

Festival of May - A Photo Essay

The crowning of the May Day Queen

The raindrops served only to enhance her regal beauty. Such was the case May 4 when Bennett's Annual May Day was held.

The procession began with the attendants, two representatives from each class, followed by the honorary attendant, Miss Gloria Dash and finally her majesty, in all her regal beauty Miss Jemmie Peevy.

The scene for the queen and her court activities was slightly changed when an unscheduled shower began. The queen with royal sweep of her gown proceeded to the chapel. There amid the somber beauty of the chapel the festivities continued. The participants proceeded to get a scene of gaiety and fun. The theme of the May Day: A Masquerade to Spring, was set to Music and Dance.

The program was truly a tribute to spring. There was only one slight disappointment, however, the annual May pole Dance was terminated.

Neither rain, nor snow, nor the gloom of night could stop the May Day Procession.

Dean Winston, the ring bearer and flower bearer

Guess who? Rap Brown

The Queen and her first attendant

The Modern Dance Group in "The Masquerade"

Strolling In Beauty

None other than Bonnie and Clyde