

Due to the quietness of AC campus, it is possible for students to do some enjoyable studying beneath the trees.

Rush To Begin Soon

Phi Mu

Phi Mu would like to extend their thanks to the freshmen girls who brought them the cake. It was enjoyed and very much appreciated. We would also like to invite all transfer and freshmen women to our washboard band party on Oct. 3 at 5:45 in Hardy Alumnae Hall.

Delta Zeta

The sisters of Delta Zeta again have had an active week. Monday night they had a social with the brothers of Sigma Phi Epsilon. The event turned out to be a lot of fun for all. The Delta Zetas would like to thank the brothers and let them know how much they enjoyed themselves.

The Delta Zetas sponsor a little girl, Priscilla Murphey, at the deaf school. They took Priscilla shopping this week and outfitted her with some new clothes.

Thursday the brothers of Alpha Sigma Phi and the Delta Zetas will hold a slave sale. This event will take place by the fountain at 11:00. Come out and watch the fun, or even better, purchase a slave who will be yours for the day to do any odd jobs you might need done.

This weekend, Delta Zeta will initiate five pledges into the sorority. The pledges are anxiously waiting to become sisters.

On Tuesday, Sept. 24, the sisters are holding a Pre-Rush party at the intramural field, between 6-8 p.m. Any interested girls are urged to attend and join in the fun.

Delta Sigs

The Brotherhood of Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity is very pleased to welcome all new and old students back to A.C.C. We would like to invite all interested men (and women) to come by and visit us at 804 W. Nash St. You can't miss our house with its once beautiful airplane in the front yard.

Delta Sig is a closely knit group and we enjoy participating in things together, whether it be socially, educationally or whatever. However, we do stress individuality among our brothers, so that one will be able to confront and deal with all the experiences that he will face while on his own. We stress every man to be his own man while still blending together to be a strong group.

During this week of Rush, go Greek and drop by the Delta Sig House. As our sign in the front yard states — Go Delta and let us teach you to do the flying.

Albert's Recital

Miss Barbara Albert will present a senior flute recital on Monday, Sept. 23, at 8:15 p.m., in Howard Chapel on the campus of Atlantic Christian College. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ross Albert of Wilson.

A music education major, she is a pupil of Cathy Knight, flute instructor at the University of North Carolina and flautist with the North Carolina Symphony Orchestra. Miss Albert will be accompanied by Hal Tyson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Bruce Tyson of Wilson, who will play the harpsichord and piano. He has studied at the North Carolina School of the Arts.

Assisting in two numbers will be Alton Watkins of High Point, a student of guitar at Atlantic Christian, and Joan Mack, instructor of violoncello at East Carolina University.

As a supplement to her studies at Atlantic Christian, Miss Albert has participated in several off campus musical activities. She received a scholarship to attend the Brevard Music Center in the summer of 1974, and in November she performed in a master class with Samuel Baron at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Early this past summer she participated in a master class-seminar with James Pellerite at Indiana University. Later she studied with Philip Dunigan at the North Carolina School of the Arts summer session.

Miss Albert's program will consist of an early music suite, a sonata by Telemann, and works by Schubert, Prokofieff, and Messiaen. The recital is given in partial fulfillment of the B.S. degree.

A reception is to follow the recital. There will be no admission charge.

Sigma Pi

We, the brothers of Sigma Pi, cordially invite all men to our last smoker of the fall semester. It is our wish to aid men in their search for a place in our college community and to help them realize their full capabilities and talents. As before, we urge everyone to visit all four of the fraternities on our campus before making a decision.

JOE HUNNICUTT

UCCF

Do you need a break from the regular routine of classes? Then come join United Campus Christian Fellowship. This is an organization for all denominations, where people join together for Christian fellowship and worship. Officers for this year are: Leigh McClelland and Janet Poole, Co-President; Ann Davenport, Secretary; and Libby Taylor, Treasurer. If you have any questions regarding this organization, please get in touch with one of the officers. We meet every other Thursday, alternating between First Christian Church and First Presbyterian. Rides leave Harper Hall at 5:45. Our next meeting will be September 26, at First Christian. (Dinner is served at each meeting).

Illustrations By ACC Alumnus Exhibited

The 1974-75 season for the Atlantic Christian College Art Gallery begins Sept. 2, with a one-man show of illustrations by Marcus Hamilton, a nationally published and recognized award winning illustrator.

A graduate of Atlantic Christian College with a B.S. degree in commercial art, he has been an art director for a TV station and worked in advertising situations in Charlotte and Atlanta. He has been a full-time free lance illustrator since 1972.

Hamilton's illustrations have appeared in 16 national magazines. Two of his works have been accepted by the Society of Illustrators. He has had work published in the last two issues of "Illustrators Annual," a top publication of national recognition.

In addition, he works as an illustrator for advertising agencies in North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia. "Hamilton's work shows great versatility and is an excellent example of the best illustration being done today," commented Thomas Marshall, gallery director. "We are proud that he is a product of our program."

The show of illustrations will remain on display through Noon, Sept. 30. The public is invited. There is no admission charge. Groups are welcome. The gallery schedule is: Monday, Wednesday, Friday — 10 a.m.-5 p.m.; Tuesday, Thursday — 12 noon-5 p.m.; Tuesday — 7 p.m.-9 p.m.

Mars Hill College and N.C. State School of Design. As the owner of the largest home planning center in the Carolinas, Miller is a former president of the N.C. Association of Home Design and the N.C. Institute of Residential Design.

Miller has drawn a rather large selection of the historical buildings across the state, winning numerous local state art awards in the process while his reputation as a skilled pen and ink artist grew. He was awarded the prestigious North Carolina Literary Historical Award in 1970.

Since April of this year, he has been commissioned to do two drawings for the Henderson Savings and Loan; a pen and ink of the Wilson County Library; five buildings on the campus of Campbell College; Beaufort County Historical Society retained him to draw the old courthouse at Washington; the Wake County Library Board requested a turn of the century recreation of the old Olivia Raney Library; Duke University Chapel and calendars for two North Carolina Banks.

During a recent visit to Atlantic Christian College, Miller commented, "Howard Chapel captures the dignity and serenity of Atlantic Christian College. It is a building that shows character." Howard Chapel was built in 1939 and named in memory of Curtis William Howard who was a trustee of Atlantic Christian College and a minister of the Christian Church for 60 years.

Business:

Evel Knievel

Evel Knevil didn't make it. But did you ever wonder why? That's a hard question to answer but there are a few possibilities. 1) Were the engines used powerful enough for such a span as the Snake River Canyon? 2) Was the speed maintained enough to carry one such a distance? Mr. Truax and company should have these answers so was the feat done just for the money.

I do not know this answer but it is very questionable. Do you know anything about the business world today and the prices heroes (like Knevil) receive for performing such stunts. How about the money drawn in from the spectators?

SOLUTION: Aerodynamics is so sophisticated nowadays that a glider type model might make the jump at the Snake River Canyon. Recently in California a Cal. Tech Student designed a glider that sailed for two hours and landed safely after being launched from the side of a cliff on the Pacific Highway in Carmel. This was done in much the same fashion as Mr. Knevil.

SUMMARY: Evel Knevil is a richer man today and a very smart businessman.

Look for future articles in the Collegiate on the business minded Americans and the solutions to the problems with which they are confronted.
