

THE COLLEGIATE

PUBLISHED WEEKLY

ATLANTIC CHRISTIAN COLLEGE, JANUARY 12, 1962

NUMBER TWELVE

"HABEBUNT LUMEN VITAE"—Night lights are burning later each night as exam week approaches. The plague of neglected study throughout the semester and for the highest grade possible are forcing many "scholars" into last minute activity.

McFarland Talks To Alumni Group At Louisburg

Louisburg College held its 175th Anniversary celebration last week. Noted national and state speakers participated in the program. From the national level presidential assistant Brooks Hays lashed out at "right wing extremist", and on the state level Dr. Daniel McFarland of Atlantic Christian College gave a panoramic review of the College and its history. Chartered two years before the University of North Carolina by the General Assembly at Fayetteville on January 6th, 1787, the college opened its doors as Franklin and charter in 1802.

Turbulent times in state politics had prevented the Academy from getting its initial application for charter of 1786 acted on until 1787. Dr. McFarland highlighted the exciting events in North Carolina history during the epoch of 1780-1800. It was at this time that certain western counties separated from North Carolina to form the state of Tennessee. Not until Governor James Turner of Warrenton took office in the 1800s did the state legislature pause to give serious thought and action to state education.

Religion Majors Select Officers

The weekly meeting of the Christian Service Workshop met on Wednesday, January 10, in the Rec room of Harper Hall at 3 p.m. The officers for the coming semester were elected. Dr. William Tucker, advisor to this group, made the closing remarks. On January 3, the Christian Workshop had a guest speaker, Mr. C. L. Parks. Mr. Parks, who is now working in Goldsboro, gave a talk on the negro work in the churches of North Carolina.

Young Democrats Go To Convention

The Young Democratic Club of North Carolina installed officers for the coming year, last Saturday, January 6, at Statesville, N. C. The convention began with registration at the Vance Motor Hotel early Saturday afternoon, which was the beginning of a series of events that was climaxed by Samuel L. Johnson turning over the President's gavel to W. E. Graham Jr., new president of North Carolina YDC. After this installation the other eleven officers of the club were installed. During the installation banquet, speeches were made by Governor Terry Sanford and Bert L. Ben-

Junior Unit Authorized By Recent IFC Action

The Interfraternity Council has authorized the formation of a Junior IFC which will consist of pledges from each Fraternity and Sorority on campus. The purpose of the junior council will be to inform pledges of action taken by the IFC and give pledges more voice in the Senior Council. Advisor to the Junior Council, Billy Batchelor, IFC representative, said that it is hoped that through this council the IFC will be able to improve the spring and fall rushes, gain hints on how to strengthen and further develop pledge scholarship, and advance the pledge program in general. Representatives to the Junior IFC consist of the president of the pledge class and another chosen pledge.

Although the Junior Council will have no vote in the IFC, it can pass to the IFC through the advisor.

Officers are to be elected during this week for the Junior Council. A constitutional committee is also to be appointed, with Jimmy Silverthorn and Mr. Batchelor as advisors.

Representatives on the Junior IFC are as following: Phi Sigma Tau, Susie McCully, Susan Webb; Sigma Tau Chi, Susie Puglia-Sande Moore; Omega Chi, Sidney Jean Wilson, Lynn Mayo; Delta Sigma, Lucille Green, Edith Ann Lee; Alpha Sigma Phi, Robert Bonner, Joel Newton; Delta Sigma Phi, Kirk Kimbro, Don Brubaker; Sigma Phi Epsilon, Dale Williamson, Bucky Lee; Sigma Pi, Lee Glover and Doug Ouzts.

Homecoming To Be Held February 9-10; Steering Committee Announces Plans

February 9-10 has been announced the dates for the annual Homecoming event to be held at Atlantic Christian College this year.

The Coronation Ball, at which time the Homecoming Queen of 1962 will be crowned, is the first event of a full schedule planned for the students, faculty, and alumni of ACC. The dance will be held in the classroom building Friday night, Feb. 9, eight o'clock.

On Saturday, Feb. 10, approximately 12 organizational floats, 4 bands and the Homecoming Queen and her attendants will be featured in a parade in downtown Wilson. Eleven o'clock has been selected as the starting time for the parade, the first event of the day. At twelve-thirty P. M. the Alumni luncheon and business session will be held. Some members of ACC chorus will present a program of music for this group also. At three o'clock P.M. Open House will be held on the college campus. All campus buildings may be visited and everyone is cordially invited to a reception in the lobby of Hackney Hall. Also at this same time, Phi Sigma Tau is sponsoring their Golden Anniversary Tea at the home of the college president.

Sororities and Fraternities on campus will sponsor banquets at five-thirty P.M. for their members and alumni. At present, there are only two of these events planned for the evening. Phi Sigma Tau Sorority and Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity have planned dinners in a local church. The graduation class of 1937 will hold their class reunion at five-thirty also.

The basketball game is also a highlighted event of the day. Atlantic Christian College will be host to the team of Pfeiffer College. The local college band will present programs of music before the game and during half-time.

The final event of Homecoming 1962 will be a dance in the class-

Minschew's Works Displayed In Rome

Billy Minschew, 1958 graduate of Atlantic Christian College and former Wilson resident, is among the artists that will be featured in Rome's Palazzo Venezia Art Show which will be held in April.

Billy is a student of art in Rome, Italy, on a Fulbright Scholarship. He received his B. S. degree from ACC and his Master's from the University of North Carolina. He has previously shown many of his paintings in the North Carolina Art Show in Raleigh have been given to the First Christian Church in Wilson.

J. Kelly Adams Asks Additional Dead Week Time

The first regular meeting for 1962 of the Executive Board convened in the classroom building on Monday evening Dec. 8th. After

Scepters Play For Midwinter Informal Dance

The first dance at ACC in 1962 will be presented by Omega Chi Sorority. The dance, the Peppermint Lounge, will be held in the dining hall at 8 p.m. on Friday, January 26. The Scepters, a well-known combo in Eastern North Carolina, will provide the music.

The Peppermint Lounge will fulfill the need for a mid-winter dance and will be one in which all the latest dances may be displayed by the different couples.

In the past years, Omega Chi has traditionally presented a Ring Dance; however, due to the changing modes in dancing, it has been decided that the dance be casual dress and informal in the introductions of the engaged couples, and in the entertainment.

During the intermission the engaged couples will be presented, and given a favor from the sorority. All couples who have been married or have become engaged in the past year and plan to attend the dance, are asked to contact the president, Nancy Roberson, or one of the members of the sorority.

The admission to the Peppermint Lounge will be $1 per couple or $.75 stag.

hearing the minutes of the last meeting, Jeff Adams, president called for the agenda. The first item presented was a discussion and vote on a homecoming queen candidate to represent the Co-op board. It was decided that since all constituent members separately sponsored a queen it would be impractical to have a candidate from the Co-op. Thus it was moved and carried that no homecoming queen be sponsored.

Editorship of the "Bulldog" was the second item presented; Pete Warren, administrative representative, petitioned the board to appoint two co-editors of the "Bulldog" and begin work on said pamphlet immediately to avoid the summer school rush. A plan for modernization and revamping of this booklet will be financed by the incorporation of some college administration information and advertisement in its content.

The point system problem placed third on the agenda; Sandra Freedman acknowledged severe opposition to an increase of point holdings and or grade requirements for an excess of activity points. Hence the present system must be strictly enforced to insure proper adherence to the original enactment. Club presidents will receive forms on which to acknowledge members, etc.

Mr. Warren announced that he could find no official record of the point system excepting its tabulation in the "Bulldog". According to Mr. Warren it is not in the constitution. Mickey Hayes appealed for a certain standard of petitioning the board for excess points and Peggy Bivins questioned the entire purpose of the point system as to its original purpose. Hatton Hodges pointed out that the whole problem of excess points was centered around the six major offices on campus, i.e. Editor of the Collegiate, President of the Co-op., etc., and any legislative changes should be directed around these offices. Bob Stone called for further study and the discussion was then closed.

The final item on Monday's agenda was presented by J. Kelly Adams who called for the creation of a "dead week" prior to each exam week. This motion was accepted as effective spring semester and clearly passed the board on a majority vote.

Campus Christian Association Plans Religious Emphasis Week

One of the most anticipated events on campus each year is the Religious Emphasis Week. This year, RE week will run from March 5 through 9. The speaker for the occasion will be Dr. Glenn C. Routt, assistant professor of theology at Brite College of the Bible, Texas Christian University.

At present, the Campus Christian Association is busy making further plans for the week. As usual, there will be worship services, discussion groups, and socials. The week will also include one or more presentations of religious drama.

At the request of the CCA, this is all of the information to be revealed at present. However, as the event draws nearer, much more information will be made available to the student body concerning the speaker and events of the week. It is hoped that each student will be willing to participate and make Religious Emphasis Week the high point of the campus religious year.
