SSL Bill Is Presented

Editor's Note: This is the bill that ACC will present at the SSL Convention in Raleigh in February.

A BILL TO BE ENTITLED THE 1966 UNLIMITED EDUCATION ACT OF NORTH CAROLINA.

The State Student Legislature of North Carolina do enact:

Section 1. That the state include in its public education program two years of education beyond high school without tuition. That such additional opportunity be offered through the addition of two grades to the present high school Curriculum or through the establishment of a community college in that county. That these two additional years of education shall include both subjects that will transfer to an accredited four-year college, technical or industrial training school.

Section 2. That the state prohibit any minor from dropping out of high school until said person is eighteen years of age, and then only with parental permission.

Section 3. All laws and clauses of laws in conflict with this bill are hereby repealed; and, this bill shall be effective upon its ratification.

Parents Day Is Set For Feb. 6

Invitations are now being sent to parents of all Atlantic Christian College students inviting them to attend the college's fifth annual Parents' Day to be held on Sunday, Feb. 6.

Registration is to begin at 9:30 a.m. Parents have been invited to attend morning worship services at churches in Wilson with their sons and daughters. They will be guests at a luncheon to be held in the college gymnasium shortly after noon.

Open house is scheduled for the afternoon at which time they will have the opportunity to tour the campus and meet members of the college faculty and administrative staff.

One of the main highlights of the day will be an afternoon reception at the home of President and Mrs. Arthur D. Wenger. Students whose parents attend the day's activities are invited to attend the luncheon and reception.

Professor Sharp Lashes Out At Indifference Of ACC Students

By DR. ALLAN R. SHARP

There are some lines from "The Scholar Gypsy" by Matthew Arnold that haunt me.

And we
Light half-believers of our casual creeds,
Who never deeply felt, nor clearly willed,
Whose insight never has borne fruit in deeds,
Whose vague resolves never have been fulfilled;
For whom each year we see
Breeds new beginnings, disappointments new;
Who hesitate and falter life away,
And lose tomorrow the ground won today.

Sometimes I wonder if Matthew Arnold didn't have some association with an institution like Atlantic Christian College. It is the last line that really disturbs me for I feel that the general apathy displayed by students (and some faculty too) is losing the ground tomorrow that was won today.

Those of us who have been privileged to spend some years at A.C.C. are aware of the ground gained by those who have gone on before us and at some considerable cost to them too. Faith in an institution and the willingness to sacrifice for it has made it possible for us to be here today. Their legacy has been one of greatness of spirit. A.C.C. was their school! But what happened to this deep and abiding love and loyalty for the alma mater? Where oh where has it gone? Has it gone the way of all flesh?

What brings on this outburst of indignation, you ask? I'll be glad to tell you.

It is not any one thing but a conglomeration, all of which are symptomatic of what is happening. It is students who pretend a new kind of sophistication but who are really uncommitted to anything or any cause. It is empty seats at ball games, concerts, drama productions. It is students "who are neither hot nor cold", students whose lives are lived in "neither praise nor blame."

What can be done with our problem? I have a few suggestions. First, students should realize they come to college for an education not just a degree. Education takes place when there is a dialogue in class, not a professional monologue. My hat is off to any serious student but the serious student asks questions, he participates, he disagrees, he challenges, and he grapples with ideas.

Second, a student admitted here is not just admitted to the classroom but to the total community life of the college. Extracurricular education is as much a part of the educational process as is the classroom. One may not be a sports enthusiast but to be sure he must like something — art, drama, music. If one doesn't like any of these he has no right to call himself an educated person.

Third, students should begin to think in terms of committing themselves to something. If as we know it is the result of deep commitment on the part of a lot of people to whom we owe a great deal. If our children, and their children are to enjoy this rich heritage we must commit ourselves wholeheartedly to this cause of education and leave our contribution just as our ancestors have left theirs.

Exec Board Adopts Recommendation On New Drinking Rule

A recommendation for a change in the present ACC drinking rule was adopted by the Executive Board last Monday night. The recommendation was adopted after discussion on the matter was heard at last week's meeting.

The bill reads:

"A BILL TO BE ENTITLED A REVISION OF THE PRESENT RULE OF CONDUCT CONCERNING DRINKING."

"The Executive Board of the Student Government Association of Atlantic Christian College do recommend:

"Section 1. Drinking of intoxicants on campus or at campus organization sponsored functions will not be tolerated and all offenders will be subject to disciplinary action by the the College Discipline and Morale Committee.

"Section 2. Drinking of intoxicants will be permissible off campus as long as a seemly standard of conduct is maintained.

"Section 3. All rules and clauses of rules in conflict with this Bill are hereby repealed.

"Section 4. This Bill shall become effective upon its ratification by the Executive Board of the Student Government Association and the appropriate administrative officials."

In other business, Fred Snodgrass, chairman of the Campus Awareness Committee reported that some speakers had been scheduled.

David Marshburn, Food Service Committee, reported that at a recent meeting line breaking had been discussed and it was determined that this was mainly a problem of student morale and thereby out of the committee's hands. Marshburn requested that the Board grant the committee some funds so that more records for the cafeteria could be purchased.

Cookie Wickham, vice president, moved that twelve delegates be sent to represent ACC at the SSL Convention in Raleigh. The motion passed. The delegates selected were, David Webb, Jerry Carter, Carol Wells, Tommy Riley, John Gorham, David Griffin, Sarah Patterson, Richard Surles, Bobbie Ellis, Dwight Wagner, Marshall Smith, and Cookie Wickham.

Marshall Smith, senior senator, moved that all students not living in the dorms, annexes,

Sororities Rush Is Feb. Event

Irregular Classes & Others; 7:00-9:00, Friday Evening Classes.

On Saturday from 10:30 - 12:30, Saturday Morning Classes.

Examinations for classes which do not fit into the above schedule will be held from 3:15 to 5:15 on Friday, January 21.

There will be no exceptions made to the examination schedule except in the case of a student who might have as many as four examinations in one day. In that case, the student may arrange with the Dean of the College to change one of the examinations to a different day.

Students who fail courses in the fall semester are asked to make necessary schedule changes on the regular registration day, January 25. Consult the "Schedule of Classes" page 4 for "Drop-Add" procedures. Only schedule changes brought about because of failing grades will be accepted on January 26.

Bills and class tickets for second semester should be picked up during the week of exams (January 17-January 22).

Second semester rush for Atlantic Christian women will be held February 16th and 18th. All women interested in rushing are required to attend Convocation on Tuesday, February 1 in the chapel, during regular chapel period. Failure to attend Convocation will result in ineligibility to rush.

Informal rush will be from with the schedule as follows: 6:30 - 7:30 all girls will visit Delat Zeta in first floor Harper Hall; 7:30 - 8:30 all girls will visit Sigma Tau Chi in Vance Street House; 8:30 - 9:30 all girls will visit Sigma Sigma Sigma in Harper Hall Annex.

Invitation for formal rush on Thursday night will be issued on Wednesday from 12:00 - 1:30 in the lobby of the S. G. A. Building. Formal rush will be on Thursday night from 7:00 - 9:00 in the respective housing units.

Bids will be issued on Friday from 8:30 - 10:00 in the lobby of the S.G.A. Building.

Delta Zeta Will Sponsor Pine Knot Dance Jan. 28

By LAURA WOLFE

It is again time to mark your calander for an exciting and memorable event is approaching. This wonderful event is the annual Pine Knot Dance. The dance will be sponsored by the Theta Omega Chapter of Delta Zeta Sorority.

This dance will be held on Friday, January 28, 1966 immediately following semester break and beginning of second semester. It is to be conducted at the classroom building lobby during the hours of eight and twelve. Dress for this occasion will be semi-formal.

Tickets, which will be on sale in advance, are two dollars per couple and one dollar and a quarter per stag. With the prices as they are, the question may arise — Who is providing the music? This year, the Pine Knot dance was lucky in contracting the Cavaliers, a group of high-regarded singers from Dunn, N. C. The Cavaliers have provided background music for Martha and the Vandelles on several occasions and they have thrilled and serened many audiences with their cool songs and crazy beat. The complete set up will revolve around the theme of the Mardi Gras with plenty of decorations conveying the theme.

The whole highlight of this dance will be the crowning of the Miss Pine Knot. The candidates for this laurel will be presented during chapel on Thursday, January 27. The winner of this event will be crowned at intermission of the dance. Voting takes place in the Classroom Building lobby on Thursday, January 27 from 11:00 to 4:00 and continues on Friday from 8:00 to 4:00.

The Freshman Class has named its candidate to be Lynda Carr, a freshman from Farmville. Bobbie Ellis, a sophomore from Wilson, is the Sophomore Class's candidate for Miss Pine
