Anderson's "Winterset" Is Successfully Performed

By KAREN JOHNSON

Last Thursday and Friday nights, the 27th and 28th of October, Stage and Script of Atlantic Christian College presented Maxwell Anderson's dramatic play WINTERSSET. The play, set in the New York slums, delved

Great Pumpkin

At the weekly meeting of the Executive Board there was a discussion on renting a film of China at $125 per day. The film has been made available to the college and the Entertainment committee is considering whether or not to purchase it.

Betsy Nash, chairman of the Entertainment Committee, reported on the activities of this committee. She stated that at least 10 movies will be presented on campus this year by the SGA.

Under new business, Al Cooke and David Griffin presented a humorous resolution to the Board for their approval. In order that the student body can know the contents and "importance" of this resolution it is printed below. It reads:

Whereas: this is October 31, 1966, and

Whereas: we are children of God Almighty, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit, and

Whereas: we bow our heads to that Power far above us, and

Whereas: we as students of Atlantic Christian College recognize that this is an educational institution, and

Whereas: all education does not consist of knowledge from Literary editions, and

Whereas: we, as individuals deserve the warmth, respect, and generosity of each personage, and

Whereas: we believe in that Golden Rule "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you," and

Whereas: on this night the full moon is in flight, and

Whereas: we are the student leaders on this campus, and

Whereas: we, as student leaders are cognizant of the problems: desires, and affairs of this student body, now, therefore, Be it resolved by the executive board of the student government association that:

Article I as Linus, we believe in the Great Pumpkin.

Article II all students shall sit out in the cornfield tonight bear-

into and laid bare the total scope of human emotions. As the characters' lives intertwined and their emotions became pitted against each other, the tragedy and the potential of the human situation was set forth.

The mood was emphasized by the technical aspects of setting and lighting. The setting was excellent. Dirt clung to the walls of the tenement house and to the huge, coarse base of the Brooklyn Bridge. Although written for two complete sets, the divided stage allowed smooth transition from one location to another. Through the use of the new light board, the scenes, which were continuous in action, blended into a unity. All of these aspects created a receptive frame of mind for the emotional contrasts and struggles of the play.

The cast deserves commendation for their presentation of this stirring and meaningful drama. Thursday night had a few rough edges. For example, Jim Burroughs' accent was difficult to understand, preventing a complete grasp of the last scene. Also, at times the full impact of the emotions was not evident. However, both of these faults seemed to be corrected for Friday night's performance. The actors did a creditable job. In addition to familiar faces Stage and Script is lucky to have several promising freshmen. Upperclassman Robert Noble gave an especially outstanding performance as Judge Gaunt.

SGA To Sponsor Student Dance

There will be a Homecoming dance sponsored by the Student Government Association on Saturday night, November 5, following the basketball game. This will be open to all ACC students with I. D. cards and to all visiting ACC alumni. Dress for the occasion will be semi-formal. Entertainment will be provided by the "Mighty Rockets." This group consists of five musicians and two vocalist. They have appeared throughout North Carolina at such schools as East Carolina, N. C. State, and at the University of North Carolina. Refreshments will be served at the dance. All students are urged to come and support SGA's first dance of the year.

College Athletes View Fellowship

On Thursday, October 27, a breakfast was held by the Faculty Committee on Athletics to discuss the formation of a Fellowship of Christian Athletes on the Atlantic Christian campus. The drive, which is led by Mr. Cloyd and Chaplain Hensley, met in the faculty lounge with interested athletes. Reports were given by Wayne Byrum and Ronnie Pace who attended the National Conference of Christian Athletes at the Blue Ridge Assembly last summer.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes is a national movement whose primary purpose is to confront athletes and coaches and through them the youth of the nation with the challenge and adventure of following Christ in the fellowship of the church.

After the meeting, it was decided that another breakfast would be held at 7:00 a.m. on November 10. All squad members of all athletic squads are urged to attend.

Larson Discusses U.N. Seating Of Red China

The question of admitting Red China to the United Nations was the subject of Dr. Nathan Larson's address to the student body during assembly on October 27. Dr. Larson, Professor of Law at Duke University, made it clear that something urgently needs to be done concerning this question. He said that with each passing year more and more nations are voting in favor of seating Red China, and it will not be long until the U. S. must make up its mind about what it is going to do.

His suggestion was that the

Dr. Winstead Is Chairman

Dr. Elton D. Winstead has been named chairman of the Department of Mathematics at Atlantic Christian College, according to Dr. Arthur D. Wenger, president of the college. His appointment was confirmed by the ACC Board of Trustees on Oct. 26.

Dr. Winstead's appointment was made in light of a division of the college's Department of Science and Mathematics. The department was divided into two separate departments due to heavy demands placed upon the college's areas of science and mathematics. Dr. J. P. Tyndall will continue to serve as chairman of the Department of Science.

Winstead's

A native of Wilson, Dr. Winstead joined the ACC faculty in 1962 following retirement from a military career of 24 years. He received the A. B. degree from Atlantic Christian College and was awarded the M. Ed. and Ed. D. degrees by Duke University.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Winstead of Wilson, he is married to the former Miss Josephine W. Minschew. They have three sons Edward D., Ray L., and Gene D., and a daughter Sue S.

He is a member of the Methodist Church and also holds memberships in Kappa Delta Pi; National Council of Teachers of Mathematics and the South Atlantic Philosophy of Education Society.

U. S. take the initiative and propose the seating of Red China on terms which we think are right. He said the danger in not doing this is that if we don't, Nationalist China may be thrown out.

"The conceptual argument for seating Communist China, said Larson, is that the United Nations should be universal, and that it is preposterous for almost a fourth of the world's population to be in fact unrepresented in a world organization." However, this argument is challenged by the statement that Red China is not a "peace-loving state." He said the answer to this is not to say Red China is peace loving, rather to state that she has already been admitted and what is left is a matter of credentials: "who is China," or "who is entitled to represent China?" He also stated that it would be difficult for the major member nations "to speak from a background of virginal innocence in the matter of refraining from the use of force in international affairs."

Another argument against Red China's admittance, which Larson stated was more serious, is the feeling that it might disrupt the growth of the peace keeping capability of the United Nations at a time when the Soviet Union and the U. S. are beginning to show some ability to cooperate in this task. However, he also stated that the problem could be adequately handled. He said that the real question in this area is "whether this 'minus,' a very real one, is more than offset by some other 'plus' that would flow from the presence of Communist

Mums

The Junior Class, in an effort to brighten and sweeten Homecoming, will be selling "Pom-Poms" this Friday from 12:00 to 4 P. M. and Saturday from 8 to 12. They will be on sale in the lobby of the Classroom Building and will cost $1 each. These "Pom-Poms" are large white "mums" tied with a blue ribbon. All gentlemen are urged to buy their dates one of these "Pom-Poms." This is the first time this project has been undertaken in recent years and all proceeds will go to the Junior-Senior Dance.
