Commandments Worthy of Adoption

Some timely advice is given in "Ten Commandments" penned by an unknown author. Friends think they are worthy passing on to our readers.

1. Keep skid chains on your tongue; always say less than you think. Cultivate a low, persuasive voice. How you say it often counts for more than you say.
2. Make promises sparingly and keep them faithfully, no matter what it costs you.
3. Never let an opportunity pass to say a kind and encouraging thing to or about somebody. Praise good work done, regardless of who did it. If criticism is merited, criticize helpfully, never spitefully.
4. Be interested in others; interested in their pursuits, their welfare, their homes and families. Make merry with those who rejoice, and mourn with those who weep. Let every one you meet, however humble, feel that you regard him as a person of importance.
5. Be cheerful. Keep the corners of your mouth turned up. Hide your pains, worries and disappointments under a pleasant smile. Laugh at good stories and learn to tell them.
6. Preserve an open mind on all debatable questions. Discuss, but don't argue. It is a mark of superior minds to disagree and yet be friendly.
7. Let your virtues, if you have any, speak for themselves, and refuse to talk of another's vices. Discourage gossip. Make it a rule to say nothing of another unless it is something good.

8. Be careful of others' feelings. Wit, humor at the other fellow's expense are rarely worth the effort, and may hurt where least expected.

9. Pay no attention to ill-natured remarks about you. Simply live so nobody will believe them. Disordered nerves and poor indigestion are common causes of back-biting.

10. Don't be to anxious about getting just dues. Do your work, be patient, keep your disposition sweet, forget yourself, and you will be respected and rewarded.

L. H. C. Club of Winston

The Lucy Hanes Chatham Club of Winston-Salem held their last outing for the summer at Hunters Park, near Seward, on Monday evening, Sept. 24th, with Mrs. Addie Pope, Mary Snider, Vera Austin, Pauline Chitty and Nell Petree acting as hostess. The guest found upon arrival a large bonfire over which delicious oyster stew was being made. Following the oyster supper, games and contests were enjoyed with Miss Earline Mayberry and Henry Lewis winning attractive prizes.

Those enjoying the outing were: Addie Pope, Vera Austin, Ola Crowder, Mamie Dyer, Linda Fishel, Irene Brendle, Gladys Fishel, Madie Austin, Agnes McDaniel, Versie Whitlock, Mae Whitner, Erlene Mayberry, Mercedes Styron, Harriet Bodenheimer, Claudia Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Snider, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bell, Mrs. George Pope, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sutton, Henry Lewis, Bill McIlwee, Earl Conrad, Sam Thornton, L. W. Hunter, Melvin Hunter, Pluto Sprinkle, Clyde Johnson and Howard Morris.

L. H. C. Club of Elkin

The L. H. C. Club of Elkin closed their summer season with a hike on Sept. 20th. The group of energetic girls met at the Methodist church and hiked from there to a spring about half way between Elkin and Boonville, where a delicious steak supper was cooked over a bonfire. This marked the close of the most enjoyable summer season, a picnic or some outdoor sport has been held for this group every Thursday night since June 1st. Beginning Tuesday night, Oct. 9th the meetings will be held at the Methodist church at seven o'clock. (Please note the change in date, Tuesday night instead of Thursday night as as been the custom). This is only a temporary arrangement for the time being.

The L. H. C. Club No. 2 will please meet in the Foremen's room on Tuesday evening at two-thirty. At this time plans will be made for the winter months. All members are urged to be present at this meeting, whether you are working or not.

MRS. W. H. HEMRIC TAKEN BY DEATH

Funeral Services Conducted From Swaim's Baptist Church Friday

Mrs. Susan Groce Hemric, 76, widow of the late William Hemric died Thursday, September 6th, at her home four miles south of Jonesville. She had been in ill health for some time and her condition had been critical for several days prior to her death.

The deceased had been a loyal member of Swaim's Baptist church since she was a young woman and was known throughout her community for her kindness and hospitality.

She is survived by eleven sons and daughters: R. L., J. W. and M. L. Hemric, and Mrs. Rufus Blevins, of Jonesville; J. F. Thomas and Henry Hemric and Mrs. J. A. Gough, of Cycle; J. N. Hemric, of Huntington, Ind.; R. W. Hemric and Mrs. J. C. Holcomb, of Winston-Salem; forty-three grand children and six great-grandchildren. Two brothers, Jack and Richard Groce, of Jonesville, also survive.

Funeral services were conducted from Swaim's church Friday morning at 10 o'clock in charge of the pastor, Rev. C. E. Norman, assisted by Rev. V. M. Swaim and Rev. I. W. Vestal. Interment was in the church cemetery beside her husband, who passed away seven years ago.

Pallbearers were grandsons of the deceased and the beautiful floral offering, which bespoke the esteem and affection of a host of friends, was carried by her granddaughters.

Mrs. Hemric was the mother of Messrs. J. W. and Luther Hemric of the Elkin mill.

BLANKETEERS END SEASON

Hung Up 67th Victory Wednesday With 14 To 2 Win Over King; Turn To Basketball

The Chatham Blanketeers closed their present baseball season yesterday with a 15 to 2 victory over King base ball team. Voss pitching, was hit to all corners of the field as the Blanketeers hung up their 67th victory of their present season.

The Blanketeers have won 67 games while losing only 16 for a percentage of 807. Which is an excellent record for any team.

The Blanketeers boast no individual stars on the team but a team of stars in semi-pro ranks by playing together as one man.

Members of the team who played for the local team are: pitchers: Lefty Southard, Harvie Stockton and Murphy Bumgarner. Catchers: Delos Jones, Tom Parker and Charles Munday. Infielders: Hoyt Hambright, Edd Maxwell, Charlie Gough, Rob Robbins, Ben Woodruff and Kermit Mackie. Outfielders: Tat Davis, Grady Holcomb, Charlie Gough and Ab Crater.

The Blanketeers are now looking forward to the coming basket ball season, which will be something new to the Elkin plant, as they have never had a team before but with the records and experience that most of the present baseball boys have there is no reason that Chatham Blanketeers will not be as strong as the base ball team.

Ed Maxwell is rated one of the outstanding basketball players that ever played in the Southern Textile tournament at Greenville, S. C., at which all the outstanding textile teams of the South are represented. Ab Crater was a star in high school as well as a star at Oak Ridge and University of North Carolina Freshmen, and was high scorer on both Oak Ridge and Carolina teams. Hoyt Hambright led the state in scoring in two years at Erskine College and was voted on the All-South Atlantic All-Star team at the S. I. A. A. tournament at Jackson, Mississippi for two years. Charles Munday led all scorers in the Salvation Army Tournament and was one of the outstanding players in the Charlotte Observer tournament at Charlotte which is attended by only the best teams of the two Carolinas. Kermit Mackie was a star guard at Guilford and is rated as a real first-class guard. Delos Jones is another star performer and was rated as one of the best players in the Virginia tournament last year.

With a few others that we have the Blanketeer basket ball fans will see in action one of the best teams in local history.
