Bennett Receives Prominent Visitor In Psychology

Dr. Gregory A. Kimble, professor of psychology at Duke University, Durham, North Carolina, was the guest of the psychology department at Bennett College for two days this month. He lectured and conferred with interested students. Dr. Kimble's principal field is learning, and his lectures were centered around this subject, in addition to discussing the advantages of going into experimental psychology. He presented an informal discussion on Thursday evening, February 25, at 7:30 in Cone Hall on "Governmental and other support for training and research in Psychology". Friday morning, February 26, at 10:30, he presented a formal lecture on "Attitudinal Factors in Eyelid Conditioning".

Dr. Kimble received his B. A. degree at Carleton College, his M. A. degree at Northwestern University, and his Ph. D. at the State University of Iowa. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa national honor society. He has held positions at Brown University, University of Missouri, Yale University, Howard University, as well as at Duke. The professional associations to which he belongs includes the American Psychological Association, Society of Experimental Psychologists, Consulting Editor for the Journal of Experimental Psychology and many others. Two of his most outstanding publications are Hilgard and Marquis' Conditioning and Learning, and Principles of General Psychology.

Candidate For City Council Addresses Student Body

Osborn Stafford candidate for the Greensboro City Council addressed the college student body, Monday, February 15.

Mr. Stafford, a graduate of Dudley High School, A&T College and the University of Pittsburgh, is an electronics test planning engineer, and an active member in a number of community organizations.

He gave a brief sketch of Greensboro's history. He believes that "it is now time to build within." He said that we must find new approaches to old problems. "True representation comes from the people."

He explained that his interest is in the Negro businessman, "for the Negro businessman is a vital link in the economic chain; he must be encouraged to move forward."

He explained the problem of Negro dwelling and high cost of finding sufficient dwelling. Multiple housing situations, "shot gun" houses, are a problem and there is a need for the availability of more land at a reasonable cost.

"The political life is at its

Members Are Initiated To Two Honor Societies

Nine members were initiated to Alpha Kappa Mu and one to Pi Gamma Mu for the first semester. These students have exhibited a level of academic achievement in their all around performance or in a specific area.

The members of Alpha Kappa Mu elected candidates from students with an overall average for the four years of B-plus. They were: Seniors, Catherine Stallings, Tupelo, Miss., English major; Mary Adams, Pototoc, Miss., Music major; Velma Harris, Camden, N. J., Elementary Education major; Johnnie Dalton, Greensboro, Elementary Education major; Lillie Madison, Brevard, N. C., English major. Juniors initiated were: Eva Rice, Washington, D. C., English major; Amanda Houston, Kinston, N. C., Mathematics major; and Wie Lie So, Sumatra, Indonesia, Pre-Med major. (Pictured to the left)

The member inducted into Pi Gamma Mu, which is an honor society of students having a "B" average in the social sciences, is Greta Middleton. Greta is from Charleston, South Carolina and a political science major.

lowest ebb. This is caused by the need for the Negro vote but this cannot be so until voter education is stressed. It must be a part of the schools."

Mr. Stafford's platform, yet incomplete, was stated as follows:

1. To modify some of the policies of urbanization.
2. To redistribute recreational facilities based on population.
3. To seek solutions to the slum problem.
4. To investigate practices of hiring.
5. To enforce zoning laws.
6. To make the budget more flexible as far as taxing is concerned.
7. Support the downtown redevelopment.
8. To help in the area of safety.
9. To make himself available to the people.
10. To promote and encourage voter registration.

College Choir To Take Tour

The Bennett College Choir, under direction of Mrs. Mary J. Crawford, will begin its northern tour on March 28. The choir will be away from the campus for ten days. Scheduled performances will be given in Alexandria, Va.; Sunbury, Pa.; Milton, Pa.; Bloomsburg, Pa.; and Wilmington, Del.

The highlight of the tour will be the choir's performance at Lycoming College in Williamsport, Pennsylvania where Dr. Player was awarded an honorary degree. The choir is also looking forward to meeting other college students perhaps at Howard, Lincoln and Bucknell universities when they are in these specific areas.

Attendance Report

The attendance report which was drawn up this summer by student members of the Bennett College Summer Staff was recently reviewed and approved with additions by the faculty.

The report was distributed to the student body. One special addition was the procedure for reading or study periods. This states that reading or study periods shall be made available for all students, regardless of classification, during the final two hour meeting times of the second semester 1965.

Some clarification, was the extent to which many of the proposals were adopted. Many procedures were in existence but not written as such.

The statement is effective this semester.

BENNETT WELCOMES NEW STUDENTS

Second semester at Bennett College has brought with it many new students, returning students, and exchange students.

These new students are Marcelette Anthony, Brenda Ellis, Louise Fraser, Marqueritte Johnson, Elizabeth Kent, Sandra McFadden, Wanda Dula, Marilyn Viola, Judith Rann, and Kathleen Bendix.

Special students include Betty Reece and Gertude Warren. A hearty welcome back to these returning students: Clara-leata Matthews, Ellen Alexander, Delores Comer, and Shirley Ruffin.

There is one returning exchange student, Sandra Satterwhite who has been on a semester exchange to DePauw University.

Antioch Quartet Featured in Concert

The Antioch Quartet concert was held February 5 in the Pfeiffer Chapel. The four artists were Myron Kartman, Almita-Hyman Vamos, Wallace Ruskin and Roland Vamos.

An interview with the group disclosed the fact that they are a touring quartet sponsored by Antioch College in Yellow Springs, Ohio, where these four artists are instructors in music. This plan was sponsored by the college as a learning experience for both the instructor and the individuals for whom they play.

After leaving Bennett the quartet will play at some forty other colleges and high schools.

The group was asked why they felt that this tour is a good idea. The answer was that they wish to play music for groups of students who would otherwise not have been able to hear the particular type of music.

Bennett Exchange With Holyoke Ends

The Bennett-Mount Holyoke exchange for this school term terminated last week. This is an annual two-week exchange between the two colleges.

Students from Mount Holyoke were Nanette Dimino, a senior from Chatham, New Jersey who is a Russian major. Barbara Richards, a sopho-
