EASTER

By HARRY W. RIDDLE

A robin builds her nest,
In the purple haze of a lilac tree.
To fields of budding clover,
Wings the drowsy humming bee.

All nature lives, moves and grows,
Stirring life's sweet mystery of
love,

To feel some divine event,
Exulting etherial heights above.

Hope, a star through years between,

Has gleamed, that life might fuller be,

Whispering to the listening ear of
love,

The promise—immortality.

The Boys Had Large Time While In N. Y.

The following appeared as head lines in the Daily Mirror:

"C. C. Poindexter Arrested For Gangster Tactics. Poindexter Caught Throwing Bums, Attached to French Rolls."

Gavin Dortch was master of ceremonies at the Night Club in which Henry Dobson did the clog dance. Mr. Dobson was asked to sign a contract for at least a year, but held out for more money.

Hardy Graham spent most of his time in Macy's Dispensary. You couldn't buy but twelve quarts, so he didn't buy any.

Ezra Shamel enjoyed his trip very much. He brought back a few dimes for his baby's bank.

Tom Roth left Monday for Philadelphia. We couldn't find out if he arrived there or not.

Dick Chatham says the food was too fancy for him. He came home sick.

Charlie Dixon and R. M. Og-burn were roommates. They kept what they did a secret. Mr. Ogburn gained ten pounds. The food agreed with him.

The Man You Are

It isn't the man that you might have been

Had the chance been yours again,
Nor the prize you wanted but didn't win

That weighs in the measure of men.

No futile "if" or paltroon "be-cause"

Can rowel your stock to par.
The world cares naught for what never was—

It judges by what you are.

It isn't the man that you hope to be,

If fortune and fate are kind,
That the chill, keen eyes of the world will see

In weighing your will and mind.
The years ahead are a chartless sea,

And to-morrow's a world away;
It isn't the man that you'd like to be,

But the man that you are to-day.

There's little worth in the phantom praise

Of a time that may never dawn,
And less in a vain regret for days
And deeds long buried and gone.
There's little time on this busy earth

To argue the why and how.
The game is yours if you prove
your worth,

And prove it here and now!

—TED OLSON.

L. H. C. Club of Elkin

A Lucy Hanes Chatham Club for the evening shift has been organized with fifteen members. A membership campaign was put on and Mrs. Beatrice Willard received the blanket for getting the most members.

A luncheon was held at the Blue Moon Cafe for the newly organized Club on Thursday, March 22, at 2 o'clock. The Easter motif was carried out in detail. Dainty place cards were made of the Easter bunnies. The central decoration was a large yellow rabbit in the green nest with the small bunnies and Easter eggs around the large rabbit. Bowls of jonquils interspersed with green made a lovely setting for the three-course luncheon served to the twenty guests. The program included a talk on "What the Club Has Meant to Me", by Estelle Powers, former president of the morning club. Mr. Henry Dobson then told the Club just what such an organization would mean to them in their work as well as in their homes. Following the program a short business session was held, the following officers being elected: president, Bessie Gill-

WINSTON MILL

SHIPPING DEPARTMENT

Miss Pluma Bowles spent Sunday in Greensboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bell spent the week-end in Yadkinville.

Mr. Ezra Shamel returned Wednesday after a trip to the Blanket Show, held in New York City last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sutton are planning to spend the Easter holidays in Statesville.

Mrs. LaVerne Taylor spent the week-end with relatives in Rural Hall.

Robah Durham had the misfortune to get his car fender knocked off the latter part of the week. Robah, we are sorry, but always remember, "laughing 's catching."

"Shorty White", the second, is ill with measles.

We wonder if "Harvey's quartet" is still singing. How about it Harvey?

Harry Daurheim says he likes to ride up town, but he doesn't like pushing the car all the way up to Spruce street.

An artificial thumb has been ordered for Hobson Shermer. He has worn his old thumb out, thumbing rides to lunch.

We wonder if the following are racing to see which can gain the most weight. They come into this department once a week to weigh: Claudia Austin, Charlie Weaver and Clifton Leary. We believe Miss Austin is still ahead.

NAPPING DEPARTMENT

Miss Pauline Gentry and Marguarite Stoneman were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Norman last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Hensley were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Ladd Sunday, March 18th.

Mrs. Ella Jarvis had as her guests one evening last week, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Hege.

Miss Levada Hanks spent the past week-end at Roaring Gap.

We are glad to have "Beef" Bowles in this department. We hope he likes us.

Mrs. R. R. Gentry had as her guests the past week her mother, Mrs. Talbert of Elkin.

Mr. Jete Smitherman is having a new brick home built just outside the city limits. He says he is going to have a party when it is finished.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Saunders at-iam; vice-president, Myrtle Martin; secretary, Hazel Madison; treasurer, Annie Swaim. Invited guests included the formen of the evening shift.

A very interesting Easter program was held Thursday evening, March 29th, with Mrs. Maude Hayes in charge of the program.

tended a surprise birthday party Saturday evening near Advent.

Mr. Cecil Norman has a new Ford, times must be getting better.

Duncan-Sprinkle Beauty Shoppe

We wish to announce the opening of a new beauty shoppe in Chatham Heights, with the following workers: Frank Duncan, Barber; Joe Masten, Bootblack; Billy Sprinkle, Face-lifter and Ida Duncan, Permanent waving. Your patronage will be appreciated.

FINISHING DEPARTMENT

Miss Earline Mayberry spent the week-end in Elkin visiting friends and relatives.

Miss Agnes McDaniel spent the week-end of March 19th, in High Point.

Misses Minnie and Annie Chatham, of Elkin, spent the past week-end with Mrs. Mattie McDaniel at her home on Broad street.

Mrs. Cyndia Hinshaw and neice spent the week-end in Elkin the guests of Mrs. Daisy Vestal.

Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Parks and small son and Miss Venie Reynolds spent the past week-end in Sparta, N. C., visiting their parents.

We are sorry to report the illness of Mrs. Samantha West and Mrs. Nell Petree.

Quite a number of our girls have been transferred to the cloth department. We hope you will show Mr. Shamel what good workers we have up here.

This department is one hundred per cent for the athletic association. We can't wait to get started. We plan to have a horse shoe tournament right away.

We understand Mr. Lewis will move into his new home on West End Boulevard right after Easter. We hope he will have a housewarming when he moves.

Mr. Harold Lewis, of Raleigh is spending the Easter holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Lewis.

Miss Vera Austin will arrive Friday to spend Easter with her sisters at their home here.

BIRTHS

Born to Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Harris, of Winston-Salem, a daughter, Saturday, March 24th.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Roth, of Elkin, a son, Tommie, Jr., Wednesday, March 28th.

Think straight and you'll never go crooked.

No man is wholly down and out so long as others trust him.
