Her hospital and medical school appointments consist of: Assistant Psychiatrist at the Massachusetts General Hospital, an instructor at Harvard Medical School, Assistant Visiting Physician in Psychiatry University Hospital, and the Assistant Clinical Professor of Boston University. Dr. Bonner is currently in private practice in psychiatry.

This year's senior class can look forward to hearing Dr. Shirley M. Malcom as this year's Baccalaureate speaker. The actual event will take place Saturday, May 8, at 7:00 p.m. in the Annie Merner Pfeiffer Chapel, on the campus of Bennett College. Dr. Malcolm is head of the Directorate for Education and Human Resources Department for the American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS). The directorate includes programs in education, activities for the under represented groups, and public understanding of Science and Tecnology.

Dr. Malcolm recieved her doctorate in Ecology from Pennsylvania State University, Masters Degree in Zoology from the University of California, Los Angeles; and a bachelors degree with distinction from the University of Washington. Malcom was nationally recognized for her efforts, and those of the office, to improve the education of young women minorities, and young people involving community organizations and parents in education reform.

perience very rewarding. In fact, who else were they expecting to get the job done right and well?

Civil rights is a subject that McKissick-Kemp has eaten, slept and breathed all her life. She accompanied her father, a former national member of CORE (Congress of Racial Equality from 1966 until 1968) to marches and protests. McKissick-Kemp was involved in the intergration of southern elementary schools. She has been the hostess to many black leaders at her home, such as Martin Luther King Jr., Jesse Jackson and Malcolm X.

McKissick-Kemp plans to chronicle a book on her father's experiences during the civil rights movement. She also gives presentations on civil rights, media and leadership in the 90's to keep her father's legacy alive.

ADVICE COLUMN

Don't be scared: Get tested

DEAR ROXI,

I am a happy go lucky person. I have a sometime relationship with a guy that I love. We are both sexually active with other people. When we are together we have unprotected sex. A month ago he told me he was HIV positive and to show him how much I love him, we are together as a couple and not just strangers in the night. Lately I have been having symptoms of illness. I think I now may have the HIV virus also but I am afraid to get tested. Can you tell me what to do or where to go to get help.

Signed Afraid

Dear Afraid,

The only thing I can say is that you go to the local Health Department and get an anonymous HIV test and go every six months. This is your health, you need to look out for you, you still can live a normal life.

DEAR ROXI,

I think my friend's boyfriend beats on her. I don't want to bring the subject up around her, but I want to know if he does so she can get help. What do I do?

Please see Roxi, page 6
