SWINGS SPONSOR BENEFIT GAME

On Friday Night, March 23, 1973, the Swing Phi Swing Social Fellowship, Inc. sponsored a swing vs. faculty basketball game.

The basketball game was a kick-off in their drive to raise funds to be donated to the Sickled-Cell Anemia Foundation.

The game was very exciting with scores being close throughout the time. Faculty and Staff participating in the game were: Dr. Boone, Mrs. Adams, Dr. Trobian, Miss Davis, Mrs. Walker, and Mrs. White. High scorer for the evening was Mrs. Adams with 11 points followed by Mrs. Walker and Mrs. White.

The Swings participating in the game included: Sylvia Freeman, Cheryl Miller, Roxanne Aaron, Valerie Tillman, Darlene Johnson. High scorer for the Swings was Denise Johnson with 11 points, followed by Valerie Tillman, and Darlene Rose.

The half-time activities included recognition of those members of the Swing Phi Swing Fellowship who have received honors and introduction of Dr. Trader, chairman of Greensboro area Sickled-Cell Anemia Foundation. Dr. Trader briefly discussed the importance of Sickled-Cell research.

Many spectators were on hand contributing to the fund and watching the students barely beat the faculty 24-23.

MUSIC DEPT. SPONSORS REQUIEM

The Bennett College Music Department sponsored Brahms' "German Requiem" on Sunday night, March 4 in the Annie Merner Pfeiffer Chapel.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Mary Jane Crawford, a Steering Committee was responsible for planning a centennial musical program which involved the total Greensboro and surrounding area musicians.

"We used mailing lists, contacted church choirs, and high school groups to get interested people to participate in such an endeavor," Mrs. Crawford explained.

The committee, itself, was formed of community music leaders which included Richard Cox, Director of the University Chorale at the University of North Carolina-Greensboro; Mrs. Marilyn Burris, instructor of Music of the University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill; Edward Lowe, Director of the Guilford College Choir; Dr. Charlotte Alston, Coordinator of the Bennett Music Department; and J. J. Williams,

Chairman of the A. & T. State University Music Department.

The Brahms' work was selected because the composer addressed himself primarily to the living and to the future instead of the usual requiems which symbolized death and the past.

"The Brahms' Requiem is a pleasing musical work and is befitting to a centennial celebration which is being witnessed by Bennett College this year," Mrs. Crawford added.

The 125-member chorus and 50-piece orchestra was composed of students, faculty, and staff from Bennett, A. & T., Greensboro College, Guilford College, UNC-G, UNC-Ch, members of local school groups, church choirs, and instrumentalists from area orchestras.

Dr. Wendell P. Whalum, chairman of the Music Department of Atlanta's Morehouse College, served as conductor of the Requiem. Dr. Whalum is a noted choral director and leading authority in the perpetuation of the

A Word of Thanks

The Election Procedures Committee and the Co-Curricula office would like to compliment the student body on the recent campus election, on their campaign and especially the signs. We were very pleased with the signs and we felt that we had many good people running for offices. Although we know everyone could not be elected we hope that those students not elected will continue to work with the elected leaders in trying to make Bennett that much better.

We would like to thank those students who volunteered their time to work on the polls. The polls were open until about 6:20 p.m. Special thanks go to Elise Bailey and Venessa Higgins who worked even more hours than they had volunteered for. Also we would like to thank Miss M. O. Tucker, without her aid particularly in the area of typing, we would not have succeeded.

We would like to end with a word of advice to the campus — you've picked your leaders, but they cannot function without your help.

Afro-American choral tradition.

Soprano soloist was Marilyn L. Burris who has appeared as a touring soloist with the North Carolina Symphony. Baritone Soloist was Robert T. Tayler who has sung extensively in New York where he studied under Lola Hayes and Gertrude HermanHowell. He has performed throughout the country and as a guest soloist in Japan.

A reception was held following the performance in the David Dallas Jones Student Union.

BOUTIQUE 134

Senior Clothing Majors at the Boutique

If you've been in the Student Union this semester you might have noticed its new addition.

Boutique 134 is operated by the senior home economics majors, as part of their curriculum. In the catalog the course is listed as clothing 134 — Internship in Retailing and Merchandising.

In the past those enrolled in the course received on the job training and merchandising experience in the local stores. This year Miss Gwendolyn Sneed their instructor has arranged with local stores to have merchandise brought to the Boutique so that the students can get the experience while remaining on campus. They each will serve approximately 100 hours in the boutique this semester.

Palmer Extension

Bennett College received a $54,000 planning grant to find some type of innovative program for its off campus facility, Palmer Institute. A committee was created to assist in this task. The committee consists of two representatives from each of the five area colleges and universities:

- Greensboro College: Mr. Fred Jones, Jr. Rev. Mr. Wesley Brogan
- Guilford College: Mr. J. Richard Woodward Dr. J. Floyd Moore
- N. C. A&T State University: Dr. L. C. Dowdy Dr. Glenn Rankin
- UNC-G: Dr. Herbert Wells Dr. Robert Miller
- Bennett College: Mrs. Mary Scarlette Miss Wilhelmina Gilbert Mr. Joseph Barber, Director

Consultants are brought in from various fields of education to enlighten the committee's input in finding a new type of program for the Palmer campus. Many suggestions have been received concerning programs that could be placed at Palmer

It is hoped that a new program can be found and funded so that it can start at the beginning of the next academic school year.
