

CHATHAM LOSES PAIR OF GAMES

Team Puts Up Good Fight In Saturday's Game But Blows Up In Second Game

Playing a two-day engagement with the strong Craddock Terry Shoe Company, at Lynchburg, Va., last Saturday and Sunday, Chatham Blanketeers went down to defeat in the first game 6 to 3 and in the second game 7 to 0.

In the Saturday's game Southard pitching for the Blanket Makers, allowed eight hits while his team-mates were pounding Garbee of Craddock Terry for 11 hits, including a home run by Southard, with one on, in the last half of the ninth.

	R	H	E
Chatham	001	000	002—3 11 6
Craddock	010	012	002—6 8 1

Southard and Munday, Garbee and Goff.

Sunday's Game

The Blanketeers were off-color in the Sunday's engagement making a total of nine errors in the game with six of these being made in the first two innings that allowed five runs to cross the plate.

Bond pitching for Craddock Terry pitched a nice game holding the Blanket Makers to four scattered hits while his mates were solving Bumgarner's offering with eleven hits.

The Blanketeers possessed with a real fighting spirit, was regarded by the strong Craddock Terry team as being the best team that has played them in a number of years.

	R	H	E
Chatham	000	000	000—0 4 9
Craddock	321	000	100—7 11 3

Mill Has Full-Time Athletic Director Now

Announcement is made by the management, through The Blanketeer, that Hoyt T. Hambright has been appointed director of athletics at the Elkin mill, and has already assumed his new duties. The appointment of Mr. Hambright comes at a very opportune time, as the athletic program is just beginning to get under way, and full advantage may now be taken of the splendid facilities offered by the base ball diamond, two volley ball courts, tennis courts, and horse shoe pitching grounds. Hoyt T. Hambright is well

"Progress" Is Theme Of Annual Banquet

The Lucy Hanes Chatham Club held their annual employer-employee banquet Thursday night, May 24th, in the Kiwanis room of Hotel Elkin. The hall was beautifully decorated with spring flowers, the color scheme being white and green. The place of each person was designated by a place card tied to the little favors, which were dainty hand-made airplanes made from a stick of candy, a stick of chewing gum and two life savers. The programs were aviatrix dressed in flying togs which were hand-painted by the girls. The theme of the program was "Progress" and the progress of the Club was shown along with modern inventions. The toastmistress for the occasion was Miss Juanita Billings, president of the L. H. C. Club No. 1.

Three long banquet tables were used, one being placed across one end of the dining room with the other three arranged in T-shape along the side of the speakers' table. The tables were decorated by the use of red cellophane streamers down the center of each table with the small airplanes flying in formation down the center. Between each plane was found a large bowl of white roses and a tall green taper which added to the attraction of the scene. At the speakers' table where were seated Thurmond Chatham, president of the company, and other officials and officers of the club, one large plane, the cockpit of which was used as a flower bowl and on each side was the three-branched candelabra holding green candles.

The invocation was given by Rev. J. L. Powers, foreman of the spinning room, followed by the address of welcome by Miss Emma Burcham, and was responded to in a pleasing manner by Mr. C. C. Poindexter. Mrs. Bessie Gilliam, president of the L. H. C. Club No. 2, gave an appropriate toast to the Club Mother, Mrs. Thurmond Chatham, to which Mrs. Chatham responded. Following the toasts the club quartet, composed of Misses Estelle Powers, Myrtle Young, Dorothy Penfield and Ruth Reece, sang "An Old Dutch Mill." Mrs. Fay Reavis delighted the audience with two readings, entitled, "A Mistake" and "Who Must Rock the Cradle."

The surprise feature of the program and probably the most enjoyed was the radio program given by the club girls. Mrs. Catherine Brannon acted as the announcer and spoke from station L. H. C. broadcasting from the Hotel Elkin. The program opened with the theme song, the girls singing one verse of their club song, following which Miss Estelle Powers, first president of the club, spoke on "What the Club Has Meant to Me." To bring out the Company's new athletic program four girls representing the tennis club and carrying tennis racquets, did a quaint little dance. Jimmie Booher, with his guitar and singing an original song about the Chatham blankets, assisted by Misses Ola Teal and Pauline Morrison (both girls carrying blankets), in a little dance, delighted the audience with music. Six girls representing the pilots or boosters of the company and dressed as aviatrix did a novelty dance. The high light of the broadcasting program came when it was announced that the good old mountain music which is so prominent in these parts, would be played by Jimmy Booher on his tenor banjo, and that Henry Dobson would do the Clog dance. This part of the program was most enjoyed. The climax came when Thurmond Chatham, president of the Company, was introduced and spoke on "Progress". Mr. Chatham complimented the girls on their accomplishments and the company as a whole for the progress it has made in the past years. The program came to a close with the singing of the theme song.

The music for the occasion was furnished by Miss Edith Neaves and the dances were in charge of Mrs. A. L. Griffeth.

The banquet was entirely an original idea, all speeches and songs being original.

Twelve guests from the Winston mill attended and the club had as their guest Mrs. R. L. Hubbard, who bound the first blanket and painted the first picture of the Chatham Manufacturing Company. Places were reserved for eighty-eight people.

ELKIN NINE WINS WITH HOME RUNS

Defeat Brown And Williamson 5 and 3; Crater Gets Circuit Clout Off Neal

Chatham returned to their home park giving the spectators a thrill by hammering out three runs to win from Brown and Williamson, of Winston-Salem, 5-3.

Crater started the game in the second inning by pounding Neal for a home run. Whitman scored in the third on Jessie's safety for the Winston-Salem Club and Bumgarner scored in the last of the third on errors, giving Chatham a one run lead.

Whitman and Jessie scoring off McCuiston's two-bagger, gave Brown and Williamson the lead in the fifth.

B. Gough came home ahead of Parker on a home run, which was followed by Crater's second trip for the day, giving Chatham's victory.

	R.
B. & Williamson	001 020 000—3
Chatham	011 003 00x—5

Summary — Errors: Clodfelter Chisholm. Stolen base: Clodfelter. Two-base hits: Jessie, McCuiston. Home runs: Crater (2), Parker. Struck out: by Neal, 9; Bumgarner, 7; Southard, 2. Hit by pitched ball: Hambright by Neal. Bases on balls: Off Bumgarner, 1; Neal, 1; Southard, 1. Wild pitches: Southard, 2.

Salesmen Attend Winston Meeting

Mr. T. J. Sheehe, of New York office, Mr. Jack Clark, of Chicago office, Mr. Wyman Poor, of New York office and Mr. Dave Reid, Jr., of the New Orleans office were among the out-of-town salesmen who attended the sales meeting in Winston on Thursday, May 31st.

Officials Are Off On Fishing Trip

Mr. A. L. Butler, treasurer of the Company, Mr. R. W. Harris, Supt. of the Winston Mill, Mr. Wyman Poor of the New York Office and Mr. Poor of Winston, are spending this week at Oracoke, N. C. on a fishing tour. Recent reports are that Mr. Harris has landed the largest catch.