'From the Mississipi Delta' Scheduled
Bennett Players performance of "From the Mississippi Delta" is coming soon. The play, written by Endesha Holland, is set in Mississippi and recounts the life of the author through hardships, exploration, and her on-again off-again relationship. The production will run from Nov. 16 to Nov. 19. For information call 517-2301.

Disabled Students Information Available

Bennett is committed to meeting the needs of students with disabilities. Compliant with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act, Bennett College does not discriminate against otherwise qualified candidates in regard to college life. If interested in registering or obtaining information related to services for disabled students, contact Dr. Beth Holder at 517-2175 or in Black Hall 200-C.

Summer Interns, Fellowships, Scholarships Offered

Information about internships, fellowships, scholarships, and research opportunities is available for students and faculty. The Oak Ridge Institute for Science and Education is administering research opportunities and tuition funding for students and faculty in the fields of science and engineering. Most appointments are for eight to 10 weeks during the summer; however, academic year, semester, and year-round opportunities are offered. Stipend and travel allowances are included for most research participation programs. To learn more, visit the ORISE website at www.orau.gov/orise/educ.htm.

Science forum scheduled

A sciences forum will take place, Nov. 14 at 6 p.m. in Pfeiffer Science Auditorium. The forum will provide students with specific, useful information on summer opportunities for employment and or career related services.

Flu Shots Available

Do you recognize any of these symptoms from the past? Feeling weak or tired, dry cough, runny nose, chills, muscle aches, severe headache, eye pain, and sore throat. Consider taking flu shots. Shots cost $15. Contact the Wellness Center at 517-2230 for more information.

Two new books reviewed 'Relativity' is compelling; 'Long Time' is sparkling

'A Theory of Relativity'

(NAPSA)-A gripping new novel by Jacquelyn Mitchard, the author of the No. 1 New York Times bestseller, "The Deep End of the Ocean," is sweeping readers into a world of unusual emotional depth and complexity.

Her book, "A Theory of Relativity" (HarperCollins, $26) dares readers to come with her as she challenges our notions of the ties that bind us.

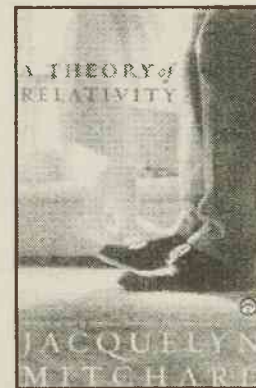

At 24, much-loved and carefree Gordon McKenna knows all the answers. When his 26-year-old sister and her husband die in a car accident, leaving behind their one-year-old daughter, he reasons that he and his parents will raise her.

It is not until a judge denies Gordon's petitions to adopt his niece on the grounds that he and his sister, both adopted as infants, were not legally, "family" that Gordon's neatly constructed world begins to crack.

Critics say this graceful and compelling novel is Jacquelyn Mitchard at her best. A "Theory of Relativity" is available at bookstores everywhere.

A compelling and beautifully written novel about the redemptive powers of family love.

'Long Time No See'

(NAPSA)-In her eight best-selling novels, author Susan Isaacs has created some of the most likable and witty protagonists in contemporary fiction. Now in her sparkling new novel, Long Time No See (HarperCollins, $26)-after a 20-year interval-she returns to Judith Singer, the beloved heroine of her first work of fiction, Compromising Positions.

In "Long Time No See," Singer is now a 50-something widow, with a part-time teaching job at a local college.

When Shorehaven neighbor Courtney Logan vanishes into thin air on Halloween, Singer can't help but ponder whodunit.

As soon as Singer begins trying to solve the mystery, her former lover, Nelson Sharpe of the Nassau County Police Department reappears in her life, cautioning her to stay out of the case.

"Long Time No See" has been described as "pure Susan Isaacs," an entertaining and artful mix of murder, sex and humor.

"Long Time No See" brings back a favorite Isaacs' heroine, Judith Singer.
