Tennessee Williams' moving Jrama, "A Streetcar Named Desire," will be presented by Stage and Script of Atlantic hristian College, Oct. 22-24, in Ioward Chapel located on the ollege campus. Curtain time for the performances will be 8 p.m. Directed by Paul Crouch. "Streetcar" features Kathy Hertenstein of Sarasota, Fla., as Blanche; Steve Bassett of Richmond, Va., as Stanley; and Mrs. Fran Mercer of Wilson as Stella. Others included in the cast are 'Larry Stowers, Steve Hunt, Baraara Edmonds, Diane Tait, and Mrs. Gene Moss. This experienced cast promises to give new life to the story which won Vivian Leigh and Marlon Brando ame on the movie screen.

The play deals with the Dubois sisters, the last members of an mpoverished Southern plantation family. Stella has married Stanley, a brutish laborer, and although he treats her as his slave, she has found happiness in their intense secual relationship. A visit from Stella's sister Blanche, a husband seeking prostitute, causes havoc as they play's action becomes brutally haturalistic.

Exhibition

A loan exhibition of selected works from the Dillard "Art on Paper" collection of the Weatherspoon Art Gallery, University of North Carolina at Greensboro, will be shown in the gallery of Case Art Building at Atlantic Christian College.

The 30 original paintings will travel throughout the Southeast for a two-year period. Included in collection are some of the most distinguished Dillard Collection pictures, with such internationally known artists as Robert Goodnough, Paul Jenkins, George Ortman and Frank Stella, represented in a variety of media.

Board Debates Rights

Women's rights was the main concern of the SGA executive board. George Breece, Student Co-Ordinator, introduced a motion requesting liberalization of off-campus visitation.

Current code of living standards prohibit the unchaperoned visitation of off-campus residences by women. The SGA motion would have lifted this restriction with the stipulation that participants in the new freedom have parental permission, providing they place address and phone number of home or apartment she intends to visit on her date card.

The motion was rejected in order to channel the matter through the Women's Interdorimity Council in an effort to improve chances of final approval.

A committee consisting of Co-chairmen Robbie Steen and Beverly Williams and including Jay Barker, Kathy Anderson, and Jerry Broyal was appointed by President Joe Harwood to investigate women's rights on campus. This action was taken upon recommendation by Steen.

Harwood presented a letter from Dean Zeb Whitehurst concerning a previous recommendation to the Student Life Committee to investigate the possibility of allowing Freshmen women the same privileges as upperclassmen in regards to visitation of fraternity houses. The committee decided to wait this semester to see how current regulations work with upperclassmen and the allowing Freshmen similar privileges next semester if the situation warrants progress.

Parking Williams Miss Beverly reported to the board that her committee on the parking problem found that the lot between The Science Building and Art Building was usually fairly full during prime hours. Plans to convert the area beside the Art Building were disclosed to the committee. Miss Williams explained that this would further increase problem.

Zero Population Growth, an environmental protection group, presented its desire to be recognized as an official campus organization. The group also revealed hopes of becoming a budgetary organization of the SGA. ZPG was given the usual four week period to prepare its constitution, slate of officers and budgetary request.

Dr. Arthur D. Wenger, president of Atlantic Christian College, on behalf of the ACC Alumni Association, will make a series of telephone calls to alumni of the college, according to Mrs. W. Clifton Corbett and David Webb, chairmen of the 1971 Alumni Telephone Campaign.

By means of pre-recorded messages, Dr. Wenger will give alumni contacted a progress report on the college and seek support for the Atlantic Chiristian College Alumni Fund. The calls will be made on 10 nights, from Nov. 9 through Nov. 20, from a special telephone center in Hardy Alumni Hall.

Alumni plan to use funds collected through the campaign for landscaping grounds of the secently completed New Dormitory for Women and completion of the brick walkway from Case Art Building to the Student Center.

Some 200 students and alumni of the college will participate in operating a special 20-telephone center to call alumni of the college and seek their help in this project.

Since so many students seemed to be classified rioters and destroyers of today's society, it is interesting to see what persons college students admired the most. From the interviewing Atlantic Christian College students, not one person admired someone that strived only for money and self gain. They all seemed to admire someone that wants peace, unity and betterment in the world.

A.M.O., junior female: "Now, I admire the Kennedy brothers. At the time they were living, I didn't realize it but it is true that they were trying to get more for the people. As for the present, I admire people who are struggling alot for peace."

G.A.L., junior male: "I admire Amnohotep. He achieved a high level of civilization in ancient Egypt. He almost succeeded in producing an Utopian Society based on peace and tranquility under one God. He went so far as to break away from his old city and build a new
