ACC Saves Space

"Atlantic Christian College's efficiency in its use of instructional space is good in comparison with other similar institutions in North Carolina," said its president, Dr. Arthur D. Wenger. This comment was given in response to a study of facilities utilization released on Sept. 3 by the State Commission on Higher Education Facilities. The study indicated that a desirable capacity to enrollment ratio is between 3 and 4 square feet for each student hour of instruction. At Atlantic Christian the 1970 ratio was 3.52. In comparison the average ratio for all higher education institutions in the state was 3.94, and for all private four-year colleges, 5.50. Generally speaking, the lower the ratio, the higher the degree of utilization.

President Wenger continued by saying, "I believe it is fair to conclude that Atlantic Christian College conducts its building program in close coordination with its enrollment growth. We are anticipating a student body of some 1,750 this fall, about the same as last, which was the largest in our history. We take this to mean that our total educational program continues to be approved by prospective students and other segments of our constituency.

Even though these comparisons are useful, they do not indicate the condition of instructional space or its adequacy for the purposes used, according to the study. "Our need for a new library building and a nursing education building is urgent at Atlantic Christian," said President Wenger. He stated that funding, both government and private, is being sought for these purposes.

record 1.2 million bikes. Nevertheless they were sold out by the middle of May. Production of most bikes are hampered by the use of international quality components. Handbrakes arrive from Switzerland and expensive ten-speed gear changers come from Japan. The only bike that has lost popularity is the mid-weight with coaster brakes.

The Collegiate's stockmarket analyst, Harry Hindsight, advises students to invest in bicycle stock. Huffman Manufacturing's stock has more than doubled from last year's low; Murray Ohio's shares have nearly quadrupled in price.

If you're interested in buying a bike in this area there is a fairly abundant market. Most of the hardware stores and discount houses stock bikes as well as parts and accessories. Moss Bicycle Shop downtown is practically the only repair shop. Probably the best buy for your money is a lightweight 26" Huff for $30 sold at the Best Products Store in Raleigh.

The two wheeler's popularity is gaining at this college. Cycling will be even better as the weather cools down. One question remains though—how many hardy souls will be able to pedal through the winter?

Freshmen elections will be held Oct. 6 & 7 and this week the Collegiate is featuring the candidates for Senator.

I would like to take this time and space to let you freshmen know that I would like very much to serve as your freshman class senator for this year. There isn't really a whole lot I have to say because I do not think that I should go around stating past achievements or giving you promises, for although I do have a little insight as to the goings on of this college, this knowledge is small and I have a lot to learn. All I can really say is that if I am chosen I will do anything in my power to help my class.

Concert...

Bill Deal and the Rhondells and the Black and Blue will perform at a blanket concert tonight at 8:00 p.m. in the Wilson Gym. Tickets will be $1.50 for A.C. students and $2.00 for non-students.

NTE Scheduled

The National Teacher Examinations (NTE) will be administered on Nov. 13, 1971, at Atlantic Christian College which has been designated as a test center.

According to Zeb M. Whitehurst, III, dean of students, college seniors preparing to teach and teachers applying for positions in school systems which encourage or require the NTE are eligible to take the tests. In addition, the designation of Atlantic Christian College as a test center for these examinations will give prospective teachers in this area an opportunity to compare their performance on the examinations with candidates throughout the country who take the tests, Whitehurst said.

YRC Meet

There will be a meeting to organize the Young Republican Club Tuesday, Sept. 28, in room 112 Hines Hall. It also will serve the purpose for nominating officers for the 197-172 year. The time of the meeting is 11:00 a.m. For any other information contact Maxie Blaclock, phone 243-3492.

First of all, I don't believe in stating my life's activities in order to be elected. It is not with my past we are concerned, but rather your future.

Monday night someone came to me and told me I was to write a statement about my platform and my views. I began thinking about this and realized this would be wrong. I am not running to present my views to you, but to represent your views to others. It is your ideas and views that matter, and I will try to represent them with the best of my ability.

Mark Twain Show Set

Atlantic Christian College will be the scene of a world-famous re-creation of one of America's most appealing and stimulating writer-philosopher-humorists. Mark Twain, as the Atlantic Christian College Concert and Lecture Series presents John Chappell in the program "Mark Twain Tonight!", scheduled to open on Sept. 29, in Howard Chapel, at 8 p.m.

For more than two hours, Chappell, scholar and actor, promises to regale the audience with the biting with and thought-provoking observations of Samuel Clemens. "Mark Twain Tonight," which won for Hal Holbrook the Tony Award, the Drama Critics Circle Award, and an Emmy nomination, is 99 per cent Twain material. Some selections are whole pieces of material lifted from one source, with additional lines from other sources sewn into the fabric of the piece to sharpen its dramatic or humorous possibilities. Other selections begin with an idea of some topical value, with comments and anecdotes about it wrought together to form a satire on the subject.

I am running for Freshman Class Senator. If elected I will represent the majority of the Freshman Class. I am concerned about the rules regulating women dorms. I hope in the future to bring forth just how the Freshman Class feels this and that should be done. I feel the Student Bill of Rights has many good aspects to it which if passed will take an interest in your class.

I live in Waters Hall, room 608 and any Freshman, boy or girl who would like to talk to me further on this or anything else: I am open for suggestions and ideas. Just leave a note or knock on my door.

I would like your vote of confidence on October 6 & 7. Vote of Peter Baker, a man who will serve you.

It was Twain who observed "Man is the only animal that blushes. Or needs to." "If you pick up a starving dog and make him prosperous, he will not bite you. This is the principal difference between a dog and a man." "It could probably be shown by facts and figures that there is no distinctly native criminal class except Congress." "To my knowledge I have no races, color or creed prejudices. All I care to know is that man is a human being. That's good enough for me."

Bike Boom

By MIKE HUGHES

As the fall semester began it was apparent that a new mania had begun on campus — the bicycle. Bikes can be seen strewn around the classroom building, hiding around dorms, and on the porches of fraternity houses.

The two wheeler's new popularity may be due to overcrowded parking lots, low cost, and the unheard of thrill of getting to class on time. Students as well as faculty seem to be enjoying the exercise that bikes provide. Ecologists and other experts on urban survival point to the bicycle as the most healthful, pollution-free way to travel. Perhaps a new slogan will be "pedal power."

Dean of Students, Zeb Whitehurst told the Collegiate that five bicycle racks have been requisitioned. The racks will hold about 20 bikes each and will be placed the major campus buildings and dormitories. The total cost of the racks will be $300. The requisition must still be approved by the administrative council.

If you are wondering whether or not the bike is a passing fad that just recently came upon the scene, you're wrong. One of the earliest bicycles was a wooden hobby-horse developed by Karl Von Drais in 1816. Drais' machine was awkward, heavy and without pedals. The cyclist propelled it by shuffling his feet. When pedals were introduced some 20 years later, the bicycle's popularity shot forward.

Today, bicycle manufacturers can hardly keep up with the demands for their products. Schwinn's production this year is a
