"Night Must Fall"

The final performance of Stage and Script's presentation of the famous British mystery "Night Must Fall", will be held tonight in Howard Chapel. This play is one of the most famous psychological murder plays and was produced in London and New York with great success. The play is being directed by Mr. Cecil Willis.

Records have sold in the millions, love their work to the point where it is not actually work at all. When they're not singing on stage, they're more than likely off in a corner singing for pure enjoyment. They rehearse no matter where they are and usually end up singing for a group of fascinated fellow travelers.

Peace Corps Official Visits Students Here

On Monday of this week A. C. was host to John McGinn, a regional representative of the Peace Corps. Mr. McGinn is a former Peace Corps volunteer, and has just recently returned to the U. S. after spending two years in Ghana teaching high school.

During the day on campus Mr. McGinn spoke in a number of classes, and during the lunch hour he was present in the Bohunk to discuss the Peace Corps with interested students.

Later that evening, the Executive Board and its guests held a dinner party for Mr. McGinn at The Wilsonian. In an after dinner speech, Mr. McGinn said that the Peace Corps has now advanced from being an experiment to the point where there are now 7000 volunteers in 48 countries. He said it is the hope of the Peace Corps to have 12,000 volunteers by the end of the summer.

Mr. McGinn went on to say that the main idea of the Peace Corps was to supply skilled people to countries for growth. He said that the success of the program was probably due to the fact that the volunteers work as individuals with something to give to the people, and not as representatives of the American government. He said that under these conditions mutual respect and understanding is quickly gained and held between the volunteers and the people.

Mr. McGinn concluded his remarks by saying that America must take a real interest in the rest of the world, and learn through mutual respect and understanding what there is in order to carry active leadership of the free world.

After dinner a film about the work of the Peace Corps was shown in the main lecture room in the Science Building, and Mr. McGinn was there to answer the questions which arose.

The Lettermen Scheduled To Make Appearance At AC

The Lettermen boast one of the freshest, most magnificent vocal blends of any group in the entertainment field, and the sound has brought them almost instantaneous success.

Individually, Tony Butala, Jim Pike, and Bob Engermann had been group vocalists for some time, Tony singing in a quartet and Jim and Bob in trios. Tony and Jim met during a shift in one of the vocal groups that brought Him to audition for Tony's group. It was at this time that Jim told Tony he had only once previously run into someone with whose voice his blended so well. His name was Bob Engermann. They had met at Brigham Young University. When the group disbanded, Tony and Jim decided to go to California to find Bob. Thus was born "The Lettermen."

The boys try to fill the current entertainment gap by giving the public, adults, as well as the youngsters, what they want to hear. The Lettermen blend their voices on the old, standard ballads in combination with today's new instrumentation. They sing folk songs, old songs, new songs but always in their style.

LETTERMEN — The Lettermen will appear Thursday, March 5, at eight o'clock P.M. in Wilson Gymnasium on campus. Tickets are presently being sold by various members of the Co-Operative Association. The Lettermen are being jointly sponsored by The Co-Operative Association and The Concert and Assembly Committee. Tickets are being sold for seventy-five cents.
