NUMBER FOUR

Homecoming Festivities This Weekend

AC's 1975 Homecoming begins tomorrow night at 8:00 with a semi-formal dance in the New Gym featuring "Warehouse". At this time our queen will be announced from the following top eleven: Mary Atkins, Senior Class; Martha Barnes, Circle K; Ellen Bowen, Sigma Pi; Joy Butler, Men's Interdorm; Kathryn Crooke, Sigma Sigma, Sigma; Lynn Lee, Sophomore Class; Donna Lemons, Women's Interdorm; Catherine Panarese, Alpha Sigma Phi; Kay Weaver, Delta Zeta; Delores Williams, Cheerleader Patricia Williams, Sigma Pi Alpha Honorary Language Fraternity.

The parade will begin at 10:00 Saturday morning. Entries for the parade include floats, the top ten candidates and the homecoming queen, bands, etc.

which promises to be a colorful parade. The "pig picking" luncheon will have added to its activity different organizations on campus displaying booths of periods of music. A local square dancing group will be here, the band and vocal ensemble will also present a concert. Saturday night a basketball game will be played and at this time the winner of the floats will be announced and also the best decorated dorms will be awarded.

Going along with the saying, "Life is what you make it," this year's homecoming can be exactly what you as ACC students want it to be. So many of the students sit around and talk about the apathy on our campus, well here is your chance to prove different. Put every effort you possibly can to be proud of your school and make student life more exciting. If you are one to constantly condemn and not help build realize the good that is present here and join in with us to make this event a success. I love this school, the student body, faculty, and what it has to offer. I feel if you will take a positive attitude you can do a lot to make AC even better. Start now by participating and getting involved with our Homecoming. Remember YOU are the one who makes AC.

Hundreds of Atlantic Christian College alumni are expected to return to their alma mater for 1975 Homecoming activities scheduled for Friday, Oct. 31, and Saturday, Nov. 1.

The 1975 Homecoming Queen will be crowned during intermission at the Homecoming Dance scheduled for Friday evening beginning at 7:30 p.m. The Homecoming Queen is now being selected from among 26 contestants sponsored by campus organizations.

Registration will begin Saturday morning on center campus at 11 a.m. A hospitality booth will be hosted on center campus by the ACC Alumni Association.

College open house will be held from 3:30 to 6:30 p.m. The Class of 1950 plans its 25th Reunion Dinner in the college cafeteria at 6:30 p.m. The annual Varsity-Alumni Basketball Game will be held in Wilson Gymnasium beginning at 7:30 p.m.

DONATION TO EASTERN NORTH CAROLINA SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF: The Brothers of Sigma Pi fraternity on Gold Street recently completed a fund raising drive which resulted in a donation of around $200 to the Eastern North Carolina School For the Deaf. Presenting the check to Superintendent McAdams (center) are Drew Lankford (right) and Rick Bass. McAdams praised the fraternity as well as the entire school, pointing out that close ties with Atlantic Christian have been a cornerstone of the school's success. (Photo by Russell Rawlings)

DiCecco Trio In Concert

One of North Carolina's finest instrumental trios, the Di Cecco Trio, will present a concert in the Coral Room of the Music Building November 4, 1975. The trio — consisting of violin, cello, and piano — will perform Sonatas for piano — Cello by Debussy and Shostakovich and a Brahms Trio.

Luca De Cecco, cellist, is chairman of the Creative Arts Department at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte and cellist in the Rowe String Quartet in residence there. He holds a Bachelor and Master of Music degree from Indiana University, where he was the recipient of the coveted performer's certificate.

Arlene Di Cecco, violinist, is a licentiate of the Royal Academy of Music in London. She took part in the Vacanze Musicali in Venice and traveled with an Italian chamber orchestra while studying with Remi Principe at Santa Cecilia in Rome, where she met her husband, Luca. A native South African, she has been an associate on the faculty at Duke University, where she was a member of the Ciampi Quartet.

Joseph Kitchen, pianist, an associate professor of mathematics at Duke University, is a holder of A.B. and Ph.D. degrees from Harvard University. He studied music at the Cincinnati Conservatory, Harvard, and the Longy School of Music. As a special scholarship student at Longy, he studied piano with Lily Dumont, organ with Melville Smith, and theory with Nicholas Van Slyck.

THE DI CECCO TRIO will appear in Harper Hall next Thursday night at 8:00 p.m. The members of the trio are (left to right) Arlene Di Cecco, violinist; Luca Di Cecco, cellist; and Joseph Kitchen, pianist. This highly talented group brings a touch of classical class to ACC.

One Acts Underway

Student directed one acts are busy rehearsing. The three short plays will be presented Thursday and Friday, November 20 and 21 at 8:00 p.m.

Something I'll Tell You Tuesday, directed by Leigh McClellan, is the story of an elderly couple watching their daughter's "active" marriage. Agnes (Donna Perrin) and Andrew (Bruce Marshall) reminisce as they watch their overbearing, selfish daughter Hildegard (Jackie Parker) and her husband, George (Hal Hummel) go at each other constantly. Another character, Mrs. Hasselback (Tricia Lough) enters into the picture. The story is light with deep undertones.

Lemonade, directed by Jackie Parker, is the story of two middle-aged ladies who meet on the highway, each trying to sell spiked lemonade. Mabel Lanston (Leigh McClellan) is a wealthy socialite, as is her friend Edith Northey (Heather Jordan). Both of these ladies live a fantasy world and are selling lemonade as an excuse to get out of the house. The show indulges comedy to relay its important moral.

An adaptation of Mark Twain's The Diary of Adam and Eve is directed by Ernestine Cobb. Adam (Thomas Barnes) seems simply to ignore Eve (Mary Kay Merkle) who has another name for the Garden of Eden. Of course, no story of the two would be complete without the serpent, played by Cliff Blowe.

These One Acts promise to be some of the best dramatic renderings ever produced at ACC.
