

Brass Ensemble To Give Concerts At High Schools

The Atlantic Christian College Brass Ensemble will give concerts for band students at eight Eastern North Carolina high schools during a special tour to be held on March 24 and 25.

The ACC Brass Ensemble, under the direction of Neal O'Neal, is composed of first chair players from the ACC Concert Band. Since its organization in 1961, the ensemble has given performances in several schools, churches and civic organizations in Eastern North Carolina. Its repertory includes selections, both sacred and secular, from all the major periods of music history.

Members of the ensemble are: Rebecca Lennon of Washington, N. C., first cornet; George Richman of Wilson, second cornet; Charles Burt of Wilson, French horn; Marcus Hamilton of Lexington, trombone; and Larry Respass of Wilson, tuba.

All programs will be presented during the regular band rehearsal periods, thereby providing high school musicians with a more personal acquaintance with at least one facet of the instrumental music program at Atlantic Christian College.

Miss Lennon is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Lennon of 115 E. 4th St., Washington, N. C.

Richman is son of Mr. and Mrs. George Rickman of 306 Daniel St., Wilson.

Burt is son of Dr. and Mrs. Milard P. Burt of 5204 Ramsey St., Fayetteville, N. C.

Hamilton is son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hamilton of 13 Harrington Ave., Lexington, N. C.

Respass is son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Respass of 1309 N. Rountree St., Wilson.

Dr. C. C. Ware Is Responsible For Disciplina Library At ACC

One of the most valuable collections of history of the Disciples of Christ is located in the Carolina Disciplina Room of the C. L. Hardy Library at Atlantic Christian College. Containing some 16,000 volumes and bound periodicals, it is the only considerable collection of Disciplina on the eastern coast of the United States.

The Disciplina Library is in existence today due to 39 years of diligent research, hunting and writing by Dr. Charles Crossfield Ware, curator of the collection. Assembling the treasure has not been an easy task. Dr. Ware often traveled hundreds of miles at a time seeking material. He has been required to pay up to $300 for a small set of books, while others were obtained at very little or no cost. His search has taken him from New York book stores to attics. Most of the time he found people very helpful.

A large portion of the volumes and documents are extremely rare, many dating back to the 17th century. Perhaps one of the most prized volumes of the collection is the 1738 edition of "The History of the English Baptist," by Thomas Crosby.

The Disciplina is a virtual gold mine for those doing research on the Disciples of Christ. Researchers have come from many states and found the Disciplina invaluable. One Atlantic Christian College professor, while working on his Ph. D. degree at Yale University, used many of the books in the collection because he could not find the material elsewhere.

There is also a great deal of material which would aid those seeking information on Baptist, Methodist and Quaker religions because of their earlier involvement with the Disciples. Among the collection of documents are minutes of the First North Carolina Baptist Convention and the first Kentucky Baptist Con-

Past Presidents To Speak At Graduation Exercises

Two former presidents of Atlantic Christian College, both outstanding in the fields of religion and education, will return to the campus to participate in the 62nd Annual Commencement to be held on May 24.

Dr. Travis A. White, now president of Midwestern University, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon. Dr. James M. Moudy, vice chancellor for academic affairs and dean of the Graduate School, Texas Christian University, will give the commencement address.

During commencement exercises both will be conferred with the LL.D. (Doctor of Laws) degrees by Atlantic Christian.

Dr. White served as president of Atlantic Christian College from 1953 through 1956. He was awarded the A.B. degree by Texas Christian University in 1932, the B.D. degree in 1934 and the D.D. degree by Texas Christian in 1948. He was ordained as a minister in the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) in 1927. He became president of Midwestern University in 1956. He is married to the former Miss Evalyn May Van Keuren.

Dr. Moudy served as president of Atlantic Christian College in 1953 and 1956. He was awarded the A. B. degree by Texas Christian University in 1943 and the B. D. degree in 1949. He received the Ph. D. degree at Duke University where he was named to Phi Beta Kappa. He was ordained as a minister in the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) in 1943. He served as dean at Atlantic Christian from 1953 through 1957. He is married to the former Miss Lucille Lauritzen.

Greeks Receive Numerous Awards At Dinner-Dance

By DAVID WEBB

Every year to highlight Greek Week, each member of the IFC participates in the activities created by the Greeks. This year Omega Chi walked off with the top honors for the sororities winning in the singing, stunt, and scholarship divisions. The Sig Eps, brothers of Omega Chi held superior in the divisions of scholarship and singing for the fraternities. Not to be outdone by the Sig Eps, the Delta Sigs triumph the coveted honors for the fraternities in the stunt and talent awards. Showing gifted with talent, Phi Sigma Tau ranked as the number one sorority.

The Greeks on this campus should be acknowledged for their continued support in creating activities for this college. They are a vital asset to the social life of this campus, as well as contributing to the student government.

Dr. Erick C. Rust Speaks At College

Dr. Erick C. Rust, professor of Christian Philosophy at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary at Louisville Ky. and author of many religious books was guest speaker at the First Baptist Church on Tuesday.

Dr. Rust was sponsored by the Baptist Student Union at Atlantic Christian college and will be speaking at several colleges and universities in North Carolina in the next few weeks.

Dr. Rust addressed the faculty and students at ACC at 10:20 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. Tuesday.

N. C. College Students Given Opportunity To Work For Johnson's War On Poverty

This summer marks a real landmark in the lives of the college students of the Tar Heel State. This summer for the first time students will make a concentrated effort on the tremendous poverty which marks the many backward areas of North Carolina.

The majority of this work will be done in connection with the North Carolina Fund. The head of this fund is Jim Beatty, famous track star who has brought much glory to our nation.

This is the first concentrated effort on the nation's poverty since the famous CCC of President Roosevelt. The campaign is not only in North Carolina but all over the nation. The North Carolina Fund is part of President Johnson's War on Poverty.

Any Student in any North Carolina college or university is eligible to volunteer for summer work on the project. One hundred volunteers are needed in North Carolina. They will be spread into ten selected areas to combat the poverty of that area. Each participant will be given room, board, and $250 for the eleven weeks of the program. The volunteers will live in college dormitories in the community, or with families who are residents.

Any students who are interested in applying for this program may get their information sheets and application forms from Maurice Ballinger at the office of the Cooperative Association.

For anyone who is going into social work, or any other type of community improvement work, this offer is invaluable. Where else can one get this type of on-the-job training, and get paid for it at the same time?

Jane Reynolds Chosen For NFT Regional Contest

Jane Reynolds, a special student from Clinton, North Carolina, has been chosen as one of three winners in the Eastern North Carolina National Federation of Teachers of Singing auditions which were held at the Music Building on Saturday, March 14th.

As a winner in these auditions, Mrs. Reynolds will go to Converse College in Spartanburg, South Carolina for the regional auditions where she will compete with other finalists in her division.

Mrs. Reynolds will prepare a thirty minute program from which the judges will chose several numbers to be heard and criticized. James Cobb and Mrs. Cobb will also go to Converse where he will accompany Mrs. Reynolds at the auditions.

Mrs. Reynolds is a transfer student from Converse College, and is majoring in voice performance.

1964 Symposium Announces Topic

Next April, during the week of the fifth through the ninth, the 1964 Carolina Symposium will sponsor another of its biennial presentations. This spring's topic will be "Arms and the Man: National Security and the Aims of a Free Society." This will be the thirteenth Symposium since its beginnings as the Institute of Human Relations in 1927. The Symposium is the oldest collegiate group of its nature in the country today.

The 1964 Carolina Symposium will explore the nature of these Cold War demands and seek to assess the effects of the requirements of collective security on individual freedom and democratic values. The Symposium will indicate not only how the political, economic, social, and cultural life of the United States has been changed by the nation's defense effort, but it will attempt to point up the directions in which these basic elements of American civilization are being moved.

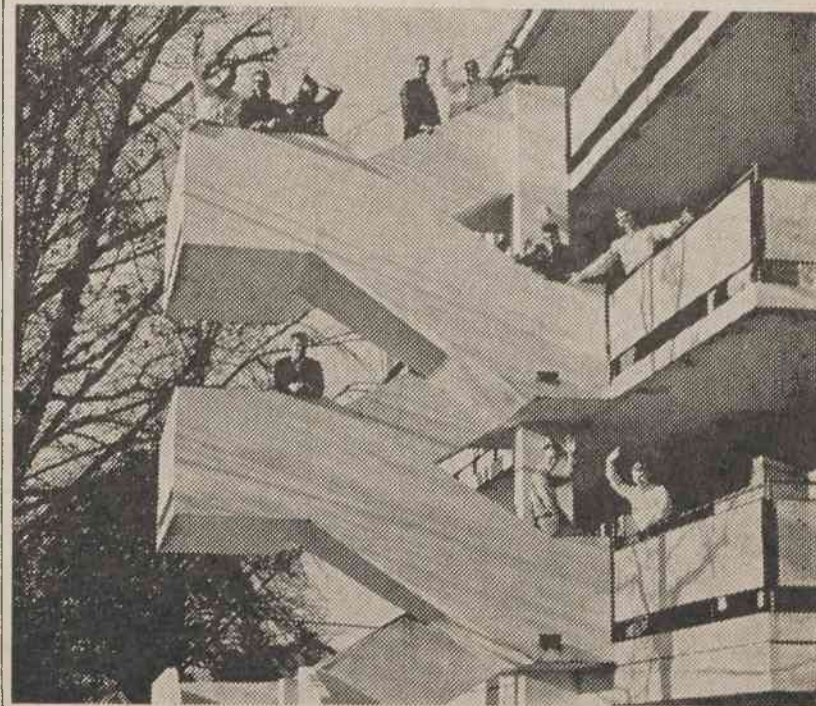

There will be a number of noted speakers at the Symposium including Senator William Fulbright, Senator John Sherman Cooper, Hans Morgenthau, William S. Barnes, and David Brinkley.

Carolyn Sams Wins '64 Sertoma Award

Miss Carolyn D. Sams has been named recipient of the Sertoma Scholarship for the spring semester at Atlantic Christian College.

The Sertoma Scholarship, in the amount of $100, is awarded each year to a qualified graduating senior of Ralph L. Fike High School, by the Sertoma Club of Wilson. It is awarded at the rate of $50 per semester. Recipients are chosen on the basis of academic achievement, financial need, and exemplification of the Sertoma motto, "Service to Mankind."

Miss Sams is daughter of Maj. and Mrs. Charles Sams, 1104 West Vance St., Wilson. She is a freshman at ACC majoring in mathematics.

Where the boys are! Seen above are the many sunbathers on the roof of Hackney Hall. Since the weather has broken, many of the boys have come out of hibernation to soak up a few rays. Note the guards posted on the stairways and landings to warn the sunbathers of the impending danger of prowling deans.
