Internships Are Offered

Governor Dan K. Moore today urged college students interested in state government to apply for the 1966 Summer Internship program.

In announcing the 1966 summer program, Moore stated that twenty-five North Carolina college students will be selected to participate in the eleven-week program. Students will attend an orientation program and then work for ten weeks in selected state departments while attending evening classes on the North Carolina State campus.

To be eligible, students (1) must have satisfactorily completed three years of college, (2) must be residents of North Carolina, and (3) must be currently enrolled in a college or university either within or outside the state.

The State Internship program will begin June 7 and continue through August 19, 1966. Students will be paid $75.00 a week while employed.

Governor Moore stated that he had asked the Institute of Government to be responsible for administering the internship program. The Institute has been participating in the program since it was established in 1962. Students will be selected for the program by a committee including prominent professors of political science teaching in North Carolina colleges and universities.

Students interested in applying for the Internship Program may secure applications from college placement offices, departments of business, government, history, or political science in North Carolina colleges and universities, local offices of the N. C. Employment Security Commission, and the N. C. State Personnel Department.

Applications must be mailed to the Institute of Government, Chapel Hill before February 15, 1966.

Thanks Given

I wish to express my sincere thanks for all the cards, flowers and calls from the students while I was sick.

Cobb Completes Doctorate Degree At U. Of Illinois

James V. Cobb Jr., professor of music and chairman of the Department of Music at Atlantic Christian College, has recently completed requirements for the Doctor of Musical Arts (D.M.A.) degree at the University of Illinois. He will be awarded the degree by the University on Feb. 15, 1966. His doctoral dissertation was entitled "The 1583 Psalter of Paschal de L'Estocart."

A native of Memphis, Tenn., he is son of the late Rev. J. V. Cobb and Mrs. Cobb of Forrest City, Ark. He received the A. B. and B. Mus. degrees from Southwestern at Memphis and earned the M. A. degree at Boston University. He has done further study at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Prior to his coming to Atlantic Christian he served on the faculty of Flora Macdonald College.

Dr. Cobb is a member of the National Association of Teachers of Singing, the North Carolina Association of College Music Administrators, the North Carolina Music Teachers Association and the American Choral Directors Association.

A tenor, he has made a great number of concert and oratorio appearances and is a recording artist with the Educational Division of Columbia Records.

He is married to the former Miss Barbara Anne Hill of Graham. They have four children: three daughters, Beth, athy and Martha, and a son, Jamie. They are members of the First Christian Church of Wilson.

BOOTS, BOOTS, BOOTS—This was a very common sence on ACC's campus this week as the heavy snow of last week began to melt and turn to slush. Such footwear does much to draw attention to the pretty coeds of ACC.

College Preparatory Program Begins Fifth Year In Summer

Atlantic Christian College will hold its fifth College Preparatory Session from July 15 to August 19, 1966. The program has been held for the past four summers and college officials report that statistics indicate it has proved to be invaluable to participating students. In addition to academic gains, the program offers an opportunity for an early orientation to college life which makes the transition from high school to college less difficult.

Purpose of the program is to give students intensive instruction which provides the opportunity to improve those skills and techniques which experience indicates are areas of greatest weakness. While prior acceptance for fall enrollment by some college or university is recommended, such enrollment is not a prerequisite for participation in the preparatory program.

Instruction will be provided in reading, English and mathematics. Students will be provided with an opportunity to learn better work and study habits, to participate in supervised study and supervised recreation and gain an orientation to college life.

All courses will be on a non-credit basis and will be taught by a competent faculty. It should be clearly understood that successful completion of the program can in no way guarantee acceptance at any college or university.

The course in English will emphasize grammar, theme writing and correct oral expression. In the area of reading comprehension, vocabulary and increased speed are emphasized. A standardized reading test will be administered at the beginning to determine reading level, and at the conclusion a second test will be given to determine improvement.

In the area of mathematics, students will be offered a general survey of the fundamental concepts and techniques to include number systems, set theory, proof and functional relationships.

Remedial instruction will be available in areas of demonstrated deficiency.

A program of supervised recreation will be provided as an integral part of the preparatory program. Facilities of the Department of Health and Physical Education as well as community recreational opportunities, will be utilized.

AC Student Has Car Accident

Dan Quinn, a junior at Atlantic Christian College, was involved in a two car collision at Deans and Lee St. on Friday afternoon, January 14. The accident occurred at 3:15 p.m. Quinn, driving a 1963 Chevrolet, was proceeding south on Lee St. when struck by Mrs. Ann Evans of 1213 E. Nash St. at the intersection. Mrs. Evans, driving west on Deans St. in a 1963 Pontiac, said she had stopped at the stop sign at the intersection, and had seen nothing coming in either direction. Proceeding forward her car collided with Quinn's.

Officer D. R. Hayes of the Wilson Police Department investigating the accident said that $250 to $300 worth of damage had been done to both cars.

There were no charges made against either driver.

tory program. Facilities of the Department of Health and Physical Education as well as community recreational opportunities, will be utilized.

The program is primarily a resident program; however, some commuting students will be accepted. For further information and application forms write: Mr. E. D. Winstead, Director, CPP, Admissions Office, Atlantic Christian College, Wilson, N. C. 27893.

Dr. Swindell Says Days Missed Will Not Be Made-Up

The three days of classes that were missed last week because of heavy snow will not have to be made up according to Dr. Lewis Swindell, Dean of the College. Dr. Swindell stated that the official schedule of the college was flexible enough to absorb the lost time.

The big snowfall, which reached a total of nine inches in the Wilson area necessitated the calling of classes on Thursday, Friday and Monday of the past week. Many ACC students living outside of the state of North Carolina were stranded by even heavier snowfalls.

Approximately 100 to 150 students were here at the college during the layover and most of these people, as well as other students, were more than glad to start classes on Tuesday. Time was difficult to kill during this period, and the dorms were the scenes of many a bridge and poker game.

In his statement to the The Collegiate, Dr. Swindell said that classes would not be called as the result of any further snowfalls. He said that students living far away would not be expected to indanger themselves if they were not able to make a safe passage to and from the college.

Dr. Anderson Accepts Post

Dr. Walter W. Anderson Jr., of Wendell has been named assistant professor of history in the Department of Social Studies at Atlantic Christian College, according to Dr. Arthur D. Wenger, president of the college.

A native of Jetersville, Va., he received the B. A. degree from the University of Richmond, the B. D. degree from the College of the Bible (Lexington Theological Seminary), and was awarded the Ph. D. degree by St. Andrews University, Scotland. He has done further study at the University of Alabama and Phillips University at Marburg, Germany.

Dr. Anderson is married to the former Miss Eileen Fitzgerald of St. Andrews, Scotland. He is presently serving as pastor to the First Christian Church in Wendell. He will assume his duties at Atlantic Christian on Jan. 26, 1966.

Many Parents To Visit On ACC Campus

Several hundred parents of Atlantic Christian College students have made plans to attend the Fifth Annual Parents' Day to be held on the college campus Sunday, Feb. 6.

Following registration at 9:30 a.m., most will attend morning worship services at churches in Wilson with their children. The visitors will be guests of honor at a luncheon to be held in their honor in the college gymnasium at 12:30 p.m.

Main speaker will be David L. Cleveland, director of development at Atlantic Christian. Welcome from the students will be given by David Webb, president of the student body. Greetings will be delivered by M. Paul Dickerman, president of the Wilson Chamber of Commerce. Presiding over the program will be Dr. Arthur D. Wenger, president of the college. Entertainment for the event will be furnished by the Atlantic Christian College Chorus under direction of Dr.
