Tri Sigs Mark Founder's Day

April 20 marked the Founder's Day for Tri Sigmas all over the country. The sisters of the Gamma Xi chapter of Sigma Sigma Sigma celebrated this annual event with a banquet at the Imperial Inn. Along with the sisters, pledges, and alumnae of the chapter, special guests including Mrs. Arthur D. Wenger, Miss Sarah Bain Ward, and Mrs. Carrie Whitfield joined in the festive occasion. Marianna Blyth was the chairman for this year's event and Margaret Ruth Thomas, past president of the sorority served as toastmaster. Miss Thomas was at that time named Woman of the Year by the sisters.

The Founder's Day celebration commemorates the establishment of Sigma Sigma Sigma at Longwood College in Farmville, Virginia, in 1898. The sorority has since grown to encompass sixty-five collegiate chapters and 30,000 members in 69 years.

In April 1966 the Sorority dedicated its National Memorial Headquarters in Woodstock, Virginia. This location in the beautiful Shenandoah Valley means much to all Tri Sigmas as the area of its founding and much of its early history. The Mabel Lee Walton House is the permanent location of Tri Sigma's Executive Office which serves the total membership and also houses Tri Sigma's memorabilia and archives.
