Graphic Art Exhibit And Sale Planned

"London Grafica Arts" will present an exhibition and sale of its original lithographs, etchings, woodcuts, lino-cuts and silk-screens at the student gallery in Case Art Building, at Atlantic Christian College on Friday, April 14, from 10 a.m. until 9 p.m.

The collection consists of graphic arts ranging from 15th century woodcuts to contemporary British and French print-makers. The prints are exhibited at various universities through the country.

The entire collection has been purchased by Eugene Schuster. He has recently returned from three and a half years of study under Dr. E. Gombrich, at the Warburg Institute at London University, England.

Each exhibition at a college or university has approximately 400 works of art and thereby gives to the individual student, as well as the specialized collectors a diversified collection.

Advanced Fee Deadline Is Set

The administration has announced that the date for paying the advance fee of $50 by students, either new or returning, who plan to return in the fall has been changed to April 15. This payment is nonrefundable, and will be applied to the student's account at the time of registration.

A list of students eligible to continue enrollment will be placed in the Business Office. If a student's name is not on this list he will not be allowed to pay the advance fee. If a student finds that his name is not on the list and he plans to continue next fall then he needs to see Mrs. Joyner or Mr. Daniell.

If a student does not make the advance payment he will not be permitted to pre-register for the fall semester or summer school.

Bennett Visiting Ohio Workshop

Robert E. Bennett, dean of students at Atlantic Christian College, is one of three experts participating in a special publications workshop being sponsored by the National Council of Churches in Cincinnati, Ohio, April 5-7.

The purpose of the workshop is to give consideration to interdenominational publications with special concern for church vocational and occupational literature.

Bennett is slated to deliver an address dealing with a general survey of occupational literature currently available with special concern for strengths and weaknesses as related to the National Vocational Guidance Association's standards for use in preparing and evaluating occupational literature.

Some 35-40 delegates representing eight protestant denominations will be attending the workshop.

The Golden Knot Honor Society held its Spring Tapping ceremony April 5. To be eligible for membership in the organization, one must have a 3.2 overall average. Those elected this year are pictured above with the exception of Diane Kilbride Davis, who was absent at the time. They are (L-R) Judith Deans Jerman, Drenda Dell Skinner, Sally Atkins Paulsell, Thomas Richard Evans, Joseph Morris Willis, Watson David Moore.

Executive Board Recommends Committee To Evaluate SGA

A motion was received from the Junior Class at the SGA Executive Board meeting which was held Monday night in Hines Hall, which recommended that the Board appoint a committee for the purpose of reevaluating the student government and seeing if what it is doing is of any major value to the students. It was also recommended that if the committee came to the opinion that what the student government was doing was not of any great value to the students, then consideration should be given to finding some way to making it more meaningful or else abolishing it.

On the whole the Board appeared to feel that this motion had considerable merit. Charles Wolfe, originator of the motion, stated that the motion had been made in an attempt to make the Board aware of the student body's disinterest in student government. It was his feeling that most of the student body feels the SGA is doing very little which is of any interest to them. He illustrated this by pointing to the small number of students who had both run and voted in recent elections. "Another factor which shows how the students feel about student government is the fact that this motion was passed unanimously by the Junior class," said Wolfe.

The Board, after giving considerable attention to the whole question, voted to recommend the incoming SGA administration that consideration be given to establishing such a committee.

The question of the Board giving itself gifts also came up for the second week in a row. Pete Harris, Junior Class senator, moved that $15 be appropriated for buying gifts for the members of the Executive Board. However, strong negative opposition was voiced and the motion was finally defeated by a margin of one vote.

In the area of Old Business the Board voted to appropriate funds for the purpose of printing a 1-12 page booklet on insurance. The cost of printing is expected to be around $200. A motion was also passed to provide funds for mailing copies of this booklet to other colleges. The booklet is being printed for the purpose of helping students, especially seniors, in selecting life insurance policies. Many students face this situation every year, and it was the feeling of those working with the booklet that this will provide them with some very helpful information. The committee dealing with this reported that Charles Wolfe has consented to be editor of the booklet.

Dwight Wagner reported that he and Rhett White would be attending a conference on China at Harvard, April 14, 15, 16.

The Board also voted to establish a standing committee called the Social Standards Committee. The purpose of the committee will be to reevaluate standing social rules and to recommend to the proper authorities any changes they feel are needed.

Wagner reported that there is still a possibility that the SGA will be able to obtain Senator Hartke as a speaker for an assembly program this year. Wagner said there doesn't seem to be any trouble in the area of money rather the main question is whether Senator Hartke's schedule is such that it will allow him to speak.

Dean Bennett reported on a few of the comments the Southern Association team made concerning ACC's SGA. He stated that they felt the students had been willing to accept responsibilities in areas which students on many other campuses were not willing to take. However, he said the committee also said that the students do not seem ready to accept other areas of responsibility. He said the only suggestion they made concerning the SGA was that the financial status of the SGA be subjected to outside auditing.

It was announced that the last regular meeting of this year's Board will be April 17. May 1 is the date of the Executive Board's annual dinner.

Elections

Elections were held on Monday and Tuesday for the purpose of selecting next year's class, publication, Campus Christian Association, and Day Student officers. Candidates for office were:

Rising Senior Class president, Steve Swinson and Rhett White; vice - president, Yates Miller and Watt Moore; senator, Bob-
