

HOMESPUNS ARE GOING OVER BIG

Rugged Cloths Are of the Same Character As Those Made For Generations In N. C.

The old saying that "The Lord helps those that help themselves" is very appropriate. Every business that amounts to anything has resulted from hard work on the part of someone. Our blanket sales have been built up by the concerted efforts of our organization over many years.

Our newest product "Chatham Homespuns", is steadily growing. Every person in the Chatham organization can help these sales by constantly telling other people about these suits. Here are some of our best selling points:

1. Chatham Homespuns are virgin wool—no waste or shoddy. They are made by people highly skilled in woolen manufacturing.

2. We have given our whole production to L. Grief and Brothers, Inc., of Baltimore. They are among the world's largest manufacturers of men's clothing and have the highest reputation for tailoring of quality and style.

3. We believe Chatham Homespuns make "The Best Wearing Suits That Can Be Made." They are moderate in price and the patterns and colors are up-to-the-minute in style.

4. These rugged cloths are of the same general character as those that have been made for generations in the mountains of North Carolina. Our modern machinery and increased knowledge of wools results in even better quality than we made 50 years ago. If every person tells others about these suits our business will grow faster than ever. Merchants all over the country carry them. Norman Stockton in Winston-Salem has already sold more than 500 suits. Nowell Clothing Company in Raleigh has sold more than 250 suits since September 15th.

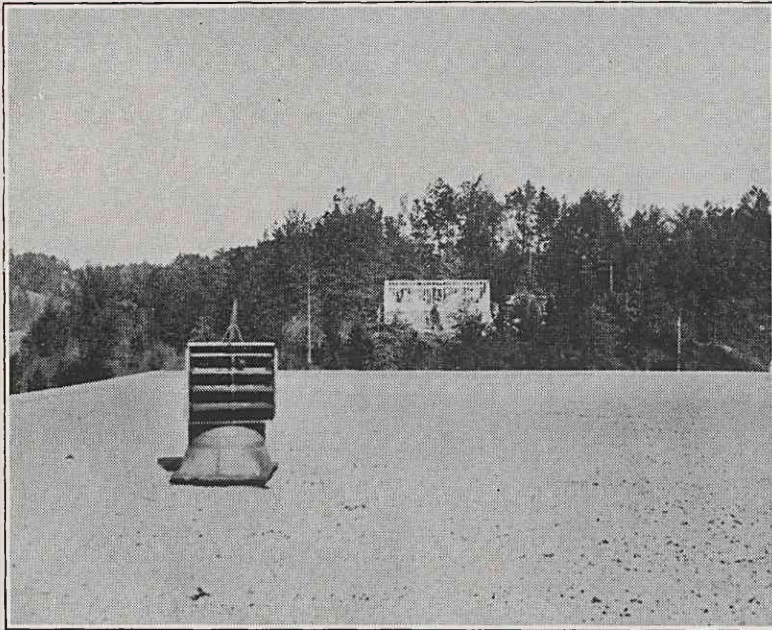

Wear them yourself—Tell others about them—Write your friends about them. They are suits we can all be proud of, and every one of us has a part in making them successful.

Busy Man

Insurance Superintendent (suspiciously)—How did your husband happen to die so soon after getting his life insured for such a large amount?

Widow—He worked himself to death trying to pay the premiums.

16 CHILDREN ARE KILLED IN OCT.

Were Among the 107 Persons Who Died On North Carolina Highways In Accidents

Sixteen little children were among the 107 persons who lost their lives on the highways of North Carolina during the month of October.

The wholesale slaughter established an all-time record for deaths resulting from accidents in which automobiles were involved, according to L. S. Harris, Director of the Motor Vehicle Bureau. The total, however, was only one greater than that rolled up in the preceding month, when 106 met violent death.

Statistics compiled in the office of Mr. Harris show that automobile fatalities for the first ten months of this year were 754, which is 107, or exactly the number slain during October, than the total of 647 rolled up for the same period last year.

Ten of the deaths were caused by hit-and-run drivers, but reckless drivers were involved in 126 of the 505 accidents reported, and 22 of the 126 resulted in fatalities. In addition to those killed, 754 persons received injuries of varying degrees of severity.

R. PYRON TALKS TO SOUTH POLE

Manager of Klondike Farm Inquires Over Air As to Health of Bull Calf

Quite a few people listened in to hear the conversation of Mr. Ruohs Pyron, manager of Klondike Farm, with a member of the Byrd Expedition last Wednesday night over the Columbia system.

Mr. Pyron visited the New York studios of the Columbia Broadcasting company to inquire as to the health and general welfare of Klondike Iceberg, the only calf ever to be born in Little America. Klondike Nira, a pedigreed Guernsey cow loaned the expedition by the local farm, is the mother.

In the brief few moments on the air, Mr. Pyron received the information that the bull calf weighs in excess of 500 pounds and is thriving. He humorously pointed out that members of the expedition should be careful not to let the youngster come in contact with any of the snow tractors as the tractors would be likely to suffer as a result of the meeting. He also stated that once Klondike Nira and her son come home there's going to be one of the biggest cow receptions in the history of Klondike Farm.

BLANKETEERS WIN 6 OUT OF 8

Are Fast Developing Into A Good Team And Should Be At Top Speed From Now On

The Chatham Blanketeers in the last two weeks won three basketball games from Boonville, CCC Camp and Dobson high school and lost a heart-breaker to Hanes Spinning in Winston by the score of 35 to 36 in the last minute of play. This brings the season total to six wins and two losses.

Mounce, Dobson high star last year has joined the locals and should help the Blanketeers very much.

Games have been arranged thus far with the Charlotte Y. M. C. A. on December 7th in Charlotte, and January 9th with Guilford college at Guilford. Plans are underway to have them play here.

The Blanketeers' new blue and white uniforms have arrived and were issued to the following men: Crater, Davis, Mounce and Ham-bright, forwards; Munday and Johnson centers; Mackie, McBride, Maxwell and Stockton, guards.

Friday night the Blanketeers defeated the Courtney All Stars by the score of 43 to 16.

The Courtney team presented two real players in the Badgett brothers, one at forward and the other at guard.

The playing of Maxwell at guard, who fed Crater at forward with the ball was outstanding.

The Blanketeers are fast developing into a good team and should be at top speed from now on. The schedule for this week is as follows: Monday night Courtney at Courtney; Wednesday West
