Poster Displays To Be Regulated By Exec Board

The Executive Board of the Co-operative Association at Atlantic Christian College, at its regular meeting Monday night, adopted several regulations governing the display of posters on campus.

Heretofore, persons with posters pertaining to employment or placement are to go through the office of the Dean of Students for instructions.

All organizations are asked to keep the size of their posters "within reason" because of limited bulletin board space. Posters may be placed on the bulletin boards in the Bohunk, the Classroom Building and Science Building. Posters may also be placed in resident halls providing permission has been obtained from the supervisor of the resident hall. Only one poster is allowed per bulletin board.

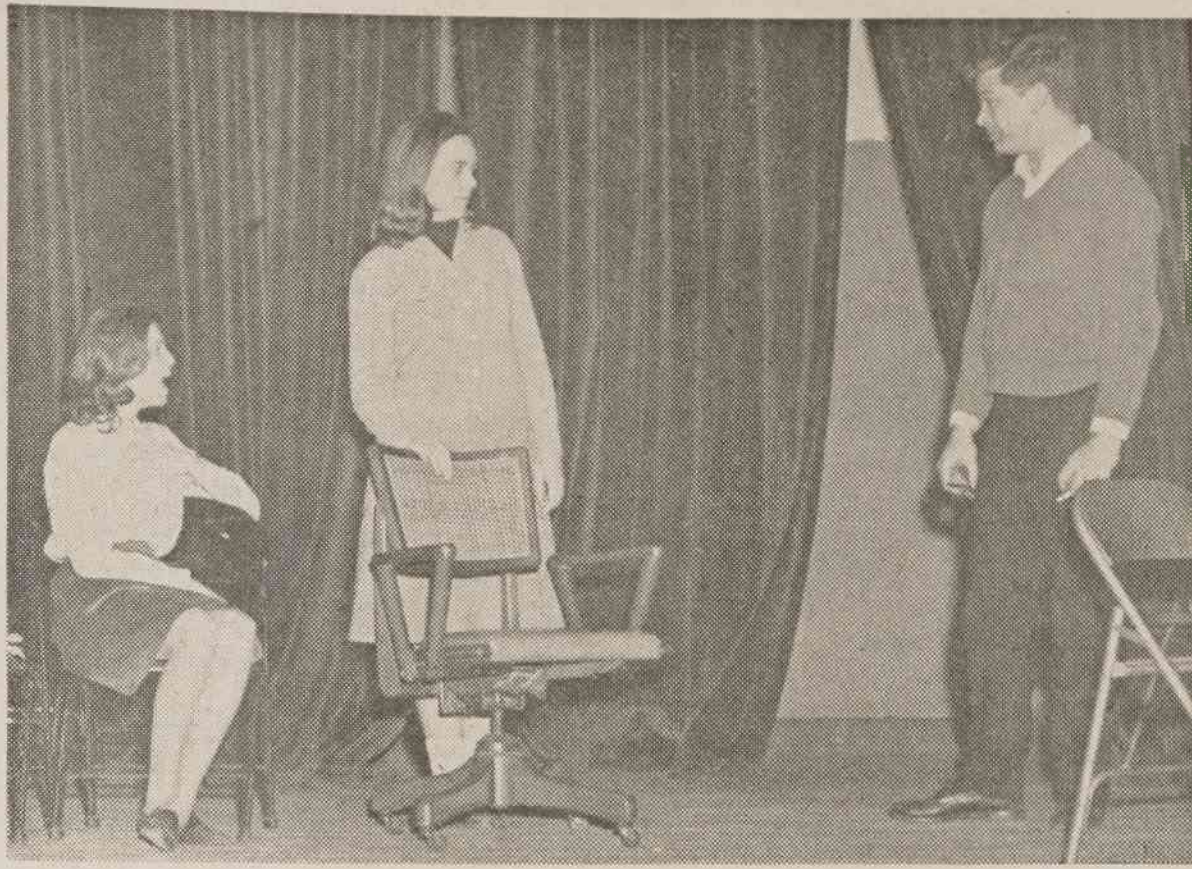

Furthermore, posters will not be allowed in the Administration Building, in classrooms unless they pertain to that class, in or on the Chapel unless they relate to programs in the Chapel, in the library unless they pertain to physical education or intramurals, or on trees or shrubbery.

In addition, no chalk, paint or similar substance will be allowed on sidewalks or buildings. No posters shall be placed on the glass on the front of the Classroom Building or on the cafeteria doors.

Also, no poster will be allowed on campus for more than two weeks before the event which it announces. Posters must be removed within 24 hours following the event and the group must be responsible for removing the poster.

Cookie Wickham introduced a resolution pertaining to the election of campus queens to be submitted for a vote before the entire student body and if passed to be placed in the By-Laws of the Constitution.

The resolution stated that future competitive events, only one title of a campus queen can be bestowed upon a competing campus co-ed within an academic year.

Stage And Script To Perform Play On Feb. 27 And 28

On Thursday and Friday, February 27th and 28th, Stage and Script will present the famous British mystery "Night Must Fall" in Howard Chapel at 8:15 p.m. This play is one of the most famous psychological murder plays and was produced in London and New York with great success. Its author is Emlyn Williams, one of the leading modern English playwrights, whose "The Corn Is Green" was produced several years ago by Stage and Script to great campus acclaim.

In the play it is no secret that Danny, a bell hop who arrives at the Bramson bungalow, has already murdered one woman, and there is little doubt that he will soon murder another — the wealthy and aged Mrs. Bramson. He gradually insinuates himself into her affections in a skillful manner, at the same time managing to prevent her niece — who has guessed his previous connections with murder — from giving him away. For Dan is a dashing young assassin whom she firmly believes she hates, but as a matter of fact she is fascinated by him beyond measure. Dan is a completely selfish, self-centered psychopath with no feelings and a vast imagination, who is perpetually acting for his own edification the part of a murderer, and is only unhappy because he cannot share his secret with the world. The last act is filled with excitement as the audience is kept guessing as to whether or not he will succeed in his plan to murder his benefactress.

The role of Danny has been played by several of the best young American actors in the professional theater and in 1937 Robert Montgomery won an Academy Award for See STAGE & SCRIPT Page 4

'Winter Rally' Is Planned By College Young Democrats

College Young Democrats from throughout North Carolina will gather in Raleigh, Friday and Saturday, February 21 and 22, 1964 at the Hotel Sir Walter for a Winter Rally of their federation (Students from those schools who do not presently have a YD club on their campus have been extended a special invitation to attend.) Over 100 college YD's are expected to attend.

Featured speakers will include: National Young Democratic President J. Alert House, Jr. of Roanoke Rapids, who is the first North Carolinian ever to head the national organization; assistant Postmaster General Richard Murphy, a Chapel Hill and a former president of the National Student Association; State YDC President Thomas O. Gilmore, who at 27 is the youngest person ever to head the Tarheel organization; and members of the Council of State along with other party officials.

A special feature of the program includes the appearance of Tarheel gubernatorial candidates Beverly Lake, Dan K. Moore, and Richardson Preyer on Saturday morning. Each will address the gathering and answer questions.

Also to be considered at the rally are several resolutions pertaining to the Civil Rights bill now before the Congress and a plan to realign voting within the structure of the Federation.

Registration fee for the rally is $3.00. The rally will end at noon Saturday following a luncheon. It will begin at 7:30 p.m. Friday, February 21, with registration opening at 5 p.m. College students from every college in the state are urged to attend.

Students from Atlantic Christian College who will attend the meeting are Robert Royall, Brent Hill Stuart Lee and Willard Strickland.

Greek Week To Be March 17-21 At ACC

The Interfraternity Council will sponsor its annual Greek Week from March 16-21. This week is honoring the Greeks on campus, and many activities are scheduled.

The week begins with a Carnival held on campus. Each sorority and fraternity will have a booth. The proceeds will go to the IFC.

Wednesday night, there will be a Greek Sing in the Chapel. Each group enters two songs, one of them being their own sorority or fraternity song. A trophy will be

New York Brass Quintet Scheduled To Perform

The only ensemble of its kind concertizing regularly throughout the world, the New York Brass Quintet which will perform at Fike High School on Sunday February 23, at 3:30 was formed over seven years ago by a highly skilled group of instrumentalists. All graduates of Juilliard School of Music, its members had acquired both enormous experience and enviable prestige as individual performers in orchestras headed by such notables as Stokowski, Reiner, Stravinsky, Casals, and Bernstein.

Yet these superbly trained players felt a need to express themselves as individuals rather than as participants in a large orchestral body. Realizing that since the Second World War there had been a rapid growth of interest in brass music, the five instrumentalists decided to form a team, to recreate both the older Renaissance and baroque music for brasses and to establish a new chamber music for themselves. To this end, they have succeeded admirably.

Armed with two trumpets (Robert Nagel and Ted Weis), French horn (Paul Ingraham), trombone (John Swallow), and tuba (Harvey Phillips), the New York Brass Quintet has achieved an amazing record.

THE NEW YORK BRASS QUINTET will perform at Fike High School on Sunday, February 23 at 3:30. Its members are all graduates of Juilliard School of Music.
