Jam the Gym!

By Russell Rawlings

Atlantic Christian students and followers are being called on this week to combine in a joint effort to provide a packed house for Saturday's men's basketball game with Pfeiffer College at 7:30 p.m.

And just imagine the look of Pfeiffer coach Tom Childress' face when he brings his team into normally stoic Wilson Gym with a crowd of 2,000-plus on hand to back the Bulldogs.

Sound like a dream? Well in a sense it is. But anyone who has ever heard of the San Francisco 49ers knows that dreams can come true. Hopefully that will be the case Saturday night.

Jam-the-Gym Night is the first of its kind held at ACC. There have been Spirit Nights in the past, and granted those nights have brought out some great crowds.

But there's never been anything like Jam-the-Gym Night. There will be prizes, contests, a dunking exhibition, radio coverage, and, if the Atlantic Christian and Wilson community are up to the task, a full gym.

The evening is being sponsored by the Bulldog Club of Wilson and radio station WVOT. Dave Hacker is representing Penny's in the venture while Dick Oakley is contributing his efforts on behalf of WVOT.

Penny's will provide the prizes, and there will be some good ones. A television, radio, tape players and more will be drawn for at halftime of the game. Anyone coming into the gym will be handed a numbered ticket, and the winning numbers will be announced during intermission.

The Bulldogs will need strong support in their bid to upset the No. 1 team in the Carolinas Conference. Pfeiffer is having a great season, including a big win earlier over AC.
