NUMBER THREE

Whitehurst leaves A.C.

Zeb M. Whitehurst III, has been employment manager at the Wilson Memorial Hospital. He assumed his duties there Sept. 4. Prior to this time he was a member of the administrative staff at Atlantic Christian College for 12 years where he had served as alumni director, dean of students, and more recently, director of college relations.

A native of Farmville, he earned the B.A. degree from Atlantic Christian and the M.Ed. degree from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Previously he served as a teacher, assistant principal and principal in the Burlington City Schools, and served in the personal and methods division of Western Electric Co., Burlington, for five years.

Whitehurst is a director of the Wilson Kiwanis Club and serves as an institutional representative for the Boy Scouts of America. He is a deacon at Westview Christian Church. He and his wife, Kathryn, have two children, Kathy and Zeb IV.

Summer brings changes campus staff

by Kay Richey

Observant students at A.C. might have noticed some new faces among our faculty and administration. Many changes and additions have been made throughout the school.

In the English Department, Dr. Hemby is taking leave as Chairman of the Department for the year. Dr. Richard Schneider is acting as chairman. Tom McLennon is taking over the responsibilities of Mrs. Ruby Shackleford who retired last year. Dr. Cathy James is now teaching the Shakespeare classes and some freshman classes as well.

In the P.E. Department, Mr. Ed Cloyd is acting as department chairman for Dr. Sanford while Sanford has the added responsibility of coaching the A.C. Baseball team. Sanford will be replacing Coach Larry Thompson who has taken a position with a local high school.

New faces in the Administration Building include Diann Phelps, who is replacing Jodi Sexton as Dr. Doster's secretary. Ms. Phelps was a legal secretary for the four years prior to her new job with Atlantic Christian. She is enrolled in night courses here at A.C. Dean Davis also has a new secretary to replace Mrs. Cavanaugh who is semi-retired. She is Loretta Stallings, who received her b.s. in Business Administration from A.C.

Freshmen might have noticed one change that is not as obvious to upperclassmen. John Gay resigned his job as admissions counselor to teach English in Tarboro. Sam Modlin has taken his place and is now busily talking with possible new A.C. students.

In the Student Center, Mrs. Terri Payne has replaced Mrs. Wallace as secretary for the Dean of Men and the Director of Placement. Mrs. Wallace is presently working with a local chiropractor. Mrs. Payne previously worked at the Boy Scout Office in Burlington, N.C.

A new personality who has already been a help to many students is Mr. Craig Falor. Mr. Falor is replacing Bruce Tingle, presently working at High Point College.

The Collegiate extends a warm welcome to all of these new people.

Art Gallery opens season

A "Photography Invitational," featuring 125 works by 22 North Carolina artists, is the opening exhibition at Atlantic Christian College's Case Art Building Gallery. The show opened on Sept. 1, and will continue through Sept. 29.

Commenting on the exhibition, Thomas Marshall of the college's art faculty said, "this exhibition is widely representative of the different types of photography being done in this part of the country today. Some of the photographers have provided a rather traditional approach and technique, some a commercial approach, and still others a highly creative, almost painterly style.

"In addition to technical and stylistic variety," said Marshall, "there is a great variety of subject matter. Much of the work reflects the contemporary concern for form and design as subject, while a few indicate a refreshing, poetic interest in content. The exhibition is certainly exciting in its variety and interesting in its scope."

Works appearing in the exhibition are by Frank Anderson of Wilson; Henry Applewhite of Manteo; Robert Bailey of Woodleaf; Thomas Braswell of Wilson; Ben Casey of Nashville; Charles S. Cooke of Wilson; Muriel Ehrman-Mandel of Chapel Hill, who now has a one-woman exhibit at the Southeastern Center for Contemporary Art in Winston-Salem.

Jackson Hill of Raleigh, a staff photographer with the News and Observer; Max Freeze of Washington, a reporter with WITN-TV (channel 7); Chris Jones of Raleigh; Jerome Kohl of Raleigh; a professor of nuclear engineering at N.C. State University; Chuck Lewis of Durham; Victor Lucas of Durham, an anthropologist; Josh Mann of Pittsboro; John Menapace of Durham, who is associated with the Duke University Press; Lisa Morphew of Newport; Robert Rasch of Greenville;

Milton Rogerson of Wilson; John Rosenthal of Chapel Hill; John Scarlata of Banner Elk, who has been an artist-in-residence at The Penland School of Art in North Carolina; Alice Sebrell of Charlotte; and Charles Springman of Raleigh.

Gallery hours are: 10 a.m.-4:30 p.m. on weekdays, and 1-3 p.m. Saturdays. The public is invited free of charge.

Campus prepares for Homecoming

Atlantic Christian College will observe its 1979 Homecoming and Parents' Day on Saturday, Oct. 6. The occasion will honor the Classes of 1977, 1977 and 1979 as well as parents of students.

Registration for Homecoming and Parents Day will be 9:30-11 a.m. A convocation and dedication of Atlantic Christian's Hardy Center will be at 11 a.m., with a Hardy Center open house at 12 noon.

An all campus picnic has been scheduled at 12:45 p.m. Charge for campus visitors will be $2.50 each.

Alumni and parents will have an opportunity to meet with college faculty members at departmental receptions from 2-3 p.m.

Sports enthusiasts will have an opportunity to attend a special tennis match between Atlantic Christian's 1979 National Championship Team and ACC Alumni from 3-4:30 p.m. During this same period there will be an art exhibition in Case Art Gallery.

Two separate receptions will be held from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. A reception for parents, students and alumni, will be held at the home of President Harold C. Doster. A reception for the the classes of 1977, 1978 and will be held in homes of faculty members which will be announced at registration.

The final highlights of the day will be a dinner honoring the 1979 National Tennis Champions and the Homecoming Dance crowning the 1980 Homecoming Queen.

English Dep't adds two

by Dorothy Odom

The two new members of the English Department at A.C. promise to be assets to that already excellent faculty. Dr. Katherine James says her main focus is on English Literature, while Mr. Thomas McLennon's special interest is writing.

Dr. James comes to A.C. by way of Tennessee. She lists love of traveling among her interests. This past summer she spent three weeks traveling in England. Since she also mentioned a love for the theatre, she was happy to have had the opportunity to see eight of Shakespeare's plays while there.

Mr. McLennon earned his B.S. and M.S. in English Education at State University College,

Buffalo, N.Y. He says that the teaching of writing as a serious discipline has come to the fore within the past decade or so. Before that, in many cases, teaching writing to undergraduates was simply shifted onto graduate students. McLennon does not agree with the often quoted adage "Writers are born, not made." On the contrary, he feels that all students should know about what he calls the Four Modes of Writing: Expressive; Persuasive; Scientific and Literary. According to McLennon, specific techniques exist to teach students more effective ways to approach writing assignments than those suggested in most of the textbooks on the subject which are
