Annual Phone Campaign Hits Snag

Cheerleaders Are Elected By Assembly

The SGA convocation of October 17 had one positive accomplishment. Seventeen girls competed for the honor of representing ACC as cheerleaders. The proceedings were very well organized under the leadership of Linda Stallings, chief cheerleader.

Linda Stallings led the contestants in several cheers as a group. Then, groups of four or five girls cheered. Finally, the girls gathered again to finish the try-outs with two cheers.

The voters were informed that only six of the seventeen candidates could be elected. The following girls tried out for cheerleaders: Beverly Adams, Cecelia Bailey, Cherry Beach, Elizabeth Brown, Carolyn Darden, Mary Jane Darden, Sandy Evans, Jill Everhart, Charlotte Franklin, Butch Gay, Marcey Harp, Candy Moore, Nancy Powell, Dendra Skinner, Irma Smith, and Nancy Swanson.

The election results were announced that evening with seven girls chosen as cheerleaders. Due to the closeness of voting the following seven girls were elected: Beverly Adams, Cecelia Bailey, Carolyn Darden, Mary Jane Darden, Candy Moore, Dendra Skinner, and Nancy Swanson. These girls should do a grand job in representing ACC this season.

The annual concert at Homecoming this year will feature Anthony and the Imperials. The concert is slated for 8 p.m., Friday, Nov. 10, in Wilson Gymnasium. Also featured during the concert will be the crowning of the new Homecoming Queen.

Whitehurst Seeks Help Of Students

The annual telephone campaign to alumni, slated to begin Monday and continue through Friday, Nov. 3, is in great need of student help, according to Zeb Whitehurst, director of Alumni Affairs.

With the campaign goal set at $25,000 to furnish the new student union building, the project will require 20 workers each night to make the series of calls. Whitehurst stated that each night has many vacancies: "Thus far, the most we have any one night is nine workers."

The phone calls will be made over a two and one-half hour period each night. Students working on the campaign will be served refreshments.

"We would very much appreciate your help as a caller during this year's telephone campaign," Whitehurst said. "The telephone office is installing 20 telephones on the campus, and the Alumni Affairs office will provide you with names and instructions. It is only through your aid and cooperation that this year's campaign goal can be reached."

Students interested in working on the campaign should contact Whitehurst at his office in the Administration Building.

Executive Board Faces Two Major Obstacles

The October 16, 1967 meeting of the Student Government Association's Executive Board was called to order under the mighty gavel of President Doug Dexter.

Beth Best, secretary, called the roll and read the minutes of the October 2 meeting.

The session continued with a report from treasurer Ellis Kirkland. The checkbook balance amounted to $39.98. The debts amounted to $129.50. A total of $187.90 had been deposited yet not recorded. Thus, the books read $98.38 to the good.

President Dexter reported he had sent a letter to President Wenger concerning the food committee. The floor was then opened for old business.

Commander Dexter at this time brought attention to the Day

Student dilemma. Bobby Dunn, Day Student president, reported on the crisis. First of all, the day students decided not to sponsor a homecoming candidate. Their main reason (besides money) for this was that the deadline for candidates was the day after their meeting. Dunn then revealed that a motion was

ACC Audience "Captivated" At James Dick Concert

By PAT BANKS
"The favorite of the musically sophisticated audiences," James Dick, appeared in concert at Howard Chapel on Monday evening.

For an hour and a half the audience was captivated by the playing of James Dick as he gave a brilliant recital of piano music covering masterpieces by Antonio Vivaldi, Sergei Rachmaninoff, Ludwig van Beethoven, and Frederic Chopin. Not only was his work artistic, but it was also enhanced by his vigorous musical personality. The entire audience was attentive and enchanted throughout the performance.

Currently, James Dick is on tour under the Fulbright scholarship. This is Mr. Dick's second year of touring and he has 45 more concerts planned for the coming year. This will take him to Canada, South America, Central America and possibly Russia this summer. Except for the transportation inconveniences, Mr. Dick loves being on tour. It gives him an opportunity to experience the reactions of different audiences to his work.

Now only 27 years of age, Mr. Dick has been studying piano for approximately 22 years. He received his B.A. from the Uni-

SGA President Explains Budgetary Predicament

By DOUG DEXTER

"How in the world did such a simple thing as a budget get messed up..." What in the world happened...Why did I have to suffer through that mess?" These were few of many jibes directed toward the Executive Board after Tuesday's budgetiasco.

Since confession is good for the soul please grant us a confession. What happened was: 1) an error in computing the budget for the cheerleaders, 2) a typographical error in executive board appropriations and 3) utilization of the total for first proposed appropriations in place of the revised total as approved by the Exec. Board.

The cheerleaders were not cut

Modine Crowned As Newest ACC Beauty

By MIKE ROACH

Last Thursday, Oct. 12, approximately two hundred ACC students and faculty attended the second annual A.C.C. Beauty Pageant sponsored by Sigma Pi Fraternity. The shapely seven participants represented the epitome of mod styles featured throughout the pages of Popular Mechanics. The judges for the festive event were Dr. Mildred Hartsock (Queen of the English Department), Mrs. Ruth Smith (also from the English Department), Dean Robert J. Washer (Keeper of the animal farm), and Mr. Bruce "Disect 'em" Smith (department of science).

The first contestant was Miss Annette Arlene "Jim" Adams, who was sponsored this year by the Cadillac Motel. Miss Adams is the perfect 36 - (12) (12) (12). She was Miss Acne of 1952 and also last year's Miss ACC (Acne Cover Girl Complexion). As her talent, Miss Adams sang "Get Me To The Church On Time" and for those who saw the pageant, IT WAS ABOUT TIME! She wore a two-piece flowered bikini in the bathing suit competition.

The second contestant was Miss Beatrice (BABY) "Johnny" Bivens, who was sponsored by Mrs. Finche's Drama School. Miss Bivens wore a one-piece black swimsuit over her massive 42-36-41 frame. For her talent, she read some of E. E. Cummings poetry. Dr. Hartsock especially liked her recitation because she kept saying "Oh, My Gosh, Oh, My Gosh!"

The third beauty was Miss Luscious "Jimmy" Lucas, who was under productive sponsorship
