NUMBER TWENTY FIVE

College Band To Present Concert

Board Fails To Approve

At Monday night's Executive Board meeting the board members failed to approve the appointment of a student for the position of Student Coordinator.

In discussing this motion it was noted that the duties of the coordinator include attendings meetings of the National Student Association, State Student Legislature, and the Model UN. He also has the responsibility of getting students to participate in these organizations, and he must make the students aware of what benefits they obtain from these organizations.

One of the reasons stated for the board's not approving this appointment was because they felt they did not know enough about this student.

After this motion failed it was moved that the board recess for five minutes for the purpose of considering what further action should be taken concerning the appointment of a Student Coordinator.

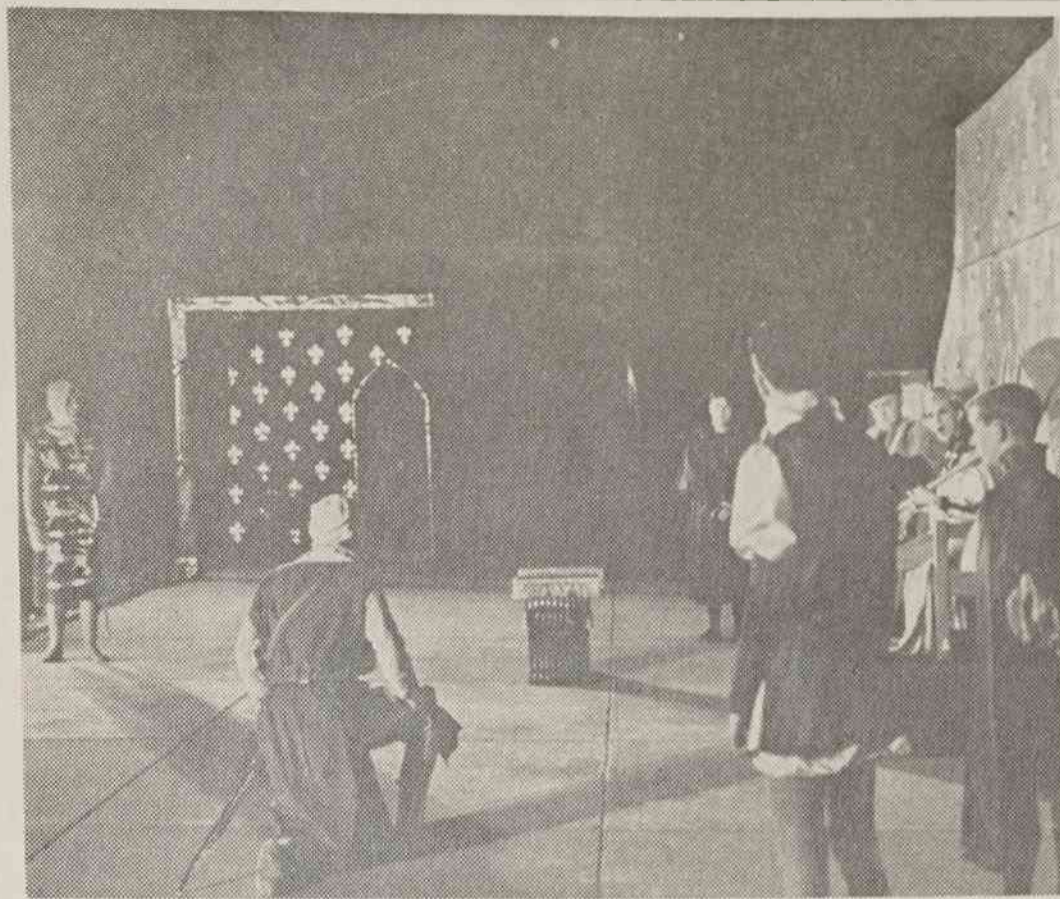

After the recess it was moved that further consideration of this question be postponed until Thursday afternoon when it could be brought before a special call session of the board.

Another motion which failed to meet the approval of the board was one to give the World University Service Incorporation thirty dollars for the purpose of helping foreign students further their higher education.

In other business it was noted that the Publicity Committee has appointed Sarah Patterson and Sue Winstead as co-editors of the 1966-67 college handbook.

Also included in the agenda was the appointing of three committee co-chairman for next year. They are: Tommy Riley, social committee; Betsy Nash, entertainment committee; and Susan Duval, Bohunk committee.

It was also announced that the newly formed President's Council would hold its first meeting Tuesday. This group consists of the presidents of all campus organizations.

RICHARD II — Pictured is a scene from Stage and Script's production of Shakespeare's Richard II. Clifford Poole played Richard II. The play was held for three consecutive nights on center campus.

Stage And Script Production Of Richard II Rated A Success

By ALICE NASH

The Stage and Script did a most outstanding job in presenting Richard II at the annual Shakespeare Festival held on this campus May 11, 12, and 13. King Richard II of England, portrayed by Clifford Poole, banishes Henry Bolingbroke, John Grady, and seizes the lands left after the death of Bolingbroke's father, John of Caunt, Cecil Willis. Bolingbroke raises an army in exile to take back to England and recover his rightful heritage. Richard's fairweather friends; Bushy, Bagot, and Green; were played by Bob Noble, Mitchell Joyner, and Byron Wyndham. Wyndham also doubled as Sir Pierce of Exton, Richard's assassin; Noble tripled as one of the gardener's assistants and the jail keeper. James Burroughs did a commendable Duke of York.

York's son, the Duke of Aumerle, was played by Fred Barber.

Jackie Baker held down the major female role as Richard's queen. The other feminine parts were filled by Mary Louise Gray as a very southern Duchess of Gloucester, and leadies-in-waiting Sandra Edwards, Lillian Barnes, Sylvia Webb, and Dottie Wyman. The cast was rounded out by George Threewitts, Bob Parvin, Fred Edwards, Leeman Lamb, Roy Clark, Bruce Strickland, David Webb, Thurman Bruffey, John Lineberry, David Marshburn, Tony Painter, David Rackley, and Jesse Weaver.

The Stage and Script designs and builds all of its own set. For this production Jamey Burroughs and his S & S crew went all out on a spectacular layout of scenery. The costuming was also a Stage and Script product with Jackie Baker, Mary Louise Gray, Lois Hall, Sylvia Webb, Martha Hall, and Ruth Price responsible for the robing. Lighting and sound effects were handled by Doug Lindbergh and Jon Rucker.

Most of the people here at ACC do not realize the tremendous amount of work that goes into one of the S & S productions. Besides being an actor, a member must be a carpenter, seamstress, electrician, and - or all three, with a little bit of magician thrown in for luck. Hats off to the Stage and Script for a fine job.

Board Rescinds Committee Bill

On Thursday, May 12th, a special meeting of the Executive Board was called to reconsider their decision to grant the President the power to appoint committees. No minutes were read and the meeting began an hour long discussion of their action. Ray Winstead began the discussion by saying, "Our action . . . is not in the best interest of the Executive Board or our Student Body . . . It could alienate the students in defeating the Bill." (the Bill is to be brought before the student body again next year.)

Nearly all the members of the Executive Board felt that their timing was bad in adopting the resolution to grant the President the power to appoint committees, but they agreed that without this power, the President would be working under a definite handicap. The members of the Board felt that next semester the Bill would have a much better chance of passage, and that the Bill should be explained to the students.

Ray Winstead, Senator of the Senior Class, moved that the bill, which had been passed by the Executive Board on Monday, be rescinded. This was confirmed by the Board with 10 in favor of rescinding the Bill, and 2 opposed; there were no abstentions.

Featured Guest Pianist Will Be Mrs. Edelbrock

The Atlantic Christian College Concert Band, under direction of Elbert Edelbrock, will present a twilight concert on center campus Thursday at 6:45 p.m. Thursday.

Appearing as guest pianist will be Mrs. Charlotte A. Edelbrock who will perform Ernest von Dohnanyi's "Rhapsody in C Major, Op. 11, No. 3," assisted by her conductor-arranger husband and the college concert band.

A second highlight of the concert will be "Symphony No. 1," for band composed by a member of the music faculty, J. Ross Albert. The band will play the "Allegretto" movement from this work.

The band has selected a varied program dating to the time of the Renaissance with the music of Orlando Gibbons (1583-1625) to selections from the musical "The King and I," by Rogers and Hammerstein and "Blues for Band," by Baroni and "When the Saints Come Marching In."

When discussing the latter tune, Edelbrock said, "On this selection we will feature a group of eager, spontaneous and unknown artists."

Mrs. Edelbrock is a graduate of Millikin University of Decatur, Ill. She is a student of Dr. Jose Echanis, Miss Elizabeth Travis and has done graduate study with Dr. Rudolph Ganz, one of the top ten piano teachers and performers in the country. She was head of the piano department of Ludwig College of Music, St. Louis, Mo., for five years.

During her career she has accompanied such stars as The

Mrs. Herndon Appointed Assistant Dean Of Women

Mrs. Nan Mattox Herndon of Greenville has been appointed as assistant dean of women for non-resident women and resident counselor for the new dormitory for women to be opened in September, according to Dr. Arthur D. Wenger at Atlantic Christian College, president of the college.

Mrs. Herndon's appointment is a newly created position made necessary by recent expansion of college facilities and by its desire to provide fuller services for its large non-resident student population.

A native of Wendell, N. C., Mrs. Herndon received the A. B. degree from Atlantic Christian College and was awarded the M. Re. degree by Brite Divinity School, Texas Christian University.

She is presently serving as minister of education at the Eighth Street Christian Church, Greenville, N. C., a position she has held since 1962. Mrs. Herndon earlier served as director of Christian education at the First Christian Church of Wilson and was at one time youth director of Arlington Heights Christian Church, Fort Worth, Tex. While attending college, she served as counselor at church and private
