Dr. Arthur D. Wenger, president of Atlantic Christian, announced recently these roles for the four: Dr. Robert G. Storey, president of the Southwestern Legal Foundation and vice president of the International Convention of Christian Churches, will deliver the Commencement address.

Dr. J. Daniel Joyce, associate professor of New Testament at Christian Theological Seminary, Indianapolis, Ind., will preach the Baccalaureate sermon.

J. Ernest Paschall, 1918 graduate of Atlantic Christian and president of North Carolina's Branch Banking and Trust Company, is to be awarded the College's Honorary Doctor of Laws degree.

Mrs. Elizabeth House (A. Miles) Hughey, State Librarian of North Carolina and 1936 graduate of ACC, will receive an Honorary Doctor of Literature degree.

Commencement Speaker Storey, because of his activities as a layman in the Disciples of Christ, will receive "The Religious Heritage of the Year" award in June during the Washington Pilgrimage of American Churchmen.

Attorney Storey was a heavy artilleryman with a single gold bar on his shoulder during World War I and more than a score years later he was a colonel in the Army Air Corps.

His legal background steered him into numerous government positions. During a 1945-46 span, international attention was focused upon his activities as executive trial counsel for the United States at the Nuremberg trials.

Because of his activities as a layman in the Disciples of Christ, Dr. Storey will receive The Religious Heritage of America "Lay Churchman of the Year" award in June during the Washington Pilgrimage of American Churchmen.

International attention was focused upon his activities in 1945-46 when he was executive trial counsel for the United States at the axis war criminals trials in Nuremberg, Germany.

Dr. Joyce, a frequent contributor to THE CHRISTIAN, ENCOUNTER, and CHURCH MANAGEMENT, was a pioneer in the field of religious television.

Author and teacher of the weekly TV series "Lessons for Living," Dr. Joyce also telecast the "International Sunday School Lesson" on WTVR, Richmond, while he was pastor of Hanover Avenue Church in Richmond.

Mr. Paschall, who is an Elder in Wilson's First Christian Church as well as being past chairman of the Official Board, is a member of the Board of Trustees of Atlantic Christian College and serves on that body's Executive Committee.

An ardent supporter of the College, Mr. Paschall is past president of the ACC Alumni Association.

Mrs. Elizabeth House Hughey, cum laude graduate in 1936, was recipient of the coveted Elaine Waters Religious cup while at Atlantic Christian.

In addition to being Deaconess in Raleigh's St. Paul's Christian Church, she is also active in most other areas of women's work in the Church.

Adams Elected Co-op Chief In Record Voter Turnout

By GUY MILLER

Jeff Adams has been elected president of the Cooperative Association for next year.

Adams defeated Dave Mustian by a wide margin in the election held on Monday and Tuesday. According to figures released by Bobby Jean Grady, chairman of the Elections Committee, Adams piled up a vote of 403 against Mustian's support of 260.

Miss Grady also stated this total balloting of 663 is a new record for student voting at this school. Of 900 eligible voters, this figure represents an approximate 73 per cent turn-out at the polls. The committee expresses pleasure and thanks the student body for this majority response in voting.

Mustian expressed congratulations to Adams on his victory. Dave indicated he has no plans to seek any other office, but will help next year's Executive Board in any way he can as a student.

The election brought to a close the campaign that had been before the eyes and in the minds of the school for almost two weeks. The campus had been plastered with posters, candidates and issues had been discussed and rediscussed, and students — one after the other — had been asked to support a particular candidate.

The activities of campaigning reached the peak on Thursday before the election, when each candidate delivered his campaign speech. The gym was suddenly turned into a small-scaled convention hall as each speaker presented his respective platform and demonstrators had a chance to express their support for a favorite candidate.

The presidential election is history. The campus is now turning its eyes and attention to the elections to be held on Monday and Tuesday, May 8 and 9.

Monday and Tuesday's voting will determine the vice-president, secretary, and treasurer of the Cooperative Association; head cheerleader; editor, art editor, and business manager of the PINE KNOT; editor and business manager of THE COLLEGIATE; class officers; and CCA officers.

Installation of all campus officers will be conducted May 11.

Awards Will Be Presented At Three Chapel Programs

By PATSY MAY

With the close of the year comes the giving of awards for various honors and accomplishments. Awards this year will be presented in three chapels.

On May 11 is Blue-White Day. Included in the days presentation will be the awarding of the Denny Essay cup to the student writing the best essay on the college motto. This contest is in progress now. The Rotary club will present an award to the student with the highest scholastic average for the previous spring and fall semester. The Wilson Daily Times will present an award to the student who has made the most contribution to publications. The recipient is chosen by vote of the faculty members on the publications committee. Another award will be presented by the Interfraternity Council to the Greek organization with the highest scholastic achievement.

Intramural awards will be presented on May 16. At this time, a sportsmanship trophy will be presented to the most outstanding woman in intramural participation. Winning teams and individuals in each sport played will be presented with awards.

The athletic awards will be presented on May 18. The Kiwanis will present an award to the most outstanding male athlete who is selected by vote of the athletic committee. Other athletic letters and awards will also be presented.

Three awards will be presented at graduation. The scholarship award will be presented to the student with the highest four year average. The Faculty Cup will be presented to the best all around senior. Nominations are made for this through lists presented by the student life committee, the Religious Life committee and the registrar. If a student's name is on two or three of those lists he is one of the nominees. The faculty then votes on the nominees. Also, to be presented is the Eva Elaine Waters award, which is a Bible with the recipient's name on it. The religious life committee votes on the student to receive this award.

Students Must Decide Summer, Fall Courses, See Advisors By May 9

A $10 advance registration fee will not be charged for pre-registration, it has been announced by Dean Millard P. Burt.

In outlining pre-registration procedures, Dean Burt emphasized that whether this practice will continue in years to come will be contingent upon the degree of cooperation by students.

Following are the new pre-registration procedures as outlined by Dean Burt:

On or before May 9 students must decide what courses they wish to take in Summer School and or during Fall semester. On this date all students will meet with their advisors at the normal Chapel period to receive detailed instructions and complete the required forms.

Following these conferences, advisors will turn in to the Registrar all Summer School and Fall semester registration forms according to the following schedule: May 9 and 10 Summer School graduating seniors and Fall semester seniors; May 11 and 12 Fall semester juniors; and May 15 and 16 Fall semester sophomores and juniors.

It is imperative, the Dean noted, that students see the Mrs. Bethany R. Joyner, registrar, the day after their cards are turned in to her by their respective advisors. At this time students will fill out class cards.

In order to determine intentions of students who have pre-registered, the College will mail confirmation cards on August 1 requesting notification of the student's plans for Fall semester. All confirmation cards must be returned by August 23 at which time registration will be completed. Schedules may be changed until this time without charge. However, students must contact advisors or a designated member of the major department for approval and approval must be submitted to the Registrar to complete the change.

Schedule changes will not be permitted between August 23 and September 13 — first day of classes.
