New Plays Will Offer Variety

By JUDI PETERSON

Variety is the password, with a comedy, mystery, and realistic fantasy filling out the bill of one-act plays to be presented by Stage and Script Dec. 12 and 13.

Not only are the plays unique, but the directors are also — two of them are students. Edward Albee, "The American Dream" is the comedy and is being directed by Paul Crouch; Susan Glaspell's "Trifles" is the mystery directed by Judi Peterson and Jackie Keen is directing "Impromptu," the realistic fantasy written by Tad Mosel.

The various plots include a satirization of middle class behavior, an improvisation of real life by actors who have no script, and the problem of who killed John Wight. All in all, the plays offer a chance for everyone to see the type of drama he likes best, with characters ranging from a grandmother who deliberately hides things — including a room — so mommy and daddy can't find them, to an actor who hates the stage to two rather sly, yet sympathetic, women who gradually uncover clues to a murder.

All in all, the plays offer a chance for everyone to see the type of drama he likes best. Curtain time is 8:15 in Howard Chapel.

Pi Gamma Mu Inducts New Members At Meet

The North Carolina Theta Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, the newly organized Social Science Honor Society, held its regular meeting Nov. 13 in Howard Chapel.

Twelve students and two faculty members were given formal initiation into the chapter. Initiated were: Tom Burkett, Jack Brinson, Nina Folmsbee, Cheryl Gay, Carter Glass, Bob Lane, Ann Pepper, Angela Robinson, Mary Wilson, Sue Winstead, Yvonne Worrell, Ray Hinnant, Ronald Wachs, and James Woolverton.

Following the ceremony, new members were honored at a combined social and meeting in the faculty lounge. At the brief business meeting, it was pointed out to the new members that this is a service organization and the main project for this year was a tutoring service for students in the survey courses offered by the Social Studies Dept.

Charter members also present included Ann Jones, George Boswell, Elaine Bailey, Arthur Dunn, Riddick Lamm, Kathie Chastain, Mike Roach, Al Rogers, and faculty members Sarah Gattis, John Bridgers, J. K. Suhr, Hugh Johnston, and R. Robert Capps.

Streets Close June 2

By JOHN SCOTT
Wilson Daily Times

The city commissioners voted last night to close segments of two streets within the Atlantic Christian College campus after a public hearing attended by approximately 75 persons.

Closing of Gold St. from Deans St. to Whitehead Ave., and Rountree St. from Woodard St. to Gold St. will be effective June 2, 1969 under an ordinance adopted by the commissioners.

State law provides that any persons objecting to the street closings may appeal within 30 days to the Wilson County Superior Court to have the ordinance upset.

The college, which owns all property on both sides of the street sections to be closed, requested the action in connection with its long-range development plan.

A petition supporting the request was signed by 839 persons. Another petition, opposing the street closings, contained 348 signatures.

Sigma Pi Pledge Class To Seek "Ugliest Man"

The pledge class of Sigma Pi Fraternity will sponsor an "Ugliest Man on Campus" contest early in December. The event will be the first sponsored by the fraternity, but will be molded into an annual event.

All classes, organizations, fraternities and sororities are eligible to enter a contestant. Campus-wide voting will be held Dec. 2 through Dec. 6. Votes will cost one-cent each and voters may cast as many ballots as they wish. Daily tabulations will be listed Monday through Thursday. Friday's tabulation will not be announced. That night the winner of the "Ugliest Man" contest will be crowned at a dance, tentatively set in the lobby of Hines Hall.

The Sands will provide music for the Friday night dance.

The winner of the contest will be presented with a trophy and the sponsoring organization will be given a plaque to display until the title is won by another organization in successive contests. Should an organization win the title two years in a row, a trophy will be presented to the group as well as the contestant.

Holiday Recess For Newspaper

The Collegiate will not be published next week due to the Thanksgiving recess. Publication will be resumed Dec. 12.

Articles and notices to be published in the Dec. 12 edition must be submitted to the Collegiate by Monday, Dec. 9.
