The New Sense By Bob Johnson

By BOB JOHNSON

Yes friends, blazing forth from the Wangzambi Shiffeld Forest of the mind once more it's Bungalo Bob and the travelling mind circus, circa 1888. In the first ring we have P. T. Nixon and the tight rope of floundering faltering indictments. See P. T. Nixon and his cast of thousands of the most dedicated public servants you've ever seen perform almost impossible feats. See them balance justice, and mercy, and honor without even the support of a net below, or even the support of most of America.

And now we take you to Yul Yippie the "Right On" hippie.

Take it away Yul Baby...

"This is Yul Yippie the 'Right On' Hippie at Q-D-Do-Do ... and those last three songs were, in order, the Eddy Arnold Singers with In-A-Goda-Da-Vida, Rick Nelson with Ozzie and Harriet and the Norman Takeoff Choir with their boss rendition of 'See Me, Feel Me, Pinch Me, and Flush Me,' and finally Jimmie Hendrix with his great guitar medley of Bicycle Built For Two, My Wild Irish Rose, and Beethoven's Bowl Movement from his Fifth."

Thank you Yul Yippie the "Right On" Hippie for those inspiring words of casting broads, or is that broadcasting?

We interrupt this insanity for a word or possibly fifty words of total nonsense and assorted mirth ... Playing tonight at the El Cheapo Theatre is erotic downtown Middlesex, KUNG FU MEETS KING KON. This exciting adventure flock combines the best of the King Kong legend with the furious fists and footies of the marital art of KUNG FU. See Kung Fu King Fu You attack and destroy King Kong's toenail. See King Kong step on and reduce Fu You to a soggy bowl of Chop Suei. KUNG FU MEETS KING KONG, tonight at the El Cheapo Theatre in sensual downtown Middlesex. Note: all seats revised.

Today this Forest is being sponsored by the United States Armed Forces with affiliates world wide. The United States Armed Forces, a growing international company, invests your son or maybe even a nephew or two.

And remember the Collegiate asks the musical question, "Who put the bomp in the bom-she-bomp-bomp or what in the name of water melons happened to Wolf Man Jack's voice or who shot Liberty Valence?"

The preceding announcements were made on behalf of Adolf Hitler, Attila the Hun, Nero, and Jack Benny. If you can make any sense out of these aforementioned remarks you'll need a hall pass from the Scarlet Pumpernel or it will be grounds for a high paying and highly provocative position with the Nixon Administration.

Good night Moyshe, good night Golda, good night Abba, good night Eban, and good night Richard whoever you are!

Supporting A Tradition

An editorial writer is often associated with attempts to exploit an event or criticize an individual. Unfortunately, this stereotype is about to seem tringly true. However, the intention is to support an American tradition.

Within the past year, Richard Nixon has come under pressure from virtually every side. Obviously the man is not perfect, nor is anyone else. The president deserves some of the flack he has received for setting himself up as a privileged citizen.

The Gallop Poll (who claims to know everything) says everyone feels Nixon should resign or be impeached. Well, Mr. Gallop tell the American people what would happen to the office of the president if "Czar Richard" should resign.

The position would be meaningless after the first president gave up authority. After any controversial decision or scandal, public opinion of the president falls. The impeachment of a president, therefore, cannot depend solely on public opinion. Resigning would be an indication that the president felt himself guilty of some high crime. The chief's guilt would be a reflection of the voting populous. The voters should have scutinized their choice for leaders of the nation just a little better.

Is there a legitimate ground for the impeachment of Richard Nixon? Has he committee treason? Has he committee some high crime detrimental to the citizens of the United States? These questions must be answered by every voter.

Getting on the bandwagon has always been a popular pastime. Yet, something as important as impeachment is no place to follow the crowd. It is a place for independent, individual action.

Atlantic Christian is a hotbed for crowd pleasers. Maybe, the time has come for ACC students to stop being kids and start acting like the educated personalities they are paying dearly to develop.

Computer Service

Thanks to a contribution of $50 from Pi Gamma Mu and $20 each from students of Political Science Seminar and the cooperation of Wilson County Technical Institute, it has enabled the political science department to use the computer facilities at Research Triangle Park for computer data analysis. It should be noted that the computer services provided by the Research Triangle Park services about 55 graduate and undergraduate institutions through teletype terminals and is one of the best in the world.

Opinions On Visitation

The trial visitation period on campus will be ended after this weekend. The matter will then go back to the executive committee on April 3.

Interviews were held with various members of the college staff, regarding several points concerning visitation.

1. How do you feel that visitation procedures have gone up to now?

Miss Birnbaum — Visitation has worked smoothly, without any major problems.

Dean Nadelman — Generally, real well. There have been a few major problems such as girls sunbathing on Waters Hall roof and some of the house council haven't taken their major responsibilities seriously.

Miss Parrish — It has gone very well.

Dean Whitehurst — I had not anticipated any problems with the procedure.

2. Have the students been willing to cooperate?

Dean Nadelman — Generally yes. Four or five have had their doors locked but 100's have done it correctly. However, a handful could ruin it.

Miss Daniels — Yes, I've been well pleased. If it continues like this, I don't see any problems at all.

3. What procedures for basing

There will be a joint SGA meeting of old and new officers Tuesday, April 2 at 6:30 in Trustee Room.

Room drawing for women will be held Wednesday, April 3 in Hardy Alumni Hall at 1:00 — for seniors
2:00 — for juniors
3:00 — for sophomores

Applications for summer school employment and financial aid can now be picked up at the Financial Aid Office.

visitation on a full-time basis have to be fulfilled after this 4 week trial period?

Dean Nadelman — I see the fulfilled procedure to be based on whether the students have gone by the guidelines NOW. A large part is based on the parent write-in.

Miss Birnbaum — The procedure needed to be fulfilled for a full-time visitation depends on the full participation in the re-evaluation. Miss Birnbaum stresses an HONEST evaluation. The evaluation is in accordance with the forms requiring the students reactions.

Miss Parrish — I have no idea, I really don't. There hasn't been any real discussion of it, so I wouldn't know.

4. Besides student behavior and voiced opinions concerning trial visitation, what facts are going to influence the passing of visitation on a full-time basis?

Dean Whitehurst — I don't know.

Miss Parrish — I wouldn't know what to say or where to begin, because I don't know who, I suppose the President. I'm just taking it from the point that they were going to have to see how it works.

Dean Nadelman — Parents and alumni influence the board of trustees in concern with the emotional, spiritual, and mainly the financial problems. The Dean feels that visitation has little to do with student applications for next year. However, a few students that are now attending ACC might leave.

Miss Birnbaum — It is difficult to say or decide just what facts will influence visitation. It will be based on the reactions of the Board of Trustees and their action.

5. Will the students have a voice in the final decision concerning the passing of visitation on a full-time basis?

Dean Nadelman — The students have more of a voice for its' not passing than for its' passing. In other words, if the students were against visitation, it would STOP. If the students are for it, they just "keep it moving." It is up to the students to initiate visitation, but they will not have a final say.

Dean Whitehurst — The executive committee is planning on sending out another survey to the students to get their reaction to the trial visitation. The responses to these surveys could influence the final decision on visitation.

Miss Daniels — I would think so. I have no real way of knowing. I do not know what the procedures would be after this months' trial.

Miss Birnbaum — The students had a voice prior to the trial visitation when the representatives went before the trustees. It is difficult to say if the students will have a final say. My only suggestion is that the students speak through their representatives on the SGA.

In Defiance Of Science

Scared, for two weeks I choose
If to write is to win or lose.
Am I safe in cowardly compliance,
Or should I slander the Department of Science?

Are their meals made of something caustic?
Towards my god, they seem agnostic.
Pulling frogs, rats, worms, ferns,
From their sterile, white lab coats.

Why am I here, have I been captured
To be dissected (not die-sected),
To be analyzed, studied. My pride
Says I'll soon be in formaldehyde.

Practicals, microscopes, lab kits,
I'm hysteric, it gives them fits.
Two hour classes on wooden stools,
Hearing lectures, feeling like fools.

Can (really I do) I care if the color of hair
Has something to do with those funny squares.
Or if fungi is half of a lichen,
With the other half being unicellular?

Will the Monkey Trial bother us here,
Or is the pitiful human all that near
To the monkey swinging on a limb
Who faintly resembles your dear Uncle Jim.

What about primates, zygotes, sporangia?
What makes the world go round is gametangia.
Chemistry, Physics, Botany, the rest
Teachers and people can only detest.

Do I say more, do I dare?
No more from me, it's their affair.
Still, for me science is a mystery,
Chercher la femme, the Department of History.
