

Black Oak Arkansas Chosen

By SANDI HUGGINS

Tuesday, October 10 in Room 211 of Hines Hall the Entertainment Committee met to discuss the Homecoming Concert. Much to the dismay of several committee members, it was discovered that Mike Green, Committee Chairman, had already chosen and contracted two bands for the Homecoming Concert. Mr. Green explained that he took this responsibility on himself due to lack of time and a minimal choice in available bands. The Committee, per se, never voted on who or what to have for the concert. Mr. Green's choices were made through a local Wilson agency, Lamm Productions, and they are Black Oak Arkansas and Brownsville Station. Black Oak Arkansas is well-known on the West Coast, but a relatively unknown group on the East Coast. Their music is basically similar to the hard rock type. To counter-balance the hard rock sound Brownsville Station plays music from the 1950s—"The kind you heard in high school" to quote Mr. Green. Therefore, according to the Committee Chairman, all music lovers should be satisfied. Interestingly enough only eight out of eighteen people present at the meeting plan to stay for Homecoming.

Next on the order of business was a budget discussion. The total budget for the year was $24,300.00. Robert Klein cost $1050.00, The Main Ingredient, $3,575.00, with the sound system and College Entertainment Association costing $400.00 for this concert. Total cost for Robert Klein and The Main Ingredient was $505.00. Gross returns on this concert were $797.00, which made actual costs paid out for the concert total $4228.00. The only other expenditure this year has been a $3000.00 advance payment for the two Homecoming bands. The cost for these two bands will be $4500.00 for Black Oak Arkansas; $1500.00 for Brownsville Station, with approximately $900.00 allotted for promotion and sound system costs. This makes a total of $6900.00 for the Homecoming Concert.

The next item of business was a discussion on the price of tickets and when to put them on sale. After a verbal battle and inane argument on how to keep A.C. students from purchasing student tickets for outsiders, the Committee decided to charge

Atlantic C. student and $2.50 for general public tickets. A.C. students are required at the door with tickets before a student will be allowed in, and an A.C. student will be allowed to purchase no more than 2 tickets.

Following the agreement on ticket prices Robert Thomas asked why a concert had to be held at Homecoming. He stated that he would rather have one good concert, regardless of cost, than two lousy ones. Much debate followed on the principle of this suggestion and Steve Harrell suggested why not have a student poll to find out what the students wanted. Both suggestions were rejected.

Finally, Chairman Mike Green brought up the idea of having a Rock Opera. Hare Krishna in concert on Dec. 8.

Hare Krishna is hard rock, an electric light show, and opera all rolled into one. It is performed by a well-known and renowned group that has played at I.S.U., Va. Commonwealth, Holy Cross, New York, Pittsburgh, and is scheduled to perform at Duke, E.C.U., and Campbell in this area. Cost for this performance will be $1500.00 with publicity supplied by the group. The Concert and Lecture Committee will co-sponsor this group and Fike High School Auditorium will be the location of the performance.

The last item of business announced by Mike Green was a concert by Crown Zeller and Balls, two local groups, Thursday, October 12 in the Old Gym. Starting time is 7:30 p.m. All A.C. students will be admitted free of charge.

Children's Concert

By J. ROSS ALBERT

On Saturday night a large audience of the Wilson Community Concert Association was thrilled by the Obernkirchen Children's Choir in the Fike High School Auditorium.

The young singers from Schaumburger, Germany, took the audience on a folksong excursion around the world. They presented songs from the United States, Brazil, England, Germany and France. They continued with songs from Spain, Hungary, Sweden, Turkey, Israeli, and Japan. After the vocal tour the listeners were brought back home with the Spiritual finale, I'm Going to Sing.

The children proved conclusively that they could sing in lovely clear tones. Such a concept of child beauty was a pleasant surprise to many of those present who are more used to the little breathy voices so often associated with children's choirs.

It was a delight to hear the singers control with confidence and with good vocalise the many different style of the Renaissance Madrigal and Chanson was expressed with detailed integrity. The songs of paths were done with the sadness that only a hurt child can feel.

Whether for joyous expressions or for serious laments, their voices lifted easily and lovely to high notes and to low. Their singing seemed to be able to bend to every mood. The only exception was evident in the lusty, slightly bawdy lyrics of Circle K will be sponsoring a bloodmobile in aid to the Red Cross on Oct. 18-20. It will be located in Hardy Alumni Hall, and will be open to all donors at these hours:

Wed. 12 - 5; Thurs. 11 - 4; Fri. 10 - 2.

There is a tremendous demand for blood in all areas of hospital work, and all it takes to help out is 45 minutes of your time. What's a brief moment of pain from a needle, when you could be saving someone's life?

All ACC students are urged to come by and help with this worthy cause.

Even three-year olds participate in the Trick or Treat for UNICEF collection on Halloween. For children of all ages October 31st has been officially designated National UNICEF Day by Presidential proclamation.

McGovern Tour Coming To Wilson

WILSON, N.C. — The McGovern Grassroots Grasshopper Tour will be in Wilson, Thursday, Oct. 19 to participate in the grand opening of the local Wilson County Citizens for McGovern-Shriver Headquarters it was announced today by Mrs. W. E. Fenner, Wilson County McGovern-Shriver Campaign Chairwoman.

Among the celebrities travelling with the tour and participating in the local ceremonies will be: Terry McGovern, daughter of Democratic presidential candidate Senator George McGovern; Liz Carpenter, former press secretary to Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson; Sissy Farenthald, Democratic nominee for Governor of Texas this past year and a nominee for Vice President at the 1972 Democratic National Convention; and James Henry Faulk, entertainer.

The McGovern Grassroots Grasshopper Tour is to be a 6-day swing through the Southern states to solicit support for the McGovern-Shriver campaign. Wilson is the second stop on the North Carolina segment of the tour which will also include stops in Greenville, Raleigh, Durham, Chapel Hill, and Charlotte.

National media coverage of the tour will be provided by representatives of the New York Times, and major television networks, including Mike Wallace on special assignment for CBS's program "60 Minutes."

The national reporters are accompanying the tour in an effort to sample public opinion at each stop and draw together a composite picture of Southern voter reaction to the McGovern-Shriver campaign.

In addition to the Wilson County citizens for McGovern-Shriver Chairwoman, Mrs. Fenner, other local McGovern-Shriver volunteers participating in the planning of the grand opening ceremonies include Mrs. B. B. Plyler Jr., Howard Jones, Dr. William Duckworth, Jim Abbott, and Kim Taylor, Student Coordinator for McGovern-Shriver at Atlantic Christian College.

Unicef Builds For A More Peaceful World

In 1965, when UNICEF was awarded the Nobel Prize for Peace, a member of the Nobel Committee remarked, "To create a peaceful world, we must begin with the children."

If children are to take an active part in building international cooperation, they must be better fed, healthy, and educated. The United Nations Children's Fund is dedicated to removing the obstacles to growth faced by the one billion children now living in the developing countries of Africa, Asia, and Latin America.

In every project UNICEF and its partner — the developing country — share responsibility. Most of UNICEF's assistance takes the form of needed equipment, while over one-third of its aid supports the training of local teachers, health workers and other personnel. The assisted country makes substantial commitments of its manpower and natural resources which more than match the value of UNICEF's investment. On the average, the assisted nation spends $2.50 for every dollar UNICEF spends on its child care programs.

Because of this sharing of responsibility and because UNICEF selects pilot or demonstration projects which can serve as models for more extensive national efforts, UNICEF aid acts as a catalyst. It stimulates programs that countries can carry on for their own children. UNICEF's international staff, located throughout the developing world, assists local administrators in making the most effective use of UNICEF aid within the context of the country's development plans, and coordinates this aid with other agencies in international development.

For over 25 years, the funding for these programs has been entirely voluntary — by governments and private organizations and individuals who support UNICEF. During most of those years, an important and growing source of UNICEF's income has been the Trick or Treat collection on Halloween. The coins which are dropped into the familiar black and orange cartons by U.S. citizens add up to millions of dollars (almost $3,500,000 last year) for UNICEF's worldwide child care efforts.

Collecting for UNICEF rewards America's own children with a sense of sharing, and helps to bring food and water, the relief of pain, the tools of learning, and the knowledge that others care to millions of youngsters in 111 countries of the developing world.

NTE Scheduled

The National Teacher Examinations will be administered on November 11, 1972, at Atlantic Christian College (Hardy Alumni Hall) which has been designated as a test center.

According to Zeb M. Whitehurst, III, Dean of Students, college seniors preparing to teach and teachers applying for positions in school systems which encourage or require the NTE are eligible to take the tests. In addition, the designation of Atlantic Christian College as a test center for these examinations will give prospective teachers in this area an opportunity to compare their performance on the examinations with candidates throughout the country who take the tests, Whitehurst said.

Last year approximately 120,000 candidates took the examinations which are designed to assess cognitive knowledge and understanding in professional education, general education and subject-field specialization. The examinations, which are prepared and administered by Educational Testing Service of
