

SGA Announces Homecoming Plans

Tropical Paradise is this year's Homecoming theme and the Student Government Association has planned many events to keep ACC students involved in the spirit.

The festivities start with a spirit week Nov. 2-6, when activities for class competition will be held.

On Friday, Nov. 6, the Homecoming Dance will be held at the Wilson Moose Lodge from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. The Homecoming Queen will be crowned at 10 p.m. Admission is $5 for couples and $3 for singles. Staircase, a band from Virginia, will play the top 40 and a variety of music for dancing and listening pleasure. The attire for men is coat and tie and for ladies, short or long dresses.

On Saturday, Nov. 7, the fraternities will have an all day open house. From 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. the Homecoming Carnival will be held on center campus. The booths are sponsored by various ACC organizations and fun, food and games will be available to all. At 2 p.m. the Covenant Players, a mime troupe, will perform in Howard Chapel. Hopefully, at 7:30 p.m., there will be the District Soccer Game in Fleming Stadium. Watch for further details.

On Sunday, Nov. 8, a special church service will be held in Howard Chapel at 9:30 a.m. The Gospel Choir and the College Choir will perform. At 2 p.m. the ACC Contemporary Band along with neighboring high school bands will perform on center campus. At 7:30 p.m. a talent show will be held in Hardy Alumni Hall.

On Nov. 6-8 there will also be an exhibition of paintings and drawings from the North Carolina Museum of Art and from private collections, in the Case Art Building.

The SGA welcomes all ACC students and friends to join in the fun at this year's Homecoming.

Pre-registration Plans

Pre-registration for spring semester 1982 will be held Nov. 10-16. Only students enrolled in fall semester 1981 may pre-register.

Students should pick up their registration packet at the Registrar's office on the following days:

Seniors and Juniors—Thursday, Nov. 5—8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Sophomores and Freshmen—Friday, Nov. 6—8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

On Tuesday, Nov. 10, at 11 a.m., all currently enrolled students who wish to pre-register should meet with their major department chairman to review requirements and receive instructions on how to arrange individual conferences with advisers. Department locations for the meeting will be shown on page 4 of the schedule of courses which will be in the registration packet.

Individual adviser conferences will be held Nov. 10-16. Pre-registration will end at 4 p.m., Nov. 16.

Learning Center Launches New Tutorial Program

By Shereen Heath

The Learning Resource Center, a service provided by the Department of English and Modern Languages, is designed to help students with study skills, reading assignments, tests and other aspects of college academics. Many students feel that this program is only for students who are having difficulties in these areas. However, MacLennan emphasizes that the Learning Resource Center is also designed to help the more advanced student improve his skills.

One of the changes planned for the center is the hiring of student tutors. MacLennan feels that peer tutoring is very important since a student may feel more comfortable receiving advice from a fellow student who is interested in helping him. This plan should be in effect by the beginning of November.

The center is also preparing several competency-based packets. These programs are designed to aid students in specific areas of study. Test sophistication, one of these program areas, will prepare the student to deal with various forms of tests, such as multiple choice or fill-in-the-blank. Another program will deal with reading skills. This will enable the student to develop effective conceptualism, or the ability to grasp basic concepts presented in an assignment. As a result, the student will be better able to comprehend and retain material. Other areas which will be developed are the improvement of language and writing skills.

As these changes are gradually put into effect, the Learning Resource Center will develop into a program which can be beneficial to all students at Atlantic Christian College.
