Ghouls Visit A. C. Cafe

By DEBBIE DOSTER

Two headed men, vampires, ladies of the evening, weird unidentifiable ghouls, and a purple and yellow Ralph were a few of the strange sites that greeted the eyes of the A. C. students during the supper hour Halloween night in the cafeteria. In the midst of all the costumed goblins, booths were set up serving all kinds of foods and candies.

Now, the average person knows that food is to be eaten, but these strange creatures that showed up for supper obviously weren't aware of that. Just as soon as they received their food it was launched and became airborne. These new table manners were extremely contagious and within a matter of seconds the air was saturated with bits and pieces of peanuts, candy, ice, and even mustard.

When the food began to settle and the air began to clear, preparations were made for a costume contest. The costumes were all original and good and the judges had a difficult time choosing the winners.

Third prize was awarded to Darry Seymour, a plump pumpkin, second prize to Kendall Church, "a product of the environment; and first prize to Ruggie Copen, a hairy werewolf.

Peter Chamness, our evening's MC reluctantly surrendered his apple bobbing championship to Susie Davis who suffered with a grand total of twelve apples. Peter took second place with Tom Umberger trailing close behind.

This rapped up an extraordinary evening at the cafeteria for which Ralph and all of the employees in the cafeteria should be commended for a job well done.

Vacant Positions Filled

On October 26, the SGA Senate approved appointments to legislative committee filling positions that have been vacant since the general SGA elections last Spring. The Constitution and By-laws committee consists of the following: Miles Stanley, Chairman; Nancy Bridgers; Gregory Dozier; Cindy McNeill; Margaret Stewart; Jo Ann Cavanaugh; and Bobby Winne. Whitehurst, is composed of Donnie Jarman, Kathy Marcom, Dee Waters, Wanda Elks, Bert Godwin and Ron Anderson.

The Senate also approved the salaries of the Executive Board officers, a budgetary item that had created much debate. After a proposal to raise the allotments of the Freshman and Sophomore Classes to $500 was rejected, the Senate had the Budget Committee review the salaries at an open meeting. The Budget Committee returned with its original proposal of a

A Bloody Day at A.C.

If a friend was to be involved in a car accident and needed blood, where would that blood come from? Well, those who think that it is delivered by Count Dracula against the will of the donors is wrong!

Needed blood does not grow on trees. The only place one can get it is from another person. This is why the Red Cross will be sponsoring a Bloodmobile on Wednesday, November 8, from 11:00 to 5:00 p.m. Any student (Yes, that is any student) who has blood is asked to come out and give. If anyone is not capable of giving, they will be screened out before bleeding.

This year, there will be awards given out for the dorm and organization which gives the highest percentage of donations for the trip. Each dorm and organization should make sure that everyone comes out on Wednesday.

Last year, the bloodmobile left A.C. with over 400 donations. This visit was for a three day period and was one of the most successful for the school. But most of the donations came, not from the students, but from the community.

The Tidewater Region Bloodmobile serves much of this area of North Carolina and part of Virginia. Without this vital service, most of the hospitals in these areas would have a severe lack of much needed blood.

As students, everyone should show enough concern about their fellow man to take the few minutes it takes to give a little blood. Although it is not totally painless, it does not hurt that much. Show a little love for others for once. Give blood on Wednesday.
