BSU Convention

On Nov. 2, 14 members of BSU left AC for their fall convention at Ridgecrest, near Asheville. The group left at 1:00 Friday and arrived at Ridgecrest at 7:00 P.M. The convention was a real success. The attendance this year was 14, whereas last year only three went.

The speaker at the convention was Dr. Stuart Newman. Newman is a professor of religion at Meredith. The theme of his presentation was "Living the Good News." The group also discussed their past summer missions and saw slides and films on the students' work. Some students did work in camps, churches, and a few went to the Bahamas.

Other activities that the group participated in included simulation games. These games depicted BSUs across the state. The participants were divided into seven groups. Each group was given a role to play in which they portrayed different opinions.

The convention was a great success, and Debbie Tippett, President of AC's BSU, wishes to thank all those from AC that participated in the activities.

There will be a meeting Mon night at 5:00. Rides will leave Harper Hall. This will be the Thanksgiving meeting and the convention will be discussed.

BSU is helping to promote the movie, "A Time To Run," and urges each of you to attend it. It is a movie that everyone should see and share with someone else.

Atlantic Christian College's Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity and the Circle K Club will be working together on a door to door campaign for Multiple Sclerosis, on Nov. 16, 17, and 18.

SGA Meet Held

"A new library is the largest single component of the current fund-raising efforts," stated by Jimmy Adams at the Nov. 6th SGA meeting. A member of the Library Committee, Jimmy reported on the Oct. 25 meeting where President Arthur Wenger discussed plans and outlook for the new library with the committee.

Projected cost is $1,000,000 (but will probably be inadequate) for a new building which will be constructed on controversial location. Several sites have been proposed, including the parking area in front of the administration building.

"At the meeting the comment was made that the college should not sell the Whitehead Annex House, so it could be used for parking," continued Adams. The committee welcomes contributions and input from everyone on the issue.

In further action, homecoming was tagged a success. The resumption of the parade and student participation in activities made the weekend enjoyable for everyone involved.

Ida Parker was crowned queen with Charleen Lilley first runner-up and Jan Hutchens second-runner-up.

The Circle K Walk-a-thon has been changed to December 8th.

Freshman class representatives were present for their first SGA meeting. Phil Faison is president and Jerry Sledge is senator.

Students Plan Campaign

By ANN PINSON

The Circle K Club and Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity are planning a door-to-door canvass of Wilson Nov. 16-17 for Multiple Sclerosis. These groups are working with Dr. W. R. Parker Jr., chairman of the Psychology Department.

Multiple Sclerosis (MS) is a chronic crippling disease that affects the nervous system. It is rather common organic disease affecting almost 500,000 people in the United States alone. The symptoms appear most often in young adults between the ages of 20 and 40. In the disease, the protective covering of the nerve fibers deteriorates, leaving scars. With the formation of scar tissue, nerve impulses may be blocked so that muscles do not perform their functions properly or at all. It is termed "multiple" because it affects many parts of the nervous system, and is frequently characterized by periods of remission or relief from symptoms followed by periods of partial or complete recovery.

Multiple Sclerosis has no one infallible sign, with almost part of the nervous system being involved. The spinal cord is probably the most frequently affected; its involvement may cause periods of partial to complete paralysis of the legs and sometimes of the trunk and arms.

Quite often the patients are unusually cheerful in spite of their symptoms. They continue to hope in spite of progressive impairment.

Unfortunately, the cause of the damage done has thus far eluded medical science. The National Multiple Sclerosis Society, the only voluntary health agency in the nation engaged in supporting research to find the cause of MS. All of the programs, research, professional education, public information, and community and patient services are supported with funds entirely and voluntarily contributed by the public. It is in this way that you, as young adults and a target of MS, can contribute and help in preventing MS.

Please support the volunteers when they pay you a visit — any amount will help.

Arnold Receives Honor

Russell W. Arnold, chairman of the Atlantic Christian College Department of Art, was named recipient of the Faculty Alumni Award presented by the ACC alumni Association at homecoming activities held at the college Nov. 3. He was selected for the honor by alumni, student and faculty representatives.

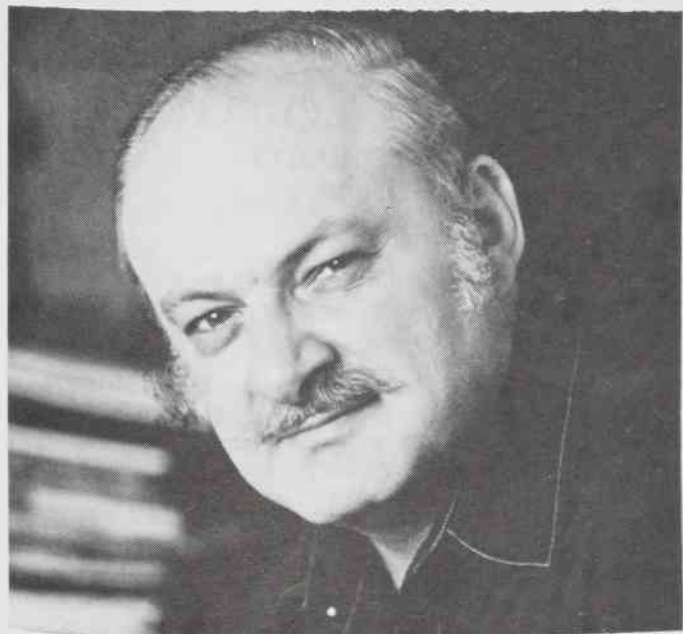

According to the citation which accompanied the award, Arnold was selected because of his devotion to the college, his leadership in development of a superior department of art, and his excellence as an artist.

A native of Plymouth; he received the A.B. degree from Atlantic Christian College, the Master of Arts in Creative Arts from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, and studied under Hans Hoffman in New York. He joined the Atlantic Christian College faculty in 1951 and became chairman of the Department of Art in 1953.

His works hang in galleries across the country as well as being included in numerous private collections. A highly versatile person, Arnold works well in every media. He has taken top prizes in most every major art competition in North Carolina and the southeastern United States.

He is married to the former Miss Arlene Bannister of New York. They have two children.

AC Observes Homecoming

Miss Ida Parker of New Bern, was crowned as Atlantic Christian College's 1973 Homecoming Queen here Friday night to kick off annual homecoming activities held at the college today.

The pretty coed is a senior majoring in early childhood education. She was sponsored by Delta Sigma Phi fraternity and was designed to reign over homecoming activities for the day.

One of the main highlights of the day was the annual homecoming parade held this morning in downtown Wilson. Making up the parade were some 35 units which included floats by campus organizations, five bands, the Shrine Horse Patrol, the Homecoming Queen and the Alumni Queen.

Alumni registration was held on the campus at 11 a.m. Saturday. The alumni business meeting was held at noon and four directors were elected to begin serving two-year terms. Named were Dr. Thomas H. Batchelor of Monroe, Albert F. Tyson of Kinston, Mrs. Harriet Thomas Holmes of Goldsboro and Mrs. Nancy Roberson Shugart of Wendell.

Named to serve a two-year term as alumni representative to the ACC Board of Trustees was Miss Sadie Green of Wilson.

Presiding over the business session was Dr. Darwin W. McCafferty of Raleigh, president of the ACC Alumni Association.

Officers of the association were elected the previous year and will continue to serve terms which expire in November, 1974.

The Wake County chapter of the association presented a gift of $50 to a student organization seeking funds toward the construction of a meditation center on the college campus.

During the alumni luncheon held at 1 p.m., Mrs. Peggy Fugate Chalmers of Newport News, Va., was presented as the 1973 Alumni Queen.

Dr. Larry A. High of Nashville was named recipient of the 1973 Alumnus of the Year Award by the alumni association. It is the highest honor which the association can bestow upon an alumnus who has distinguished himself and rendered outstanding service to the college over the years.

Alumni were guests of the college at a dinner held in the evening. Guest speaker for the event was Dr. Arthur D. Wenger, president of the college. An alumni-varsity basketball game followed the dinner.
