

The Collegiate

PUBLISHED WEEKLY

ATLANTIC CHRISTIAN COLLEGE, APRIL 5, 1963

NUMBER TWENTY-ONE

Disciplinary Problems Are Deliberated

The Executive Board held its regular weekly meeting in the Classroom Building Monday night. During their meeting they discussed the present Honor system policy of the college and the prospects of developing a new system. Also during the meeting they discussed plans for the Executive Board to meet with the Board of Trustees.

President E. B. Shearin announced that the disciplinary problems were becoming more and more pronounced on and off campus. He commented that the problem of drinking has been on the increase and that something must be done to curtail the problem. Poor conduct in the Dining Hall has also gotten out of hand. Breaking - in - line, stealing silverware and the throwing of food during meals was elaborated on by Mr. Pete Warren as being a serious problem. Cheating on classwork was also mentioned as being a threat to the academic standards of the college.

In response to hearing the many problems that have arisen on the campus a motion was made as follows: A committee will be organized made up of the President of the Co-op, Men's Dorm Association Day Student representative, and a member of the Interfraternity Council to begin work on a definite Honor policy at Atlantic Christian College. If work is not completed by the time new officers take over, the officers installed in these positions for 1963-64 will continue this work.

Music Education Workshop Is Set At AC College

In order to bring together teachers and musicians in Eastern North Carolina who are concerned with the opportunities being given young people today, the Music Department and the Education Department of Atlantic Christian College are sponsoring a Music Education Workshop on April 5-6.

Featured speaker at the event will be Dr. Irving Wolfe, nationally known music educator, author, lecturer and member of the faculty at George Peabody College for Teachers in Nashville, Tenn.

Dr. Wolfe will speak on the evening of April 5 on the value of music in the experience of young people. Those attending will also hear a concert by music students of Atlantic Christian College.

On the morning of April 6 there will be workshop sessions for piano teachers, elementary teachers, vo-

See MUSIC Page 4

SNEA Members Attend Convention In Asheville

The 79th Annual North Carolina Education Association Convention was held in Asheville, North Carolina on March 21-22, and 23. The theme for the convention was "Learning: Passport to Freedom." Jackie Rivenbark, Anna Peele, Inez Sasser, Mary Allen, Billy Kilpatrick, Dr. and Mrs. St. John represented Atlantic Christian College at the convention.

The convention began with a luncheon at Hotel Battery Park in Asheville on March 22. The speaker for the noon session was Dr. Joseph E. Bryson from Appalachian State Teachers College in Boone. After Dr. Bryson's speech, nominations were made for the state officers of the SNEA.

THE QUEEN COMMANDS—Shown above is a scene from the fourth act of George Bernard Shaw's "Caesar and Cleopatra," which will be presented in Howard Chapel, Friday night, April 5, at 8:15 p.m. Stage and Script won two awards with the presentation of this play at the Carolina Dramatics Association district drama festival. Also to be presented on the same program will be "A Child's Garden of Verses." Pictured above from left to right are: Bruce Turner, Dottie Wyman, Lynn Norfleet, and Barbara Llewellyn.

Two One-Act Plays Presented Tonight

Two one act plays Child's Garden of Curses and Caesar and Cleopatra will be presented by the Stage and Script Friday evening at 8:15 p. m. in Howard Chapel. This is the second presentation of the Vaudeville one act play Child's Garden of Curses written by Cecil Willis. The cast is composed of Robert Royall, Zeb Zones, Fred Barber, Jim Burroughs, Arthur Pritchard, Barbara Llewellyn, Ann Hayes, Paul Wilson, and Snki Glenn.

The fourth act of Caesar and Cleopatra written by George Bernard Shaw will be the second play presented. Characters are: Robert Royall as Caesar, Lyn Norfleet as Cleopatra, Cecil Willis as Pothinus, Jim Burroughs as Rufio, James Barber as Appollodorus, Sandra Freedman as Ftataetea, Tod Johnston as Lucius Septimius, Barbara Llewellyn as Charmain, Cherylyn Arnold as Iras, John Grady as the musician, James Pollard as Britannus, Fred Barbour as Major Domo, Mary Lu Webb and June Burwell as the slave girls, and Dorthey Wyman as the harp girl.

Junior High Band Clinic Held At ACC March 29

Over 100 instrumentalists from 25 eastern North Carolina bands arrived on Atlantic Christian College campus Saturday, March 29 to attend the Third Annual Eastern N. C. Junior High School Band Clinic sponsored by the ACC Department of Music.

Among those participating in the clinic were members of bands from Elm City Junior High, Dunn Junior High, New Bern Junior High, Charles L. Coon Junior High, Rocky Mount Junior High, Farmville Junior High, Camp Lejeune Junior High, Kinston Junior High, Washington (N.C.) Junior High, Emporia, Va., Junior High, Tarboro Junior

Issues Given By Candidates For President

Elections for the office of president of the co-operative association were held on Wednesday and Thursday, April 3 and 4. This week's issue of the COLLEGIATE is unable to carry the results of the election because of a press deadline, but will carry the full story next week.

On Tuesday of this week, each candidate presented his platform and

Fleming, Elmore Attend Gathering

The Future Business Leaders of Beta Lambda business fraternity of North Carolina held the annual State Convention at the Jack Tar Durham Hotel in Durham March 29-31.

Following registration in the hotel, a series of events including nominations for State offices, campaign speeches, elections, group discussions, exhibits of economic trends, chapter scrapbooks, a Business Show of modern office machines, a banquet, dance, installation service and a speech by the Secretary of Commerce, former Governor Luther H. Hodges.

Diane Price Fleming, Vice President of the Atlantic Christian Phi Beta Lambda chapter and Sheryl Elmore, Treasurer of the local chapter attended the convention as delegates from ACC.

election ideas before a meeting of the entire student body. Tom Pippin opened up the speeches with a group of promises to try and alleviate such problems as the Day Student apathy, the cafeteria situation, and the unwanted title "suitecase college". Mr. Pippin suggested such activities as dances and concerts could help to keep students on campus on weekends and increase interest in campus activities. He also mentioned that he would continue to work for such co-operative measures between the college and the city of Wilson as a student discount service.

The second speaker, Maurice "Pancho" Belanger revealed his plans for a program of revitalization and progress for the "new Atlantic Christian College". Pancho commented on such issues as need for better organization among the day students and a paved parking lot, plus better all-around parking facilities. He further indicated that he was interested in, and would continue to work for, a student center on campus.

The third speaker, Mr. Fred Ayscue, presented a varied platform which called for such measures as

See ISSUES Page 4

Local SNEA Hears President Of CTA

The Clyde A Erwin Chapter of the Student National Education Association met in the Rec. Room of Harper Hall on March 28, 1963. The meeting was called to order by the President, Jackie Rivenbark and the devotion was given by Carolyn Anthony.

The guest speaker for the meeting was Mrs. Anna Neese, President of North Carolina Classroom Teachers Association. Mrs. Neese spoke on "What You Can Expect in a Classroom?" She told the group that a teacher deals with individuals in her work. She not only teaches the student, but is a friend, who can share his problems.

Mrs. Neese said, "Joy and work go hand in hand to make teaching what it is. The teaching world is full of a number of things." She also pointed out that a teacher is a friend, artist, prophet, reformer, citizen, builder, and a planner.

BAND CLINIC—Some 110 musicians from 25 Eastern North Carolina bands traveled to Wilson Saturday to attend the 1963 Eastern North Carolina Junior High School Band Clinic. Shown above are members of the clinic band as they worked out during morning rehearsal. I. T. Begsrud of Portsmouth, Va., was guest conductor. Activities of the day culminated in a 7:45 p.m. concert at the Ralph L. Fike Senior High School auditorium.