L. H. C. Club—Elkin

Mrs. Earl James Talks to Club

A very interesting Mothers' Day program was given by the L. H. C. Club No. 1 at the Methodist church on May 10th, with Mrs. Charlie Young and Mrs. Ina Madison in charge. The devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. Madison and Miss Marguerite Lowery. Miss Blanche Woodle read a poem, "Mother of Mine", which was enjoyed by all. The special feature of the program was a piano solo, "That Old Fashioned Mother of Mine", by Miss Carolyn Lillard, an invited guest. Reading, "A Fellow's Mother Knows", by Collie Myers. Following this Mrs. Earl James gave a most interesting talk on "Mothers' Day." Mrs. James stressed the idea that the right way to observe Mother's Day was to observe it every day for every day is Mothers' Day. The meeting closed with the singing of "Faith of Our Mothers." Each girl brought her mother or invited some mother if she could not bring her own mother.

L. H. C. Club No. 2 Entertained At Luncheon

Mrs. Myrtle Martin and Mittie White were joint hostesses at a luncheon given the members of the L. H. C. Club at the home of Mrs. Martin in Jonesville, May 3rd. The luncheon was called at one o'clock and the members were met at the door by Mrs. Martin and Mrs. White, and directed to the dining room where they were received by Miss Lexie Cummings, sister of the hostess, who seated the guests at the tables. At the main table were seated Rev. and Mrs. Eph Whisenhunt, the officers of the Club and the Club sponsor, Miss Austin. At the four small tables were seated the members of the Club. The guests found their places by means of dainty place cards and the color motif was pink and green, the Club colors. Wygelia, white iris and other spring flowers were used throughout the dining room and living room. Following a delicious three course luncheon Mrs. Whisenhunt rendered two violin selections, following which Rev. Whisenhunt, pastor of the hostess, gave a splendid talk, using as his subject, "Reducing the Soul."

Little Bobby Martin gave a very pretty little poem entitled "My Dog."

Eighteen members and friends were present.

On May 10th a very interesting Mothers' Day program was given in the club room, with Mrs. Dallas Gilliam in charge.

Winston L. H. C. Club

One of the best and most enjoyable programs presented by the L. H. C. Club of Winston was the program given at the Mother-Daughter banquet held in the dining room of Centenary church, on Tuesday evening, May 15th. Each girl was asked to bring her mother or some mother to the dinner which was served at seven o'clock.

Mother-Daughter Banquet

The table was placed in a T-shape, and the color motif of pink and white was carried out in detail. Lovely Irish and old fashioned roses and peonies from grandmother's garden were used throughout the table and dining room decorations. Each girl was placed by the mother she brought and lovely hand painted place cards and programs were used. These were painted by members of the Art department.

The interesting program was in charge of Miss Gypsy Smitherman and Mrs. Addie Pope. Mrs. Pope acted as toastmistress.

The invocation was given by Mrs. Mae Whitner, using a prayer in keeping with the program. Agnes McDaniel told in a pleasing manner the "Origin of Mothers' Day." Following which Mrs. Nell Petree gave a musical reading with Mrs. Francis Snyder at the piano. A duet, "My Mother's Bible", was rendered by Misses Hallie Ball and Versie Whitlock. "Somebody's Mother" was read by Earline Mayberry.

"A playlet, "Candle Lighting Service," was given with the following girls taking parts. Mother, Crystal Bell; children, Opal and Dorothy Smitherman; daughters, Gladys Scott, Linda Fishel and Margaret Taylor. At the close of the play each mother and daughter was given a small candle, each daughter lighting her candle from the candle of their mother, thus symbolizing the love and co-operation that exists between mother and daughter.

A corsage of white roses was

SHIPPING DEPARTMENT

Miss Gladys Scott spent last week-end in Charleston, S. C.

Among those in this department who enjoyed the dance at Peppers Warehouse were Misses Pluma Bowles, Margaret Taylor and Hobson Shermer.

We express our sympathy to Miss Emma Forbus, in the losing of her uncle recently.

Mrs. Robert Bell spent the week-end in Yadkinville.

We're wondering where all the diamonds are coming from. Emma, please tell us who you are fooling.

We understand Mr. Shamel and Ralph Gentry will soon be perfect in horse shoe pitching. They practice enough anyway.

Come on Napping department, why are you out so often? Let us hear from you as well as the office. Go places and get your name in the paper.

FINISHING DEPARTMENT

Mrs. Mollie Phillips entertained the Waddell-Davis wedding party at her home on Chatham Hyts, at a buffet supper on Saturday night, May 12th. Mrs. Davis was formerly Miss Fern Waddell, of North Wilkesboro.

We are very glad to have four of our former employees with us: Misses Gladys Fishel, Margaret Hilton, Madie Austin and Collie Church.

Mrs. DeEtte Carter ran into the bank the other morning coming to work. What was the matter DeEtte, were you still asleep?

Miss Margaret Hilton and friends spent Sunday at Roaring Gap.

Miss Versa Whitlock visited her home folk near Harmony on Sunday last.

Misses Linda Fishel and Madie Austin spent Saturday afternoon in Lexington shopping. Just wonder what their idea was. I suppose they thought that perhaps given to the oldest mother present and a corsage of pink roses and valley lilies to the youngest mother present. Mrs. S. W. Sales, 70, received the white roses and was pinned on by the president of the Club, Mrs. Peggy Trotter. Mrs. Nell Petree, 19, received the pink roses for the youngest mother and daughter present.

The mothers present were: Mrs. S. E. Sales, Mrs. Sappenfield, Mrs. Nell Petree, Mrs. Chitty, Mrs. Whitner, Mrs. Holcomb, Mrs. Gilbert, Mrs. McDaniel, Mrs. Messick, Mrs. Graves, Mrs. LeVerne Taylor, Sr., and Mrs. LaVerne Taylor, Jr. About forty members and friends attended.

they could find their way around better. What did you buy?

Mrs. Beatrice Conrad spent last Saturday on the banks of the Yadkin fishing. Luck seemed to come her way—she caught two fish. "Bee", please tell us how you keep from talking that long.

Mrs. Percy West, who has been ill for some time was given a surprise birthday party at her home on Chatham Road last Thursday night. Though Mrs. West is not able to be up she enjoys seeing all her friends.

Miss Venia Reynolds was hostess at a kitchen shower given for Mrs. Rose Emma Martin last week. Mrs. Martin formerly worked in this department.

Miss Pauline Gentry and Miss Ethel Hanks were joint hostesses at a birthday party given for Miss Gentry's sister, Marie Gentry, at their home on Chatham Hyts last Saturday night.

Strange things happen in these parts. Our old romantic couple is courting again. How about it, Jr?

Hallie Ball wishes to announce that if anyone wants to buy cabbage to please let her know. She is bumming trade for her boy friend, who is in the produce business.

SOCIETY

Burton-Couch

Coming as a complete surprise to their many friends in Elkin and elsewhere was the marriage of Miss Ollie Burton, of Leaksville to Walter Couch, of Elkin. The ceremony was performed in Danville, Va., on Saturday, May 12. Mrs. Couch wore a lovely white ensemble with accessories to match. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Burton and was employed in the Leakesville mill prior to her marriage to Mr. Couch.

Mr. Couch is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Couch, and is employed in the Weaving department of the Elkin mill.

Freeman-Rogers

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Freeman, of Jonesville, N. C., announce the marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth to LeRoy Rogers, of Asheville and Elkin, on Sunday, May 13th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carson Freeman, of East Elkin. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a few friends and relatives, with Rev. Richard Pardue officiating.

Mr. Rogers is the son of Mr. Ben Rogers, and the late Mrs. Rogers, of Asheville, and has been employed in the Elkin mill for over a year. Mr. and Mrs. Rogers will make their home in Jonesville.
