Tips to help you find the new hue

(NAPS)-If you're interested in adding a little color to your life, you may want to start at the top.

A color expert, author and renowned resource for color trend analysis and fashion forecasting, offers her opinions on what your hair color can say about you.

• Blonde shades are closely associated with sunshine and warmth. The lightness of the color connotes a light, cheery personality.

• Brunette shades give off an image of substance and stability. Brown can be perceived as an earthy color, and indicates a steady, reliable character.

• Black is thought of as sophisticated, mysterious, and dignified.

• Red is an intense color associated with fire and heat, as well as excitement and zest for life.

• Gray is the most neutral and least exciting hair color. It is associated with things drab and lack-luster.

The color expert finds that most people's natural hair color does match personality.
