

DOG DAYS!

by Jay Mumford

Howdy to everyone and welcome to your Dog Days of 1980-81. Here's hoping that all goes well for you this year.

I know after a summer of rest(well. . .) and relaxation (ha!), all of you hearty athletes are ready to spring forth and show your stuff to your fellow students. Ok, Ok, I know that you have been out in the gruelling sun and heat, stretching those flabby fibers into muscle once again. I can hear the moaning from sore and stiff legs, exhaustion, and numerous ailments of other sorts. But it all pays off in the end.

Boy, I wish that I were out there. But I'm safer here where the only type of injury I can receive are splinters, push button fingers, paper cuts, and reader abuse. I can hear that now as this article continues. During the weeks ahead we'll not only try to give our usually fantastic coverage of games and matches, but we plan to outline the strengths and weaknesses of our teams and hopefully spotlight the individuals who provide the outstanding efforts.

So now let's get back to work and continue to pour out all efforts to produce a vintage year full of --- 'Dog Days.

BULLDOG FEVER, CATCH IT!

by Ted Anderson

Welcome to ACC, the land of the BULLDOG. Yes, welcome freshman, transfers, and of course--- welcome back, to all returning students. I would like to take some time and share a thought with all of you ON and OFF campus students. As I strolled along the grounds of ACC, I saw something very special, very unique. Something that ACC has. It's a seed ready to bud. You might say, "What is this seed?" It's you--- the people of ACC. There is a spirit amongst your faces just ready to burst. It radiates through all your faces. Just look at yourselves--- carefully. You'll see what I'm seeing. I have a feeling that ACC will unite again. Everybody I feel will come together and take part in the Bulldog cause. It looks like everybody wants to get involved. This is terrific, wonderful, and stupendous!

If all of us, can come together, unite---like I know we can--- through a) Student Government; b) extra activities; c) supporting our soccer, volleyball, basketball, baseball, tennis, track, golf, and softball teams. ACC will be awesome--- well-known--- everybody will look to us. Being there provides a stamina, a pride that ACC is numero uno---NUMBER 1 because that's what we're capable of. It's an injustice if we're not number 1.

I think we can provide that magic. I have that gut feeling that all frats, sororities, clubs--- EVERYBODY will do their darnedest to help keep ACC Bulldogs Number 1. It takes teamwork, WE NEED YOU to ignite the Bulldog cause. "Everybody" winners come together and eventually become champions. Are you ready to become champions? Well let's do it and remember one thing, YOU GOTTA BELIEVE!

lack of chairs). Well, that's the way it goes! Who knows, there probably wouldn't have been too big a showing at the cockfight either. . . if we had had it.

INTRAMURALS

by Dr. Sandra Miele

Welcome to ACC! The intramural staff hopes that you will make your life at ACC an active one by participating in the many activities offered by the intramural program. As you are making new friends during the first few days of school, why not start organizing your intramural team now!

We have few regulations, however, all teams must provide a team roster to the intramural office by the deadlines that are specified. When you submit your team, an intramural handbook will be presented to you. This handbook will provide all the important information concerning rules, awards, and deadlines.

Plan now to participate in intramurals. You may win an intramural champion T-shirt (presented to individual sports and co-ed champs), or a team championship plaque (presented to the team that wins the team sport championship). If you're extremely active, you may be the recipient of the Presidential Award which will be presented to the individual (both male and female) who accumulates the most intramural points over the academic year.
