and several other members of the board left and Ken Bryan took the president's chair. The Executive Board went into a committee as a whole to discuss rules to govern the board which are to be presented for a vote at a later date.
