Collegiate Editor Elected To Exec Board Of USSPA

Brent Hill, editor of The Collegiate, has been elected to the National Executive Board of the United States Student Press Association.

Hill was elected at a closing session of USSPA's third annual National Congress of the Student Press, held Aug. 11-15 at the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis.

USSPA has nearly 250 member newspapers, including most of the college dailies, and is the largest student press federation in the world. It is the official representative of the U. S. college press to the United States Youth Council, the World Assembly of Youth, and the International Student Press Conference.

H. Nell Berkson, editor of The Michigan Daily, student newspaper at the University of Michigan was elected USSPA president. Hugh Stevens of the North Carolina Daily Tar Heel was elected as one of two national affairs vice presidents.

ACC Represented At USNSA Congress

By SAMMY JONES

Atlantic Christian College was again well represented at the National Student Congress of the United States National Student Association (USNSA) held at the University of Minnesota on Aug. 16-27.

Voting delegates attending the meeting from Atlantic Christian were Lee Horne and Sammy Jones. "Cookie" Wickham and Brent Hill served as alternates.

Among highlights of the 11-day meeting were discussions of various issues and the consideration of the controversial "Columbia Resolution."

Throughout the Congress delegates and alternates attended seminars, group discussions, and plenary sessions delving into such issues as civil rights, academic freedom, and academic reform. The Codification of Policy, which contains all resolutions, mandates, and policy declarations of the Congress, was the result of work on these issues.

Perhaps the most controversial issue before the body was the "Co-

Exec Board Holds First Session

The first meeting of the Executive Board of the Cooperative Association for this academic year was held Monday night in the Classroom Building.

After the meeting had been called to order Kathern Webb, Day Student Representative, said that as a result of the spring elections, which brought her the positions of Day Student Representative, Head Cheerleader, and Treasurer of the Junior Class, she did not feel that she had enough time to continue as Day Student Representative, and asked to resign from the Board. Richard Surles, Vice president, moved that the Board accept Miss Webb's resignation, and the motion passed.

Paul Donnelly, Co-chairman of the Concert and Assembly Committee, reported that 900 seats would be available in the Gymnasium for the appearance of the Four Freshmen on September 29. He urged the Board to promote the appearance as much as possible.

Dean Robert Bennett reported that a request by the Board asking him to bring to the attention of the Administrative Council the poor situation of telephones in the Men's and Women's Dormitories had not been acted upon during the summer since the Council was not an official body at that time. He said that he would bring up the situation at the next meeting of the Administrative Council.

Stuart Lee, Sophomore President, moved that the Board accept the National Student Association Coordinator, Sammy Jones, as an ex-officio member of the Executive Board. The motion passed, and the Board adjourned.

Artist's Conception Of New Dorm

Construction to Begin on New Dormitory for Women in 1965

A new five-story women's dormitory to house 144 women students is to be the first of three new buildings scheduled for construction on the Atlantic Christian College campus in 1965, according to President Arthur D. Wenger.

Designed on a plan for "group living," the structure will contain nine suites, each with accommodations for 16 women.

Each floor, with the exception of the ground floor, will contain two suites with central lounge areas as well as storage facilities. There will be an outside balcony for each floor and elevators as well as stairways will connect the floors.

The ground floor will have an additional suite as well as an apartment for the resident counselor. There also will be guest facilities and a recreation area on the ground floor.

The building will be constructed along contemporary lines to blend with the latest architecture on the campus.

The new dormitory is part of the phase of the college's 15-year development plan. Drawings for a new art building and the first unit of a new physical education plant are well under way.

Construction will begin in early 1965 and the dormitory is expected to be ready for occupancy during the summer or fall terms of 1966.

Frosh Orientation Success

By LYN HEAD

One of the most eventful weeks of the year for the college freshman is the week of orientation. For the Atlantic Christian College freshman this tradition certainly held true to form this year and was very eventful.

The week of orientation actually began on Wednesday, September 9 with the arrival of 38 upper classmen who returned to aid with the orientation programs. Their capacities branched from professor assistants to counselors in registration and occasionally moral supporters.

The freshmen arrived in all their glory — and rain — on Thursday beginning at 12 o'clock noon. Hectic the day was, but one to be long remembered. In the evening there was a buffet dinner for them in the college cafeteria, followed by "getting to know you" games and a welcome meeting of the Campus Christian Association.

Friday the orientation program really got underway at 9 o'clock with a student assembly opened by the College Chaplain, Dan Hensley. Other college officials were present for this assembly, including President Arthur Wenger.

Registration filled and confused the day considerably for freshman on Friday. The process was, for the most part, completed by 5:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The evening meant free time for everyone and a chance to relax and get settled.

On Saturday the freshman were busy with testing administered by Dean Bennett and student aids. Saturday evening the new class was entertained by a dance in the classroom building and music by the Sardams.

A worship service was held Sunday morning in Howard Chapel by Chaplain Hensley. During the afternoon, transfer students arrived on campus but were settled in their new homes in time to attend a very gala reception at the home of President and Mrs. Arthur D. Wenger in the evening.

The very gracious hostess, Mrs. Wenger, greeted her guests and in turn introduced them to her husband which began the receiving line of faculty and student officials. Refreshments were served in the dining area and games were set up in

Cheerleaders

All coeds interested in trying out for ACC cheerleader will meet in the gym at 6 p.m. Monday, September 28. Please wear bermudas.

REGISTRATION DAY IS TOUGH for students and teachers alike. The usual long line formed in front of the Administration Building. The youngster pictured above was not attempting to register for the class of '81, but was waiting patiently for his mom to hold his pop's place in line while he made housing arrangements in town.

THE FOUR FRESHMEN will appear on the Atlantic Christian College campus on Sept. 29. The group will perform in the gymnasium. Tickets will cost students $1. Charge to non-students will be $2.
