PUBLISHED WEEKLY

ATLANTIC CHRISTIAN COLLEGE, OCTOBER 13, 1961

NUMBER FOUR

CHEERLEADER PRACTICE—Practice for cheerleader candidates came to a close last night. Girls who have been cheerleaders in the past are assisting with the training of new girls. Tryouts will be held Thursday, Oct. 19, in the gym before the entire student body. Cheerleaders are selected by popular vote.

Circle 'K' Club Holds Its First Meeting Of Year

On Tuesday, Oct. 3, the Circle "K" Club of Atlantic Christian College held its first official meeting of the year. The president, Jim Trader, called the meeting to order. Guy Miller gave the treasurer's report. President Trader then welcomed seven new members into the club, and explained to them what Circle "K" is and stands for.

Plans for various projects on campus were announced, and then discussed by the men. In the near future will begin the work of rejuvenating the old house next door to Tweetie's. The building is to be used by various organizations on campus as a meeting place.

Tom Pippin suggested the possibility of Circle "K" sponsoring a dance at some time during the school year. He was appointed chairman of a committee to investigate such possibilities.

President Trader then presented an idea for a Circle "K" Week during which traffic safety would be the main emphasis. Outside speakers address the student body on the subject of safe driving. It was pointed out that help would be available from the highway patrol, the local police force, and the Kiwanis Club, for such a project. No action has been taken on this suggestion yet, however.

The club will meet each Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock for the next two weeks, and then will go on a schedule of meeting every other Tuesday at the same time. At present, the club seems only to be lacking in one area — it needs a faculty advisor!

Accounting Club Plans Election

The Accounting Club held its first meeting of the year Thursday night, Sept. 28, to elect officers and plan for future meetings.

The organization is composed of students having nine hours of accounting and emphasizing this field. At intervals throughout the year, speakers will address the club and hold discussions concerning accounting problems and positions available in this area. All students interested in accounting are urged to attend the club meetings to hear these speakers.

The officers of the club are: Jimmie Spell, president; Tommy High, vice president; Phyllis Lucas, secretary - treasurer; and Reggie Goodwin, chaplain. The faculty advisor is George H. Swain.

At the meeting Thursday, it was decided that the club would hold its meeting on Thursday, Oct. 19, at 1 p.m. in order to permit interested day students to attend. All accounting students are invited and urged to attend this meeting to learn more about the purpose of the club.

Young Democrats Now Organizing

Plans are now being made to organize a Young Democrats Club which will endeavor to inform the student body of the principles and programs of the Democratic Party and to develop young leadership for the government of the future.

Credit for the formation of the club lies mainly with the unified efforts of Bill Bardin, Sandra Freedman, and Aileen Clark who are now laying preliminary contacting potential members.

Mr. Bardin stated that it is tentatively planned that the campus YDC will become a part of Wilson County unit of the Young Democrats Club, and later, after the club is firmly established, that they hope to join the state organization. An effort is being made, Mr. Bardin reported, to have Dewey Sheffield, state organizer for YDC, attend the first organizational meeting to be held sometime this week.

Miss Freedman, also day student representative on the Executive Board of the Cooperative Association, commenting on the aims and goals of the club said: "We plan to organize a Young Democrats Club that will be constantly active and informed in local, state, and national political affairs. Our immediate goal is to make the student body of ACC more aware of the political processes in government."

Miss Clark expressed the hope that all Democrats on campus would rally to support the club by active participation in an organization designed to give students and young citizens a more active voice in their country's government.

Dr. William F. Troutman, chairman of the Political Science Department, and Mr. Parker Wilson, professor of the history department, have been asked to be sponsors.

All persons interested in joining the club or obtaining more information are invited to contact the above mentioned persons who will gladly furnish further details.

Dr. Vere Rodgers Honored During Special Services

Dr. Vere H. Rogers who recently retired as a faculty member in the Department of Religion at Atlantic Christian College was honored at a special Distinguished Minister's Award service held at the Westview Christian Church on Sunday, Oct. 8.

Speaker for the service was Rev. Henry C. Hilliard Jr., minister of the Westview Christian Church. Dr. Rogers is a charter member of the church.

Others taking part in the service were Dr. Arthur D. Wenger, president of ACC, Alan R. Sharp, member of the college faculty, Ross J. Allen, executive secretary of the North Carolina Christian Missionary Society, James E. Fulghum, chairman of the board of the Westview Christian Church and Miss Sarah Bain Ward, president of the Christian Women's Fellowship of the Westview Church.

Born on a ranch in Wyoming, Dr. Rogers has given 45 years of his life to full-time Christian service as a pastor, teacher, missionary and college professor.

During his 24 years as a full-time church pastor, Dr. Rogers served only three churches, First Christian Church, Plattsburg, Mo., First Christian Church, Savannah, Ga., and the First Christian Church, Roanoke, Va.

Dr. Rogers joined the faculty at ACC in 1955.

ACC Co-Op Gives Nod To 1961-62 Budget Tuesday

The Cooperative Association in a general assembly Tuesday, Oct. 10, voted 403 to 51 in favor of the proposed 1961-62 budget. In addition, the students voted 270 to 179 in favor of purchasing tickets for the IFC-Cooperative Association Dance.

This dance was the first item on the agenda at the regular Executive Board meeting the previous Monday night. It was announced that only those persons directly connected with the college would be eligible to purchase tickets. Prices were fixed at $1 for students with activity cards and faculty members, and $1.50 for staff members families, students who have not paid the activity fee, and spouses and dates of those mentioned above.

The board passed a motion to present the above proposal to the Cooperative Association. A committee was appointed to coordinate the details of the dance.

Miss Peggy Bivins moved that a committee be appointed to investigate the spending of the portion of the activity fee allotted to athletics. A member of the board expressed an opinion in favor of the committee and reassured the board of high student interest in the project.

The motion passed and Miss Bivins was asked to chair the committee. Other appointees were Sandra Freedman and Bob Stone.

The 1961-62 budget for the Cooperative Association was the third item on the agenda. The budget was amended to cut $200 from the Social Committee and $250 from the Bohunk funds. These funds were added to the Executive Board appropriation to aid in financing new and existing programs. The board voted to present the amended budget to the General Assembly to be voted on by the Cooperative Association.

Other business included the appropriation of $300 for the Campus Awareness Committee and a discussion of funds for the radio club, on which a motion was tabled.

President Jeff Adams welcomed Sandra Freedman, day student representative, and Don Barefoot, freshman class president, newly elected members of the board.

ACC Trustee Dies In Wilson Monday

Arthur Daniel Shackelford, 68, long time a trustee of Atlantic Christian College, died Oct. 9 in a Wilson hospital following an extended illness.

A native of Wayne County, he was born Sept. 1, 1893. He spent his youth in Wayne County where he was graduated from the Fremont public schools. Upon completion of his education he taught in Duplin County until World War I at which time he served in the U.S. Army.

He was former president of the National Bank of Wilson, now the First Union National Bank. It was in 1919 that he entered into a banking career which was to take him to the presidency in 1949 and to many other positions of honor in the banking profession in the state and nation.

Mr. Shackelford was a graduate of the American Institute of Banking and the Graduate School of Banking at Rutgers University.

He was a member of the First Christian Church of Wilson for over 40 years where he served as a deacon, elder, trustee, chairman of the official board and served on many important committees.

In the field of education his interest turned to Atlantic Christian College where he served as a trustee and as a member of the executive committee.

ACC Rush Week Will Be Held Oct. 23-26

Rush Week at Atlantic Christian College will be held Oct. 23 - 26. Every year at ACC, the fraternities and sororities plan activities which present an opportunity for the freshmen and other non-Greeks to become acquainted with the Greek organizations and their purposes. The decision concerning your membership in such an organization is an important one and much thought should be given to this matter. Many of the sororities and fraternities have already made plans for Rush Week and they will be announced at a later date.

Anyone who wishes to receive a bid from a Greek organization must attend all functions planned by the IFC. Bids may be picked up at the campus post office and must be returned to Mr. Warren by Oct. 30.

WASTE

Atlantic Christian College may not be the richest institution of higher learning, but it seems as though the students here are rich enough to afford to throw things on the grounds and pay someone else to come along and pick them up.
