

THE JOKOLLEGIATE

April Fool's Special Edition

Atlantic Christian College

Number 2.2

PUBLISHED WEEKLY

The Collegiate is the Official Paper of the 1980 Olympic Games.

George T. Murphy, upon discovery that his seemingly innocent furniture stealing had resulted in death sentence. Upon notification, Murphy was heard to exclaim, "Huh?"

Murphy Execution Set for Founders Day

by John Roberts

George T. Murphy, President of the Student Government Association at Atlantic Christian College, is scheduled to be executed on May 1, 1980.

Charge with furniture stealing, Murphy seems to be a victim of an unwritten discipline policy in the SGA Constitution. Murphy was arrested last week for allegedly attempting to steal some valuable furniture in the Hardy half of the administration building. According to one eye witness, Murphy was seen "backing a furniture truck up to the door" of what was formerly the Hardy Library.

Rumor has it that Murphy planned to move the furniture of the offices of the Collegiate, the campus newspaper, where it would be destroyed by the flood waters which periodically cover the floors there. He planned to hide the furniture behind the $15,000 worth of extremely sensitive equipment which is housed there.

Allegations that other persons were involved have not been proven as one unnamed alleged co-conspirator was seen in the District Attorney's office, claiming he knew what Murphy was planning but refused to go along with it.

Trial for Murphy was unusually quick after defense attorneys were denied in an effort to have the culprit acquitted by reason of insanity. Afterwards, prosecutors overwhelmed the court with damaging evidence, including taking cheap shots, and a current history of the defendant's failures to keep appointments with certain high officials. Murphy claimed he was present at such appointments while the officials were the ones who did not show up; however, this testimony was stricken from the record as Murphy chose to speak out of turn and while not on the witness stand.

Defense attorneys had hoped to have Murphy acquitted on the basis that Mr. Ron Eggers, a psychology instructor at the school had diagnosed Murphy as having a "severe case of Hardy-Belk Administrative Complex."

The death penalty had never been considered as possible punishment until one small statement began to snowball during the sentencing.

It began as one administration official, flicking a blond hair from his lapel, stated, "He outta be hung."

Immediately, a faculty person, whose vote counts heavily in future Faculty Cup elections, began to chant, "Hang him, hang him!"

Murphy, obviously not knowing what to do, screamed, "Mercy, mercy!" At this point, the judge factored three equations, passed sentence and said, "You're welcome."

The outburst which resulted from the rather unusual sentencing created quite a stir as three persons were forced to be subdued by the college mace and the judge threatened to "call the Dean."

Editor's Note

This week's paper is an April Fools' edition. The only serious page in the paper is page 2. This means that you should not believe anything on any of the other pages.

This means that since this note is on Page 1, you cannot believe it. Which means that you can believe all articles except those on Page 2.

Meaning, that this article is true. So don't believe anything that is not on Page 2.

Oh, never mind.

We Support the SGA!

by John Roberts

During the past year, the Collegiate has continually supported the SGA Leadership.

As an example of the support the president receives from the entire campus, the Collegiate sent reporter John Roberts out into the field to take a random sampling of the students of ACC. Here's a sample of what he heard:

"Oh, she's doing alright, I guess."

"He's okay, I guess. Where's my dollar?"

"He's a credit to his race."

"So, you're John Roberts. See me in my office in twenty minutes."

"I'm sorry. I'm late for class."

"One of the finest engineering majors in the history of the college."

"Yes, I even offered to help buy his bus tickets to New York."

"He put more time than any of his fellow students in Greek Class."

"Who is this guy, Madge?"

"I don't know. Ignore him and maybe he'll go away."

"He came to my class, once."

"Terrific guy. One of a kind. I didn't know he died."

The Vice-President is loved by both friends and bitter enemies as well. And why not? The Vice-President position is always in the limelight of campus activities. The majority of the student body sees him in his role as Speaker of the Senate. But that's not his fault. The authors of our constitution saw fit to have the Vice-President chair the SGA Senate.

It's not an easy job. Being second in command to what everyone, except the Collegiate, refers to as an incompetent has to be a challenge. And as a challenge is just how he takes it.

All in all, he does okay I guess.

The SGA Treasurer is a supreme example of a tightwad. But then, that's what he needs to be. And let's face it. He's good at it. A good example of his moneymaking techniques is evident in his ability to buy a new car in these inflationary times, even without gainful employment.

We'd like to say more good things about him, but space is money, and, we don't have much of it.

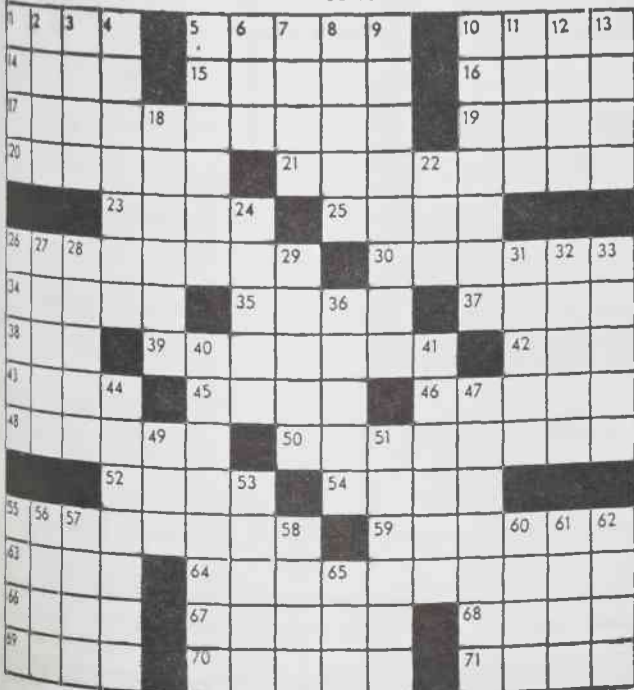

And then there's the SGA Secretary. A thankless job. Having to type up those absurd letters the SGA President sends to his mother on SGA stationary, she has to put up with a lot. And no one, out of fear for impeachment, will let her talk about it. It does have its benefits though. Contacted during her expense-paid leave of absence, she admits her loyalty to the SGA leadership.

All in all, a finer group of dedicated, hard-working students has never been assembled. Therefore, we of the Collegiate, wish to commend the leadership

see page 4

TODAY'S CROSSWORD PUZZLE

- | | | | |
|---------------------|--------------------|------------------|----------------------|
| ACROSS | 39 Sultry | DOWN | 34 Drug |
| 1 Campus gal | 40 Alarm | 1 Bicker | 35 A lot: Var. |
| 5 Medical inst. | 41 Trip | 2 Portly | 36 Gained |
| 9 Sharpen | 42 Noticeable | 3 Turgenev | 37 Strewer |
| 14 Skilled | 44 Witness | heroine | 40 Filthy |
| 15 Winged | 45 Remote | 4 Bank client | abodes |
| 16 Spinnet, e.g. | 46 " — — —" | 5 Meat | 42 Missile |
| 17 Corp. big shot | yourself" | 6 Smelly | 43 Pro and — |
| 18 Sorghum | 47 Dry | 7 Witch city | 45 Food producer |
| 19 Firth | 49 Cleared | 8 Sued | 47 Analyze |
| 20 Negative phrase: | 53 "Go — — —!" | 9 Steeples | 48 Thus |
| 2 words | Stop | 10 Colors | 50 Family |
| 22 Runaways | 57 Fabric | 11 Rhonchus | 51 — on: Prodded |
| 24 Rented | 58 False — | 12 Loner | 52 College heads |
| 26 Apportions | 59 Son of Seth | 13 Jardinieres | 53 California county |
| 27 Preposition | 61 Latvian city | 21 Creed | 54 Norwegian king |
| 29 Romaine | 62 Out-of-date | 23 Jacket style | 55 Speedy |
| 30 Embed | 63 Outside: Prefix | 25 Sot's problem | 56 Surf noise |
| 33 — — in the West | 64 Man's name | 28 Turn the — — | 60 Steep |
| 37 Salad | 65 Later | 30 Slice | |
| 38 Assign | 66 Retain | 31 Noble | |
| | 67 Radicals | 32 Bird sound | |
| | | 33 Tailows | |

UPCOMING EVENTS

- | | | |
|---|--------------------|---------------------------|
| Monday, March 24, 1980 | Hardy Hall | [admission $22 million] |
| Premier Showing of College Recruitment Film | Hardy Hall | |
| Tuesday, March 27, 1980 | Hardy Trustee Room | 5:45-6:00 |
| SGA Senate Meeting | Hardy Hall | |
| SGA Senate Refreshments | | |
| Wednesday, March 28, 1980 | | |
| Cancelled by Divine Intervention. | | |
| Saturday, March 31, 1980 | ACC Stadium | Next to Fine Arts Center] |
| Blue-White-Gold Trim Football Game | | |
| Other | Collegiate Office | Next big rainstorm |
| Collegiate Swimming Party | | |

that's it and 30

see page 4