By ROBBY KOELLING
 "Barefoot in the Park" opens tonight at 8:15 in Howard Chapel for a three day run. This is Stage and Script's last performance of the season, and as always the play is free to all ACC students and faculty with ID cards. "The Little Foxes," a melodrama, Three one act plays, and "Antigone," a tragedy, were Stage and Script's previous productions. Now "Barefoot", a hilarious comedy that was first a successful Broadway play then a popular movie, has been chosen to round out the season with a light touch. Directed by Paul Crouch, the play features Linda Spatig, as Corie, Chris Murphy as Paul, Diane Bishop as Ethel, and Bob Noble as Victor. Herb Greenberg and Jim Reaser are cast as workmen. "Barefoot" is a great comedy which should appeal to everyone. This is one you don't want to miss.

Class Prom Is Cancelled

By JOYCE COPELAND
 A tradition at A.C.C. has been broken. The popularity of the tradition was a matter of opinion. This tradition was the Junior-Senior. Junior President, Steve Dollar, announced last week that the annual affair has been cancelled. Dollar attributed the cancellation to a general lack of interest among those responsible for planning and preparing the prom. He believes that the event would have received little attention as to attendance. Dollar also stated that he thought it would be a misappropriation of student funds to spend approximately $380 for a project in which no interest was shown. A formal apology to the senior class was expressed by the president for the action. If the Junior-Senior had been carried out it was to have been

This Is A Filibuster

At the April 23 meeting of the SGA Executive Board, President Wilkins appointed the following who were approved by the Board: Al Cooke, Campus Awareness Committee chairman, and Doug Umphlett, Entertainment Committee chairman.

However, there was objection to Wilkins' appointee for Student Co-ordinator, Harold Herring. Jim Abbott led the opposition, stating that Herring has never lived on campus. Abbott went on to say, "By appointing Mr. Herring, we may be appointing a person who is biased concerning an organization (Young Americans for Freedom) which has twice tried to gain recognition on our campus."

David Finch replied that Herring is a hard worker and reminded the Board Herring would serve as a non-voter, so he would be in no position to push any organization through.

Shortly thereafter, Abbott announced, "This is a filibuster." For the next forty-five minutes until adjournment, Jim Abbott, Debbie Hayman, and Joyce Copeland held the floor, reading U.S. census reports, women's rules and the like.

During the ordeal, Wilkins remarked that the filibuster was delaying legislative process and declared "I (sic) do not have to ever recognize you on the floor again." Abbott asked Wilkins, "Would you consider another appointment?" Wilkins replied that he would not. Amid charges of "lack of self-confidence" and "attempting to show political ability," Abbott and company continued their play for time until adjournment.

Wyndham Censured By Executive Board

SGA President Joe Wilkins gavelled the April 24 meeting of the Executive Board to order and announced that the first portion of the meeting would be conducted in closed session. When observers were allowed to re-enter the chamber, the Board was already in new business.

Through interviews with anonymous Board members, it was learned that three matters of business were considered during the closed session. The Board's Rules of Procedure were passed to include a rule limiting debate to five minutes per person, per issue. Harold Herring's appointment as Student Co-ordinator was put back on the floor for approval. Joyce Copeland gave justification for the previous night's filibuster saying that the trio used it to show the strength of their feeling that someone other than Herring should be considered. With sufficient votes for Herring's approval negative vote was not called for, and Herring's appointment was final. David Finch, IFC president, was also seated without vote due to the fact that his grades are not in keeping with constitutional requirements.

With the Board once again in open session, Ken O'Connell moved to adopt a resolution which was read by Rick Stewart. The resolution stated that Byron Wyndham had "allowed his name and former position to be used in a public statement of an extremely radical nature." In this regard the resolution stated that Wyndham had "tarnished the image and diminished the good

Concert, Awards Fill Greek Week

By ED NEECE

Greek Week '69 was opened with a smash on Thursday, April 20th when the pledge class of Sigma Phi Epsilon sponsored a pie throw. Upon paying a small fee, any brother or pledge could have been the target for a well aimed lemon pie.

Thursday evening brought many frantic weeks of preparation to a climax as the annual Greek sing was presented in Howard Chapel. Songs were offered from each fraternity and sorority plus additional talent selections which varied from conventional folk songs to popular rock "n" roll.

Friday afternoon was spent in preparation for the evening's activities which included pop singer Arthur Connely in a concert-dance at the Frontier Inn. Arthur sang all of his hit recordings which provided splendid entertainment although it did not last as long as expected.

On Saturday afternoon the Greeks participated in a party held for the children at the Eastern Carolina School for the Deaf.

The Awards Supper was held Saturday evening with barbecue supplied by the Barbecue Barn. On this occasion it was announced that the Sorority division, Tri Sigma and Phi Mu won the Greek sing and the talent awards, respectively. In the fraternity division, Alpha Sigma Phi captured the honors for both the Greek sing and the talent. The scholarship trophy was awarded to Sigma Phi Epsilon for attaining the highest Fraternity average on campus.

Following the Awards Supper, the fraternities held separate parties, thus bringing another successful Greek Week to a close.

Tri Sigma observed their annual Founder's Day on April 20 with a luncheon at the Hereford Room. President Judy Youngblood, was presented with the Woman of the Year Award and Charlotta White Gault, the Outstanding Pledge of the Year Award. Alumni Advisor Annette Glover, announced at the luncheon that the Gamma XI Chapter at A.C.C. has won the National Chapter Examination Award for 1969. The Examination cup is awarded each year to the Sigma Chapter that scores the highest on the Annual Chapter Examination.

Student Trustee Seat Advocated By Cooke

By JIM ABBOTT

On April 18-20, the Assembly of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) North Carolina, met for their annual session in Rocky Mount.

Among those from A.C. attending the convention as delegates were Dr. Wenger, Dr. Hemby, Mr. Cleveland, Mr. Adams, Al Cooke, David Jarman, David Cox, and Jack Musick.

Among other matters of business, the Assembly approved the new three-year members of the Board of Trustees for A.C. According to the Charter of Atlantic Christian College, nominations for members of the Board of Trustees must be made by the existing board, and approved or disapproved by the Church Assembly. The Assembly itself cannot submit nominations.

Al Cooke, former SGA Vice President, attained the floor and spoke extemporaneously concerning the Board of Trustees, and addressed himself particularly to the point of student representation on the board. Cooke mentioned that, because of age, etc., it is difficult for members of the board to establish rapport with the students. Cooke also pointed out that student members on the board might help to alleviate this problem. Cooke went on to inform the Assembly that in the recent SGA elections on campus, both presidential candidates stated in their platforms that they supported having a student on the Board of Trustees, and that a record-breaking 900 students took part in the election and voted for this and other changes, advocated by the candidates.

Following Cooke's remarks, Dr. Arthur Wenger spoke to the delegates concerning the Charter of the college which stipulates that members of the board must
